Hearing Scheduled May 8 at KHS; Salaries Are Main Boost

Budget on Page 12

A tentative school budget was approved by the Board of Education at a special meeting Saturday and a public hearing will be held on the budget on Thursday evening, May 8, at 8 o'clock at the high school.

The budget for 1951-52 as set up by the board calls for the raising of $616,263.38 by general tax levy. This will give a school tax rate of $19.50 per $1,000 of assessment.

In 1950-51 the amount raised by general city tax levy was $483,435.44 and the tax rate was $15.28.

The total cost of school operation for 1951-52 will be $1,631,897.06 compared to $1,407,416.64 for 1950-51.

Estimated revenues other than general taxation in 1950-51 was $923,981.20 while for the coming year this revenue has been estimated at $1,015,633.68. The largest item in the estimated revenue is that of State Aid which was $796,024.32 last year and is estimated to be $864,831.99 for the coming year. Due to increased salaries the teachers' contribution to the Pension Fund will increase from $31,344.10 in 1950-51 to $54,498.75 for the coming school year.

Salaries Major Reason

A breakdown of the proposed budget shows that one of the major reasons for the increase is the increased salaries to teachers and school employes. This item is increased $149,644 in the 1951-52 budget, while the amount of state aid for salaries has increased only $68,807. The local share of the salary increase is $2.54 per thousand of assessment.

An item of $65,500 for debt service accounts for an additional $2.04 over last year and the retirement increase adds 33 cents per $1,000.

This year the Common Council will be paid $10,000 for services of city officials, including the city treasurer, assessor, attorney, engineer, etc., under a new agreement but that sum coming out of the school budget moneys will be credited in the general tax budget and will be reflected in the general tax rate. This expense of business administration adds 33 cents per $1,000 to the school tax.

Has Pared Budget

In order to keep the school tax as low as possible the finance committee has pared the budget in several places. Last year an item of $61,000 was included in the budget for repairs and renewals and for the coming year this amount was cut to $15,000. Furniture and equipment in the 1950-51 budget was set at $20,000 and for the coming year an item of about $2,500 has been placed in the budget. In 1950-51 an item of $150,000 was put in the budget for new school purposes and in the 1951-52 budget that item has been raised to $200,000 to take care of the erection of a field house at the high school which will house the gym and permit the old gym in the high school to be converted to much needed cafeteria purposes.

An item of general expense has been included in the budget to pay a capital note of $44,500 for construction of the field house and an item of $21,000 for interest and service on bonds for the Washington school which is now nearing completion.

In the budget appears an item of $5,075 for transportation. Last year this item was only $500. This does not reflect an increase of $4,500 but transportation has been set up as a separate item in the 1951-52 budget while last year transportation was charged against the salary item.

Woodstock Motel Operator Is Beaten Badly With Hatchet

John Thompson, 59, Is in Serious Condition; Robbery Motive Suspected

John Thompson, 59, proprietor of the Mill Stream Motel at Woodstock, was severely beaten about the head with a hatchet by an unknown person whose motive apparently was robbery.

Taken to Kingston Hospital shortly after he was discovered unconscious in his first floor bedroom Saturday evening, Thompson remained unconscious this morning and could not be questioned by troopers. His condition is listed as "serious" on the hospital report.

An empty wallet on the floor near the bed led investigators to believe the motive was robbery, according to Sergeant Arthur A. Reilly of the state police bureau of criminal investigation. Questioning of family members dis-

Flood Victims Vote To Petition Drops In Ashokan Level

A group of 126 persons who suffered loss in the flood of March 31 met at the Town of Ulster highway department garage Saturday night and took the following action:

1. Voted to petition New York city's water department commissioner to lower the level of the water in the Ashokan reservoir "three or four feet" so that the reservoir could absorb any additional heavy rains without a flooding of the lower Esopus creek.

2. Voted to ask Senator Arthur H. Wicks to include in a bill to be introduced in the legislature provision to dredge not only the upper Esopus, but also the lower Esopus creek from the Ashokan dam to the river.

Back Volunteers

3. Resolved to back the Ulster County Volunteer Firemen's Association in its request that the board of supervisors survey the possibility of installing two-way mobile radio service in county fire apparatus.

4. Heard Fire Chief Joseph L. Murphy explain how the county mutual aid system could be used in a flood warning system.

5. Invited Attorney Herman Gottfried, former New York Board of Water Supply counsel, to discuss with them next Saturday the possibilities of a lawsuit against the city of New York for recovery of damages.

6. Heard Red Cross representatives outline that organization's program of flood relief.

Acheson Asks Grain Be Rushed to India

Washington, April 16 (AP)—Secretary of State Acheson today urged Congress to act quickly to send 2,000,000 tons of grain to India where, he said, a famine is developing more rapidly than this country anticipated.

Acheson went before a closed session of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee to discuss the Indian aid proposal. He seemed certain, too, to run into questions about Far Eastern policy generally.

Legislation has been pending for weeks to authorize a $190,000,000 grant to finance the proposed wheat gift. The administration is hoping to get action promptly in the House.

MacArthur Arrival May Bring Fresh Account of Talk

Only Details Thus Far On Wake Island Parley Are From President

Washington, April 16 (AP)—Out of Gen. Douglas MacArthur's appearance before Congress may come a new account of what the general and President Truman did at Wake Island last October.

Until now, the only official version of the short talk between the United Nations commander in the Far East and the man who later fired him from the job has come from the President—a formal, generally-phrased statement issued by Mr. Truman.

A mystery grew up about the meeting. An element of the original mystery probably developed out of the fact that the Wake Island session really was composed of two meetings—a private two-man talk between the general and the President, then a general huddle attended by the two and the men who accompanied them.

Documents Issued

Last Wednesday, in relieving MacArthur, the President issued a series of documents involved in the controversy which led to the firing, many of them in considerable detail. That night the President made a radio address on the matter.

Tokyo, April 16 (AP) — Allied troops smashed into Yachon nine miles deep in Red Korea today and hammered out limited gains along the rest of the 150-mile North Korean battleline.

Communist resistance ranged from light to bitter.

Yachon is three miles northeast of Yanggu, the Red supply base captured Sunday on the east-central front.

About 50 North Koreans fled from Yachon before the attack. Then they stopped and threw mortar fire back into the town.

Farther east, South Korean troops occupied a high ridge north of Inje.

White House Argument Presents Senate Action

Washington, April 16 (AP) — A reported argument with the White House over access to FBI files is said to be blocking Senate action on President Trumen's nominations to the Subversive Activities Control Board.

A senator in close touch with negotiations for the documents said today "the situation would have been cleared up three weeks ago if the President had been willing to cooperate and turn over those files to Congress." The senator asked not to be named.

"Long ago," he told a reporter, "the Senate Judiciary Committee asked for the reports on the routine investigations the FBI made of the President's nominees to the Control Board.

"The committee was told the reports had been sent to the White House and that the matter would have to be discussed with (presidential aide) Donald Dawson."

The White House proposed, the senator said, that the FBI documents be made available for examination only by the committee chairman, Senator McCarran (D-Nev.).

"The committee turned that down as not at all satisfactory," this informant said.

"Then the White House offered to let the chairman of the subcommittee in charge of the nominations look at the reports. That offer also was rejected.

"At present, negotiations are centering on whether the reports can be made available to all of the subcommittee members. Whether anything comes of that remains to be seen."

In other similar cases in the past, Mr. Truman has sometimes denied and sometimes granted senators access to some FBI files.

Martin Says MacArthur Will Go to Capital From West Coast

Washington, April 16 (AP)—The House agreed unanimously today to a joint meeting with the Senate Thursday to hear Gen. Douglas MacArthur.

Washington, April 16 (AP)—Republicans called today for a searching investigation of administration Asiatic policies as their reply to President Truman's charge that the GOP is trying to confuse the country.

They argued that the arrival here Thursday of Gen. Douglas MacArthur, whose dismissal by Mr. Truman was so intimately connected with Far Eastern policy, would provide a logical starting point.

Senator Ferguson (R.-Mich.) said that after Congress hears from MacArthur it ought to set up a Senate-House committee for a sweeping investigation of Far Eastern policies.

Ferguson suggested a "Pearl Harbor" type of investigation, referring to the Senate-House committee Vice President Barkley once headed to inquire into the Hawaiian Island disaster which plunged this country into World War II.

To Tell Meeting

Flying home for a series of hero's welcomes in San Francisco, Washington and New York, MacArthur is expected to tell a joint meeting of the House and Senate on Thursday his ideas—"in general," as he put it—about how to defeat communism in Asia.

Up until late yesterday, it was anticipated that MacArthur would come here Friday after a huge welcome being planned for him in New York.

But Rep. Joe Martin of Massachusetts, the House GOP leader, said there had been a change in

Army Warns Men Not to Be Quoted

Court Martial Lies Ahead for Violation of Article 88

Tokyo, April 16 (AP)—The army reminded officers and enlisted men today that if they allow themselves to be quoted for publication on the ousting of General MacArthur by President Truman they leave themselves open to court martial.

The reminder came after a field dispatch from a news correspondent in Korea (not an Associated Press staffer) quoted armed forces personnel expressing a personal opinion on the incident.

"It was one of those things where Truman was called a so and so and MacArthur a such and such," said a source.

Scuffle Rages as General Greets Admiral and Governor on Landing From Tokyo

Tour Is Planned

MacArthur to Make Trip About Honolulu for Public Benefit

Honolulu, April 16 (AP) — Gen. Douglas MacArthur arrived in Honolulu early this morning and a near-riot raged near the ramp of his Constellation transport, the re-christened "Bataan."

Air Force police manhandled news photographers trying to record the historic event.

The five-star general, making his first trip to the United States in 14 years, remained aloof to the melee. The scuffle raged a few feet behind him as he shook hands with Admiral Arthur W Radford, Hawaii's Gov. Ingram Stainback and Army Secretary Frank Pace, Jr.

At least a dozen photographers were roughed up by the air force police. They included AP's Paul Strong of San Francisco and Carl Mydans of Life Magazine. Mydans has been a personal acquaintance of General MacArthur since before World War 2

The "Bataan"—it was "Scap" before MacArthur was stripped of his commands—touched down at Hickam Air Field at 12:28 a. m. (5:28 a. m., EST). Seven minutes later the general set foot on American soil for the first time since his 1950 Wake Island conference with President Truman.

With the deposed supreme commander were his wife, his 13-year-old son, Arthur, and aides and staff members.

As MacArthur's plane turned broadside into the floodlights of Hickam Field the crowd gathered at the airport began to cheer and clap.

Mrs. MacArthur Appears

Mrs. MacArthur appeared first at the doorway of the plane. Behind her the general waved, his face wreathed in smiles for a brief moment. He is homeward bound for a war hero's welcome and an unpredictable battle over U. S. policy in Asia.

He followed Mrs. MacArthur down the ramp. Young Arthur was at his side.

A lei, the traditional flowered wreath of Hawaii, was hung around Mrs. MacArthur's neck. The family disappeared for a moment in the crowd of official greeters.

The photographers were trying to get a clear picture of the general's party. They were thwarted by the air force police.

Strong said the police began shoving the photographers around even before the ramp was pushed up to the plane.

"Two air police grabbed one guy and literally pitched him through the air," Strong said. "He actually bounced."

Strong said one public information officer, Maj. Ernest P. Schwartz, "did everything in his power to stop the police."

Crowd Presses Forward

The general and his party were supposed to go down a long line to meet civilian and military officials. But this reception broke off when everyone pressed forward around the controversial military leader.

Lt. Col. Anthony Story, MacArthur's personal pilot, was actually the first man off the plane. He walked half way down the ramp and then walked back up to assist Mrs. MacArthur down the steps.

She was dressed in a purple

Tax Deadline Approaches

Albany, N. Y., April 16 (AP)—This is the last day for filing your state income tax return for 1950 earnings. All state tax offices will remain open until 9 p. m. Mailed returns must be postmarked before midnight. Less than half of the 4,000,000 expected returns had been filed by Saturday.

'Well, I'll Be Darned!'

Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower made this face in Coblenz, Germany, April 11 when he heard the news that Gen. Douglas MacArthur had been relieved by President Truman as U.N. commander in the Far East. Ike's comment was "Well, I'll be darned!" He was inspecting French troops at Coblenz when he heard the news. This picture was made by a Stars and Stripes photographer.

Noisy Tributes Are Ahead For MacArthur in Nation

(By The Associated Press)

Gen. Douglas MacArthur's homecoming will be heralded by big and noisy "welcome" tributes in many communities across the nation.

The programs signalling the general's return after 14 years in the Far East call for parades, receptions, whistle blowing, horn tooting, and ringing of church bells.

Most observances are timed to coincide with MacArthur's arrival in San Francisco, now expected late Tuesday.

San Francisco and New York city are planning what will probably be the most spectacular tributes to the five-star general, ousted from his Far Eastern commands last week by President Truman in a policy dispute.

But the celebrations are not limited to the cities on MacArthurs' itinerary. Typical of the various honors is the proclamation of "MacArthur Day" Tuesday in Rotterdam, N. Y.

City officials have launched many of the celebrations, while others are backed by organiza-

Four Men Are Held in Raid Upon Horse and Policy Room

Police Crack Down Saturday Upon Location on Chambers Street; Defendants Held in Bail of $500; Cases Adjourned

A raid directed by Police Chief Raymond Van Buren at 48 Chambers street Saturday resulted in the arrest of four local men on charges relating to book making and policy.

Three of the men were held for alleged violations of Section 986 of the Penal Law which charges in effect that they were occupants of a room in a building containing apparatus for the purpose of recording and registering bets and wagers on the results of horse races, and for alleged violations of Section 974, which relates to the keeping of a place, room or table in a building for what is "commonly known as lottery policy."

Held on Both Charges

Arrested on both charges were Otto Solomon, 42, of 24 Ann street; Peter Caprotti, 31, of 116

Court Martial Lies Ahead for Violation of Article 88

Tokyo, April 16 (AP)—The army reminded officers and enlisted men today that if they allow themselves to be quoted for publication on the ousting of General MacArthur by President Truman they leave themselves open to court martial.

The reminder came after a field dispatch from a news correspondent in Korea (not an Associated Press staffer) quoted armed forces personnel expressing a personal opinion on the incident.

"It was one of those things where Truman was called a so and so and MacArthur a such and such," said a source.

Scuffle Rages as General Greets Admiral and Governor on Landing From Tokyo

Tour Is Planned

MacArthur to Make Trip About Honolulu for Public Benefit

Honolulu, April 16 (AP) — Gen. Douglas MacArthur arrived in Honolulu early this morning and a near-riot raged near the ramp of his Constellation transport, the re-christened "Bataan."

Air Force police manhandled news photographers trying to record the historic event.

The five-star general, making his first trip to the United States in 14 years, remained aloof to the melee. The scuffle raged a few feet behind him as he shook hands with Admiral Arthur W Radford, Hawaii's Gov. Ingram Stainback and Army Secretary Frank Pace, Jr.

At least a dozen photographers were roughed up by the air force police. They included AP's Paul Strong of San Francisco and Carl Mydans of Life Magazine. Mydans has been a personal acquaintance of General MacArthur since before World War 2

The "Bataan"—it was "Scap" before MacArthur was stripped of his commands—touched down at Hickam Air Field at 12:28 a. m. (5:28 a. m., EST). Seven minutes later the general set foot on American soil for the first time since his 1950 Wake Island conference with President Truman.

With the deposed supreme commander were his wife, his 13-year-old son, Arthur, and aides and staff members.

As MacArthur's plane turned broadside into the floodlights of Hickam Field the crowd gathered at the airport began to cheer and clap.

Mrs. MacArthur Appears

Mrs. MacArthur appeared first at the doorway of the plane. Behind her the general waved, his face wreathed in smiles for a brief moment. He is homeward bound for a war hero's welcome and an unpredictable battle over U. S. policy in Asia.

He followed Mrs. MacArthur down the ramp. Young Arthur was at his side.

A lei, the traditional flowered wreath of Hawaii, was hung around Mrs. MacArthur's neck. The family disappeared for a moment in the crowd of official greeters.

The photographers were trying to get a clear picture of the general's party. They were thwarted by the air force police.

Strong said the police began shoving the photographers around even before the ramp was pushed up to the plane.

"Two air police grabbed one guy and literally pitched him through the air," Strong said. "He actually bounced."

Strong said one public information officer, Maj. Ernest P. Schwartz, "did everything in his power to stop the police."

Crowd Presses Forward

The general and his party were supposed to go down a long line to meet civilian and military officials. But this reception broke off when everyone pressed forward around the controversial military leader.

Lt. Col. Anthony Story, MacArthur's personal pilot, was actually the first man off the plane. He walked half way down the ramp and then walked back up to assist Mrs. MacArthur down the steps.

Hearing Scheduled May 8 at KHS; Salaries Are Main Boost

Budget on Page 12

A tentative school budget was approved by the Board of Education at a special meeting Saturday and a public hearing will be held on the budget on Thursday evening, May 8, at 8 o'clock at the high school.

The budget for 1951-52 as set up by the board calls for the raising of $616,263.38 by general tax levy. This will give a school tax rate of $19.50 per $1,000 of assessment.

In 1950-51 the amount raised by general city tax levy was $483,435.44 and the tax rate was $15.28.

The total cost of school operation for 1951-52 will be $1,631,897.06 compared to $1,407,416.64 for 1950-51.

Estimated revenues other than general taxation in 1950-51 was $923,981.20 while for the coming year this revenue has been estimated at $1,015,633.68. The largest item in the estimated revenue is that of State Aid which was $796,024.32 last year and is estimated to be $864,831.99 for the coming year. Due to increased salaries the teachers' contribution to the Pension Fund will increase from $31,344.10 in 1950-51 to $54,498.75 for the coming school year.

Salaries Major Reason

A breakdown of the proposed budget shows that one of the major reasons for the increase is the increased salaries to teachers and school employes. This item is increased $149,644 in the 1951-52 budget, while the amount of state aid for salaries has increased only $68,807. The local share of the salary increase is $2.54 per thousand of assessment.

An item of $65,500 for debt service accounts for an additional $2.04 over last year and the retirement increase adds 33 cents per $1,000.

This year the Common Council will be paid $10,000 for services of city officials, including the city treasurer, assessor, attorney, engineer, etc., under a new agreement but that sum coming out of the school budget moneys will be credited in the general tax budget and will be reflected in the general tax rate. This expense of business administration adds 33 cents per $1,000 to the school tax.

Has Pared Budget

In order to keep the school tax as low as possible the finance committee has pared the budget in several places. Last year an item of $61,000 was included in the budget for repairs and renewals and for the coming year this amount was cut to $15,000. Furniture and equipment in the 1950-51 budget was set at $20,000 and for the coming year an item of about $2,500 has been placed in the budget. In 1950-51 an item of $150,000 was put in the budget for new school purposes and in the 1951-52 budget that item has been raised to $200,000 to take care of the erection of a field house at the high school which will house the gym and permit the old gym in the high school to be converted to much needed cafeteria purposes.

An item of general expense has been included in the budget to pay a capital note of $44,500 for construction of the field house and an item of $21,000 for interest and service on bonds for the Washington school which is now nearing completion.

In the budget appears an item of $5,075 for transportation. Last year this item was only $500. This does not reflect an increase of $4,500 but transportation has been set up as a separate item in the 1951-52 budget while last year transportation was charged against the salary item.

Acheson Asks Grain Be Rushed to India

Washington, April 16 (AP)—Secretary of State Acheson today urged Congress to act quickly to send 2,000,000 tons of grain to India where, he said, a famine is developing more rapidly than this country anticipated.

Acheson went before a closed session of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee to discuss the Indian aid proposal. He seemed certain, too, to run into questions about Far Eastern policy generally.

Legislation has been pending for weeks to authorize a $190,000,000 grant to finance the proposed wheat gift. The administration is hoping to get action promptly in the House.

MacArthur Arrival May Bring Fresh Account of Talk

Only Details Thus Far On Wake Island Parley Are From President

Washington, April 16 (AP)—Out of Gen. Douglas MacArthur's appearance before Congress may come a new account of what the general and President Truman did at Wake Island last October.

Until now, the only official version of the short talk between the United Nations commander in the Far East and the man who later fired him from the job has come from the President—a formal, generally-phrased statement issued by Mr. Truman.

A mystery grew up about the meeting. An element of the original mystery probably developed out of the fact that the Wake Island session really was composed of two meetings—a private two-man talk between the general and the President, then a general huddle attended by the two and the men who accompanied them.

Documents Issued

Last Wednesday, in relieving MacArthur, the President issued a series of documents involved in the controversy which led to the firing, many of them in considerable detail. That night the President made a radio address on the matter.

In neither the documents nor

U.N. Troops Smash 9 Miles Deep in Red Korea; Capture Yachon

Tokyo, April 16 (AP) — Allied troops smashed into Yachon nine miles deep in Red Korea today and hammered out limited gains along the rest of the 150-mile North Korean battleline.

Communist resistance ranged from light to bitter.

Yachon is three miles northeast of Yanggu, the Red supply base captured Sunday on the east-central front.

About 50 North Koreans fled from Yachon before the attack. Then they stopped and threw mortar fire back into the town.

Farther east, South Korean troops occupied a high ridge north of Inje.

The Communist planes escaped damage.

Flood Victims Vote To Petition Drops In Ashokan Level

A group of 126 persons who suffered loss in the flood of March 31 met at the Town of Ulster highway department garage Saturday night and took the following action:

1. Voted to petition New York city's water department commissioner to lower the level of the water in the Ashokan reservoir "three or four feet" so that the reservoir could absorb any additional heavy rains without a flooding of the lower Esopus creek.

2. Voted to ask Senator Arthur H. Wicks to include in a bill to be introduced in the legislature provision to dredge not only the upper Esopus, but also the lower Esopus creek from the Ashokan dam to the river.

Back Volunteers

3. Resolved to back the Ulster County Volunteer Firemen's Association in its request that the board of supervisors survey the possibility of installing two-way mobile radio service in county fire apparatus.

4. Heard Fire Chief Joseph L. Murphy explain how the county mutual aid system could be used in a flood warning system.

5. Invited Attorney Herman Gottfried, former New York Board of Water Supply counsel, to discuss with them next Saturday the possibilities of a lawsuit against the city of New York for recovery of damages.

6. Heard Red Cross representatives outline that organization's program of flood relief.

White House Argument Presents Senate Action

Washington, April 16 (AP) — A reported argument with the White House over access to FBI files is said to be blocking Senate action on President Trumen's nominations to the Subversive Activities Control Board.

A senator in close touch with negotiations for the documents said today "the situation would have been cleared up three weeks ago if the President had been willing to cooperate and turn over those files to Congress." The senator asked not to be named.

"Long ago," he told a reporter, "the Senate Judiciary Committee asked for the reports on the routine investigations the FBI made of the President's nominees to the Control Board.

"The committee was told the reports had been sent to the White House and that the matter would have to be discussed with (presidential aide) Donald Dawson."

The White House proposed, the senator said, that the FBI documents be made available for examination only by the committee chairman, Senator McCarran (D-Nev.).

"The committee turned that down as not at all satisfactory," this informant said.

"Then the White House offered to let the chairman of the subcommittee in charge of the nominations look at the reports. That offer also was rejected.

"At present, negotiations are centering on whether the reports can be made available to all of the subcommittee members. Whether anything comes of that remains to be seen."

In other similar cases in the past, Mr. Truman has sometimes denied and sometimes granted senators access to some FBI files.

Republicans Think Two Houses Should Form Group After Hearing General

Martin Says MacArthur Will Go to Capital From West Coast

Washington, April 16 (AP)—The House agreed unanimously today to a joint meeting with the Senate Thursday to hear Gen. Douglas MacArthur.

Washington, April 16 (AP)—Republicans called today for a searching investigation of administration Asiatic policies as their reply to President Truman's charge that the GOP is trying to confuse the country.

They argued that the arrival here Thursday of Gen. Douglas MacArthur, whose dismissal by Mr. Truman was so intimately connected with Far Eastern policy, would provide a logical starting point.

Senator Ferguson (R.-Mich.) said that after Congress hears from MacArthur it ought to set up a Senate-House committee for a sweeping investigation of Far Eastern policies.

Ferguson suggested a "Pearl Harbor" type of investigation, referring to the Senate-House committee Vice President Barkley once headed to inquire into the Hawaiian Island disaster which plunged this country into World War II.

To Tell Meeting

Flying home for a series of hero's welcomes in San Francisco, Washington and New York, MacArthur is expected to tell a joint meeting of the House and Senate on Thursday his ideas—"in general," as he put it—about how to defeat communism in Asia.

Up until late yesterday, it was anticipated that MacArthur would come here Friday after a huge welcome being planned for him in New York.

But Rep. Joe Martin of Massachusetts, the House GOP leader, said there had been a change in

OUR STREET

The world is filled with countless streets
Where man has fashioned snug retreats . . .
Where Winter's snow and Summer's rain
May rest upon his window-pane.

F'instance—take this street of ours
Where neighbors smile thru' sun and showers
And friendly voices play a part
That never fails to warm the heart.

It's just a street where youngsters play
As days of childhood dance away
With small concern for street afar
That lie beneath a distant star.

Our street is filled with busy folk
Who share a grief . . . and pass a joke . . .
They live in peace and earn the rest
That follows toil and daily zest.

It's just a street with houses small
Where sunbeams play and shadows fall
But life . . . and love . . . build lofty towers
That smile upon this street of ours.

MORTICIANS

Resigns Sunday

REV. RAYMOND PONTIER

The Rev. Raymond J. Pontier, pastor of the Reformed Church of the Comforter, Wynkoop Place, for seven and a half years, resigned his pastorate Sunday, effective the end of next month.

He will assume his new duties in June as pastor of the Dearpark Reformed Church in Port Jervis.

The Rev. Mr. Pontier came to Kingston following a charge at the Bern and Beaverdam Reformed Church where he spent two and one-half years. The Bern church is near Albany. He began his duties there following graduation from the New Brunswick Seminary at Rutgers University.

During his pastorate here, the Rev. Mr. Pontier has been associated with various Protestant organizations.

He has served as president and vice-president of the Kingston Ministerial Association and also as president of the now defunct Kingston Council of Churches. He also has been connected with the annual Protestant Preaching Missions. The pastor also has served as chairman of the United Advance of the Reformed Church in this area.

The pastor also has served as director of the Oakwood Youth Conference at Oakwood for two years. The school is near Poughkeepsie.

Woodstock Motel

closed that Thompson probably had been carrying approximately $200.

Found in Bed

The severely injured Thompson was found in his bed, clad in pajamas. Blood on the floor and the bed indicated he had lost a considerable quantity of blood from wounds on the right side of his head.

Investigating authorities found a blood stained, rusty hatchet in a waste paper basket in the kitchen of the house, which was apparently the assault weapon.

Time Not Fixed

Time of the assault has not been fixed.

Thompson was alone in his house adjacent the motel on the Tannery Brook road where Sully's Bridge crosses the Sawkill since Friday morning, when he drove his wife to Kingston, where she took a bus for New Jersey to attend a wedding, Sgt. Reilly said.

Neighbors said the lights in the Thompson residence were extinguished as usual at 10 p m. Friday.

Thompson was not seen again until about 7:45 p. m. Saturday, when his daughter, Lorraine, and her husband, Fred Craft, of West Hurley drove to the home after they had made several telephone calls late that afternoon and early in the evening without response.

The Crafts immediately notified Dr. Hans Cohn, who ordered Thompson taken to the hospital. A W. N. Conner ambulance was called, and state police were notified.

Large Detail Assigned

Troopers from Lake Katrine and Cpl. Ray Dunn of Phoenicia were first to arrive upon the scene. A large detail of troopers has been assigned to the case. Lt. J. J. Lawson arrived Saturday night, as well as Inspector C. Lawson of the Bureau of Criminal Investigation. Sgt. Reilly and Trooper John Metzer of the B.C.I. were assigned, as was Trooper Edward Rocke, Troop C Headquarters, Sidney, photographer and fingerprint expert. District Attorney Louis G. Bruhn consulted with police officials early Sunday morning.

Cellar Window Entrance

It was believed the assailant had entered through a cellar window, climbed the stairs, attacked Thompson and left through the front door.

Dr. Cohn said that Thompson received skull fractures and cuts about the scalp.

Mrs. Thompson, wife of the victim, was contacted by telephone Saturday evening and returned by taxi late that night.

Mr. and Mrs. Thompson purchased the Mill Stream Motel late in May, 1950, from Mr. and Mrs. Edward White. Thompson had formerly been in the contracting business in Brooklyn for 25 years.

Furniture Is Damaged

Furniture stored in a storm shed at 49 Cedar street, was damaged in a fire Saturday. Firemen were called at 7:34 p. m., from box 1211 at Broadway and Greenkill avenue, the house is owned by Anna DeMott and occupied by Kenneth Johnson, first floor, and Jesse Bell, second. A false alarm was sounded from Box 2221, Delaware and Lindsley avenues Sunday at 2:04 a. m.

The Lorelei is a rock in the Rhine near St. Goar, which gives off a remarkable echo.

Japanese Accorded Great Parting Tribute to General

Tokyo, April 16 (AP)—General Douglas MacArthur left Japan today amid a great tribute from the Japanese people he ruled and Allied forces he commanded.

His Constellation plane Bataan roared into the spring sunshine at 7:21 a. m. (5:21 p. m. EST., Sunday) ending an epoch that remained dramatic and ironic until the last moment.

Fourteen minutes later his successor, Lt. Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway, moved into the same plain headquarters office from which MacArthur ruled Japan for five years and seven months.

Five hours after General MacArthur left Tokyo he had a dramatic plane-to-plane discussion of the proposed Japanese peace treaty with John Foster Dulles, special state department adviser.

Dulles was flying to Tokyo to resassure the Japanese people that General MacArthur's departure would not affect the proposed pact.

Their planes passed high over the Pacific about noon, Tokyo time (10 p. m. Sunday, EST).

On his arrival in Tokyo, Dulles was met by General Ridgway.

He said MacArthur told him "I could count completely on any help and assistance that he could render."

Greatest Acclaim

Between 500,000 and one million people jammed the streets for a final glimpse of "Field Marshal Makas-Sar," as they call him. They paid tribute their own way, with reverent silence and polite bows, during the general's 12-mile motor trip to Haneda airport.

Emperor Hirohito called on the general at noon Sunday for a farewell visit that lasted 45 minutes. The emperor had visited MacArthur in the American Embassy ten times previously, but all those calls were on business matters.

Give 19-Gun Salute

Military associates gave MacArthur a 19-gun salute from stubby 105 mm. howitzers. They said he was entitled to two more rounds than other American generals because he had served as supreme commander for the allied powers in Japan.

And, finally, the air was cleared temporarily of busy military planes, so the Bataan could head directly for Hawaii.

The general could not have had a more triumphant exit.

MacArthur was plainly moved. He held himself with extra erectness. His face wore a quick, tense smile. He was in a hurry to leave.

Mrs. MacArthur seemed on the verge of tears.

Thirteen-year-old Arthur MacArthur seemed bewildered and uneasy.

The epoch that has become associated with MacArthur in Japan and the Orient ended quickly. It took 30 minutes for the drive to the airport and out of the lives of the Japanese. In 14 minutes more, the general completed his military ceremonies, greeted the dignitaries on hand and was in his plane.

Then it was gone—a dot in the cloud-flecked air, chased by jet fighter planes as playful as porpoises.

Maj. Martin W. Baumgaertner, a Protestant air force chaplain from Fort Wayne, Ind., put it this way:

". . . What impressed me most was the genuine regret in the faces of the people here. What I saw in their faces was, to me, the greatest tribute ever paid any living American in our time. The tears were really there."

The air was chilly and the smoke of cooking fires hung over the city, when MacArthur's black limousine slipped through the gates of the American Embassy at 6:28 a. m.

It glided through a crowd of Japanese, long assembled there, and slipped down the hill past a group of Japanese Boy Scouts.

General Stiffly Erect

MacArthur sat stiffly erect near the right window of the rear seat, his hand saluting the long lines of black-garbed Japanese police, who snapped individually to attention.

Mrs. MacArthur, at the opposite window, smiled and waved a white handkerchief. Son Arthur had slipped down between them.

The Japanese were packed along the sidewalks—girls in bright spring kimonas, old women with bent shoulders, youngsters in shapeless black school uniforms.

A grandmother and her granddaughter had come from a town 50 miles away to represent their family. Others had walked miles to be on hand. The majority had left their houses around dawn.

"We just wanted to say goodbye and return the confidence which the general showed in the Japanese people," one of the two sisters remarked.

The Japanese did not applaud or cheer. They stared in a silence broken by what sounded like a prolonged and continuing sigh. They waved the Japanese flags that MacArthur restored to them—many having only crayoned red balls on white paper.

Not an untoward incident was reported throughout the day.

GOP Demands

plans and MacArthur would fly here direct from San Francisco. Martin said the general will address Congress Thursday afternoon (12:30 p. m., E.S.T.). He is due in San Francisco late Tuesday.

Author of Resolution

Martin is author of a resolution by which Congress formally will invite MacArthur to address a joint meeting. The resolution probably will be approved tomorrow; no significant opposition was in sight.

There still was doubt whether the five-star general would accept an invitation by the Senate Armed Services Committee to testify behind closed doors on the military situation in the Pacific.

He notified Chairman Russell (D.-Ga.) of the committee late Saturday it would not be appropriate for him to accept such an invitation while the full Congress was considering asking him to address a joint meeting. Russell agreed, but renewed his request for MacArthur to appear sometime later.

The Senate and House Foreign Relations Committees discussed issuing invitations of their own, or at least trying to join the armed services group.

Mr. Truman fired MacArthur early last Wednesday because, he said the general was "unable to give his wholehearted support" to the policies being followed by this country and the United Nations in the Korean war.

Calls It 'Hokum'

Mr. Truman told a Democratic party dinner here Saturday night the Republicans are putting out a lot of "political hokum" against the bi-partisan foreign policy "because they think if the country is confused enough they may be able to win the next election."

He made only indirect references to the MacArthur ouster, but it was evident he was replying to the foreign policy criticism stirred up by that action. His administration will never appease communism, he said.

The basic policy disagreement is whether a limited war in Korea such as the U.N. forces are now fighting is the best way to head off a new world war, or whether—as MacArthur contends — the U.N. forces should be allowed to hit the Communists in Manchuria and to use Chinese Nationalist troops in Formosa.

Senator Cain (R-Wash.) pointed up the split yesterday when he announced he will move in the Senate for a formal declaration of war against all U. N. enemies in Korea, including Manchuria.

"I intend to make such a resolution to find out where we are and where, for God's sake, we are going," Cain said

An administration supporter, Senator Sparkman (D-Ala.) suggested, meanwhile, that the forces on Formosa are being held in strategic reserve.

'Definite Place'

"There is a very definite place in the scheme of things for the use of Chiang Kai-Shek's troops but it is not here yet," Sparkman said. Both he and Cain spoke on radio forums.

Assistant Secretary of State Dean Rusk, echoing the position

the speech was there any reference to the Wake island meeting.

The statement Mr. Truman released at the conclusion of the Wake island conferences said that "primarily we talked about the problems in Korea." The President said "we also discussed the steps necessary to bring peace and security to the area as rapidly as possible in accordance with the intent of the resolution of the United Nations General Assembly and in order to get our armed forces out of Korea as soon as their United Nations mission is completed." Then, down near the end of the 700-word statement, the President said:

"I also asked General MacArthur to tell me his ideas on the ways in which the United States can most effectively promote its policies of assisting the United Nations to promote and maintain international peace and security throughout the Pacific area."

Mr. Truman didn't say what ideas MacArthur offered.

Were they ideas which subsequently expanded into the irreconcilable conflict which led Mr. Truman to say last Wednesday that he concluded MacArthur "is unable to give his wholehearted support to the policies of the United States government and of the United Nations * * *"?

Basically, the fundamental issues between the President and the general seems to include the question of the way to fight the war in Korea and whether the quarrel between the Communists and the free world is to be settled in Asia or in Europe.

Mr. Truman recoils from the thought of using Chiang Kai-shek's Nationalist forces, as MacArthur urges. So does the State Department. And so, in considerable measure, does the military command at the Pentagon.

The President worries also lest the Korean war be extended into a general conflict.

MacArthur is supposed to favor the idea of bombing and naval blockade of Communist China's coastal areas. The White House, State Department and perhaps the Pentagon's joint chiefs of staff fear this would trigger off general war, that Russia would seize upon the act as a pretext for striking.

Mr. Truman voiced in his Saturday night Jefferson-Jackson dinner day speech, contended an expansion of the Korean war would "lead to disaster."

In a radio talk yesterday, Rusk argued for fighting the Korean war to the point where Communists will give up their aggressive desires.

The Senate Armed Services Committee plans to undertake an inquiry into the MacArthur ouster, starting Wednesday with testimony from Secretary of Defense Marshall.

Senator McFarland of Arizona, the Democratic leader predicted that inquiry "will clarify as much as possible the military situation surrounding MacArthur's dismissal."

"I hope the committee can give the public the maximum amount of information which can be given in keeping with military security," he told reporters.

Otto Herman, 67, Is Suicide Victim

Otto Herman, 67, former operator of Herman's Grove, was found dead at his home in Maple Hill this morning of a self-inflicted shotgun wound in the chest, the sheriff's office reported.

County Investigator Leonard Belmore and Deputy Carl Cline found the shotgun tied to a bracket on the back porch of the house. Apparently he had placed his heart against the muzzle of the .12 guage shotgun and pushed the trigger with a stick, they reported.

His body was discovered at 7:45 a. m. today by his housekeeper, Evelyn Jurgen, who notified Justice of the Peace Edward Brodsky. Brodsky in turn notified the sheriff's office. Coroner Ernest A. Kelly was called, and investigated at the scene.

The sheriff's men said investigation disclosed Herman had been ailing for some time from a serious disease and that he was aware of his condition.

A verdict of death by suicide was given this morning by Coroner Kelly. Herman, a native of Germany, was a naturalized citizen of this country and lived in Maple Hill about 26 years. There are no close relatives in the area. The funeral will be held from the Ernest A. Kelly Funeral Home Wednesday at 2:30 p. m. Burial will be in Wiltwyck Cemetery.

Noisy Tributes

tions and individual admirers.

The Golden Gate city will give MacArthur an official hero's welcome sometime Wednesday. Plans for a Tuesday reception were cancelled yesterday when the general telegraphed that he would not arrive until after dark.

A formal reception at the airport, a parade into San Francisco, and greetings at the city hall had been scheduled.

In New York city, MacArthur is booked for a returning hero's parade on Broadway Friday. The general wired Mayor Vincent R. Impellitteri yesterday that he would arrive in New York late Thursday.

The Waldorf-Astoria Hotel, where the MacArthurs plan to stay, readied a huge five-star banner to hang from its flagstaff.

Columbia Broadcasting Company Correspondent George Herman reported yesterday from Tokyo that Mrs. MacArthur said their "current plan is to settle down in New York city."

Rep. Joe Martin (R.-Mass.) said in Washington yesterday that the general would fly to the nation's capital from San Francisco on Thursday to address Congress that afternoon. Later the general will fly to New York.

MacArthur's tentative itinerary previously scheduled his Washington appearance after the New York welcome.

Near-Riot Marks

suit and was grinning broadly as she descended.

The general was wearing a dark olive drab uniform with an Eisenhower battle jacket. His head gear was his famous sun-tan gold-leafed hat. Arthur was wearing a dark beanie cap and a red jacket.

Lt. Col. and Mrs. Sid Huff followed them out of the plane. Huff was one of the general's closest personal advisers in his Tokyo commands.

The general and his family were taken to Adm. Radford's guest house in the Pearl Harbor area to sleep and rest until time for Honolulu's welcoming ceremonies this afternoon.

Pace Shakes Hands

Pace shook hands vigorously with the general in the milling crowd. They stood there grinning broadly at each other and shaking hands.

Hickman spokesmen said MacArthur would not release any statements.

High above the clouds, the MacArthur's had ridden the winds across the Pacific as the big four-engine plane winged nonstop from Tokyo.

VFW Carnival Opens Tonight for Week

The La Cross Shows, sponsored by Joyce-Schirick Post, 1386, Veterans of Foreign Wars, will open a week's engagement at the Pan Am Field tonight starting at 6:30 o'clock.

The carnival, the first to arrive in Kingston this spring, features the "Mighty Curran" in a free act nightly.

A special matinee has been planned next Saturday at 2 p. m.

The carnival began its summer schedule last week in Middletown after being in winter quarters at St. Albans, Vt.

9W Drive-In Has Opening

The reopening of the 9W Drive-in Theatre Saturday attracted 1,500, Hervey Keator, new manager, announced at the close of the season's first show.

The line of automobiles at one time, it was reported, extended from the theatre to the viaduct on Albany avenue extension, and the manager reported 200 cars turned away.

Two speakers for the opening were County Attorney Frederick Stang and Alderman-at-large Joseph Kelly, representing the city. Free popcorn was distributed. The theatre's new manager is well known in Kingston and vicinity because of the several years he served as a member of the New York State Police.

White House

He has argued they are confidential and that he is under no obligation to furnish them to Congress.

The five-member subversive activities board was created under the internal security law which Congress enacted last September over Mr. Truman's veto.

The President first sent his nominations to the Senate last November. The judiciary committee took no action, so Mr. Truman resubmitted them to the new Congress Feb. 12. The nominations still are on the shelf.

So Chairman Seth W. Richardson and the other four members of the board are serving under temporary appointments. Because the Senate has not confirmed them, the Communist Party has challenged the legality of the panel's operations.

The law which set up the board calls for the registration of Communist and Communist-front organizations. The board has ordered hearings to start April 23 to determine whether the Communist party should be required to register. The party has refused to do so, in a move to test the legality of the registration provisions.

McCarran, the Judiciary Committee chairman, has named Senators Willis Smith (D-N.C.) and Watkins (R-Utah) to handle preliminary work on nominations. Smith reportedly is dealing with the White House at present regarding the F.B.I. reports on the appointees.

Besides Richardson, the chairman and a Republican, the board has these other members:

Former Republican Congressmen Charles M Lafollette of Indiana; Peter C. Brown of Brooklyn, N. Y. a former special assistant to the attorney general; David J. Coddaire of Haverhill, Mass., one-time member of the old maritime commission; and Kathryn McHale, sister of Frank McHale, Indiana Democratic National Committeeman.

Evening Verse
(For Your Scrapbook)
By DANIEL J. O'CONNOR

OUR STREET

The world is filled with countless streets
Where man has fashioned snug retreats . . .
Where Winter's snow and Summer's rain
May rest upon his window-pane.

F'instance—take this street of ours
Where neighbors smile thru' sun and showers
And friendly voices play a part
That never fails to warm the heart.

It's just a street where youngsters play
As days of childhood dance away
With small concern for streets afar
That lie beneath a distant star.

Who share a grief . . . and pass a joke . . .
They live in peace and earn the rest
That follows toil and daily zest.

It's just a street with houses small
Where sunbeams play and shadows fall
But life . . . and love . . . build lofty towers
That smile upon this street of ours.

MORTICIANS

Resigns Sunday

REV. RAYMOND PONTIER

The Rev. Raymond J. Pontier, pastor of the Reformed Church of the Comforter, Wynkoop Place, for seven and a half years, resigned his pastorate Sunday, effective the end of next month.

He will assume his new duties in June as pastor of the Dearpark Reformed Church in Port Jervis.

The Rev. Mr. Pontier came to Kingston following a charge at the Bern and Beaverdam Reformed Church where he spent two and one-half years. The Bern church is near Albany. He began his duties there following graduation from the New Brunswick Seminary at Rutgers University.

During his pastorate here, the Rev. Mr. Pontier has been associated with various Protestant organizations.

He has served as president and vice-president of the Kingston Ministerial Association and also as president of the now defunct Kingston Council of Churches. He also has been connected with the annual Protestant Preaching Missions. The pastor also has served as chairman of the United Advance of the Reformed Church in this area.

The pastor also has served as director of the Oakwood Youth Conference at Oakwood for two years. The school is near Poughkeepsie.

Woodstock Motel

closed that Thompson probably had been carrying approximately $200.

Found in Bed

The severely injured Thompson was found in his bed, clad in pajamas. Blood on the floor and the bed indicated he had lost a considerable quantity of blood from wounds on the right side of his head.

Investigating authorities found a blood stained, rusty hatchet in a waste paper basket in the kitchen of the house, which was apparently the assault weapon.

Time Not Fixed

Time of the assault has not been fixed.

Thompson was alone in his house adjacent the motel on the Tannery Brook road where Sully's Bridge crosses the Sawkill since Friday morning, when he drove his wife to Kingston, where she took a bus for New Jersey to attend a wedding, Sgt. Reilly said.

Neighbors said the lights in the Thompson residence were extinguished as usual at 10 p m. Friday.

Thompson was not seen again until about 7:45 p. m. Saturday, when his daughter, Lorraine, and her husband, Fred Craft, of West Hurley drove to the home after they had made several telephone calls late that afternoon and early in the evening without response.

The Crafts immediately notified Dr. Hans Cohn, who ordered Thompson taken to the hospital. A W. N. Conner ambulance was called, and state police were notified.

Large Detail Assigned

Troopers from Lake Katrine and Cpl. Ray Dunn of Phoenicia were first to arrive upon the scene. A large detail of troopers has been assigned to the case. Lt. J. J. Lawson arrived Saturday night, as well as Inspector C. Lawson of the Bureau of Criminal Investigation. Sgt. Reilly and Trooper John Metzer of the B.C.I. were assigned, as was Trooper Edward Rocke, Troop C Headquarters, Sidney, photographer and fingerprint expert. District Attorney Louis G. Bruhn consulted with police officials early Sunday morning.

Cellar Window Entrance

It was believed the assailant had entered through a cellar window, climbed the stairs, attacked Thompson and left through the front door.

Dr. Cohn said that Thompson received skull fractures and cuts about the scalp.

Mrs. Thompson, wife of the victim, was contacted by telephone Saturday evening and returned by taxi late that night.

Mr. and Mrs. Thompson purchased the Mill Stream Motel late in May, 1950, from Mr. and Mrs. Edward White. Thompson had formerly been in the contracting business in Brooklyn for 25 years.

Furniture Is Damaged

Furniture stored in a storm shed at 49 Cedar street, was damaged in a fire Saturday. Firemen were called at 7:34 p. m., from box 1211 at Broadway and Greenkill avenue, the house is owned by Anna DeMott and occupied by Kenneth Johnson, first floor, and Jesse Bell, second. A false alarm was sounded from Box 2221, Delaware and Lindsley avenues Sunday at 2:04 a. m.

The Lorelei is a rock in the Rhine near St. Goar, which gives off a remarkable echo.

Japanese Accorded Great Parting Tribute to General

Tokyo, April 16 (AP)—General Douglas MacArthur left Japan today amid a great tribute from the Japanese people he ruled and Allied forces he commanded.

His Constellation plane Bataan roared into the spring sunshine at 7:21 a. m. (5:21 p. m. EST., Sunday) ending an epoch that remained dramatic and ironic until the last moment.

Fourteen minutes later his successor, Lt. Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway, moved into the same plain headquarters office from which MacArthur ruled Japan for five years and seven months.

Five hours after General MacArthur left Tokyo he had a dramatic plane-to-plane discussion of the proposed Japanese peace treaty with John Foster Dulles, special state department adviser.

Dulles was flying to Tokyo to reassure the Japanese people that General MacArthur's departure would not affect the proposed pact.

Their planes passed high over the Pacific about noon, Tokyo time (10 p. m. Sunday, EST).

On his arrival in Tokyo, Dulles was met by General Ridgway.

He said MacArthur told him "I could count completely on any help and assistance that he could render."

Greatest Acclaim

Between 500,000 and one million people jammed the streets for a final glimpse of "Field Marshal Makas-Sar," as they call him. They paid tribute their own way, with reverent silence and polite bows, during the general's 12-mile motor trip to Haneda airport.

Emperor Hirohito called on the general at noon Sunday for a farewell visit that lasted 45 minutes. The emperor had visited MacArthur in the American Embassy ten times previously, but all those calls were on business matters.

Give 19-Gun Salute

Military associates gave MacArthur a 19-gun salute from stubby 105 mm. howitzers. They said he was entitled to two more rounds than other American generals because he had served as supreme commander for the allied powers in Japan.

And, finally, the air was cleared temporarily of busy military planes, so the Bataan could head directly for Hawaii.

The general could not have had a more triumphant exit.

MacArthur was plainly moved. He held himself with extra erectness. His face wore a quick, tense smile. He was in a hurry to leave.

Mrs. MacArthur seemed on the verge of tears.

Thirteen-year-old Arthur MacArthur seemed bewildered and uneasy.

The epoch that has become associated with MacArthur in Japan and the Orient ended quickly. It took 30 minutes for the drive to the airport and out of the lives of the Japanese. In 14 minutes more, the general completed his military ceremonies, greeted the dignitaries on hand and was in his plane.

Then it was gone—a dot in the cloud-flecked air, chased by jet fighter planes as playful as porpoises.

Maj. Martin W. Baumgaertner, a Protestant air force chaplain from Fort Wayne, Ind., put it this way:

". . . What impressed me most was the genuine regret in the faces of the people here. What I saw in their faces was, to me, the greatest tribute ever paid any living American in our time. The tears were really there."

The air was chilly and the smoke of cooking fires hung over the city, when MacArthur's black limousine slipped through the gates of the American Embassy at 6:28 a. m.

It glided through a crowd of Japanese, long assembled there, and slipped down the hill past a group of Japanese Boy Scouts.

General Stiffly Erect

MacArthur sat stiffly erect near the right window of the rear seat, his hand saluting the long lines of black-garbed Japanese police, who snapped individually to attention.

Mrs. MacArthur, at the opposite window, smiled and waved a white handkerchief. Son Arthur had slipped down between them.

The Japanese were packed along the sidewalks—girls in bright spring kimonas, old women with bent shoulders, youngsters in shapeless black school uniforms.

A grandmother and her granddaughter had come from a town 50 miles away to represent their family. Others had walked miles to be on hand. The majority had left their houses around dawn.

"We just wanted to say goodbye and return the confidence which the general showed in the Japanese people," one of the two sisters remarked.

The Japanese did not applaud or cheer. They stared in a silence broken by what sounded like a prolonged and continuing sigh. They waved the Japanese flags that MacArthur restored to them—many having only crayoned red balls on white paper.

Not an untoward incident was reported throughout the day.

GOP Demands

plans and MacArthur would fly here direct from San Francisco. Martin said the general will address Congress Thursday afternoon (12:30 p. m., E.S.T.). He is due in San Francisco late Tuesday.

Author of Resolution

Martin is author of a resolution by which Congress formally will invite MacArthur to address a joint meeting. The resolution probably will be approved tomorrow; no significant opposition was in sight.

There still was doubt whether the five-star general would accept an invitation by the Senate Armed Services Committee to testify behind closed doors on the military situation in the Pacific.

He notified Chairman Russell (D.-Ga.) of the committee late Saturday it would not be appropriate for him to accept such an invitation while the full Congress was considering asking him to address a joint meeting. Russell agreed, but renewed his request for MacArthur to appear sometime later.

The Senate and House Foreign Relations Committees discussed issuing invitations of their own, or at least trying to join the armed services group.

Mr. Truman fired MacArthur early last Wednesday because, he said the general was "unable to give his wholehearted support" to the policies being followed by this country and the United Nations in the Korean war.

Calls It 'Hokum'

Mr. Truman told a Democratic party dinner here Saturday night the Republicans are putting out a lot of "political hokum" against the bi-partisan foreign policy "because they think if the country is confused enough they may be able to win the next election."

He made only indirect references to the MacArthur ouster, but it was evident he was replying to the foreign policy criticism stirred up by that action. His administration will never appease communism, he said.

The basic policy disagreement is whether a limited war in Korea such as the U.N. forces are now fighting is the best way to head off a new world war, or whether—as MacArthur contends — the U.N. forces should be allowed to hit the Communists in Manchuria and to use Chinese Nationalist troops in Formosa.

Senator Cain (R-Wash.) pointed up the split yesterday when he announced he will move in the Senate for a formal declaration of war against all U. N. enemies in Korea, including Manchuria.

"I intend to make such a resolution to find out where we are and where, for God's sake, we are going," Cain said.

An administration supporter, Senator Sparkman (D-Ala.) suggested, meanwhile, that the forces on Formosa are being held in strategic reserve.

'Definite Place'

"There is a very definite place in the scheme of things for the use of Chiang Kai-Shek's troops but it is not here yet," Sparkman said. Both he and Cain spoke on radio forums.

Assistant Secretary of State Dean Rusk, echoing the position Mr. Truman voiced in his Saturday night Jefferson-Jackson dinner day speech, contended an expansion of the Korean war would "lead to disaster."

MacArthur Arrival

the speech was there any reference to the Wake island meeting.

The statement Mr. Truman released at the conclusion of the Wake island conferences said that "primarily we talked about the problems in Korea." The President said "we also discussed the steps necessary to bring peace and security to the area as rapidly as possible in accordance with the intent of the resolution of the United Nations General Assembly and in order to get our armed forces out of Korea as soon as their United Nations mission is completed." Then, down near the end of the 700-word statement, the President said:

"I also asked General MacArthur to tell me his ideas on the ways in which the United States can most effectively promote its policies of assisting the United Nations to promote and maintain international peace and security throughout the Pacific area."

Mr. Truman didn't say what ideas MacArthur offered.

Were they ideas which subsequently expanded into the irreconcilable conflict which led Mr. Truman to say last Wednesday that he concluded MacArthur "is unable to give his wholehearted support to the policies of the United States government and of the United Nations * * *"?

Basically, the fundamental issues between the President and the general seems to include the question of the way to fight the war in Korea and whether the quarrel between the Communists and the free world is to be settled in Asia or in Europe.

Mr. Truman recoils from the thought of using Chiang Kai-shek's Nationalist forces, as MacArthur urges. So does the State Department. And so, in considerable measure, does the military command at the Pentagon.

The President worries also lest the Korean war be extended into a general conflict.

MacArthur is supposed to favor the idea of bombing and naval blockade of Communist China's coastal areas. The White House, State Department and perhaps the Pentagon's joint chiefs of staff fear this would trigger off general war, that Russia would seize upon the act as a pretext for striking.

Otto Herman, 67, Is Suicide Victim

Otto Herman, 67, former operator of Herman's Grove, was found dead at his home in Maple Hill this morning of a self-inflicted shotgun wound in the chest, the sheriff's office reported.

County Investigator Leonard Belmore and Deputy Carl Cline found the shotgun tied to a bracket on the back porch of the house. Apparently he had placed his heart against the muzzle of the .12 guage shotgun and pushed the trigger with a stick, they reported.

His body was discovered at 7:45 a. m. today by his housekeeper, Evelyn Jurgen, who notified Justice of the Peace Edward Brodsky. Brodsky in turn notified the sheriff's office. Coroner Ernest A. Kelly was called, and investigated at the scene.

The sheriff's men said investigation disclosed Herman had been ailing for some time from a serious disease and that he was aware of his condition.

A verdict of death by suicide was given this morning by Coroner Kelly. Herman, a native of Germany, was a naturalized citizen of this country and lived in Maple Hill about 26 years. There are no close relatives in the area. The funeral will be held from the Ernest A. Kelly Funeral Home Wednesday at 2:30 p. m. Burial will be in Wiltwyck Cemetery.

Noisy Tributes

tions and individual admirers.

The Golden Gate city will give MacArthur an official hero's welcome sometime Wednesday. Plans for a Tuesday reception were cancelled yesterday when the general telegraphed that he would not arrive until after dark.

A formal reception at the airport, a parade into San Francisco, and greetings at the city hall had been scheduled.

In New York city, MacArthur is booked for a returning hero's parade on Broadway Friday. The general wired Mayor Vincent R. Impellitteri yesterday that he would arrive in New York late Thursday.

The Waldorf-Astoria Hotel, where the MacArthurs plan to stay, readied a huge five-star banner to hang from its flagstaff.

Columbia Broadcasting Company Correspondent George Herman reported yesterday from Tokyo that Mrs. MacArthur said their "current plan is to settle down in New York city."

Rep. Joe Martin (R.-Mass.) said in Washington yesterday that the general would fly to the nation's capital from San Francisco on Thursday to address Congress that afternoon. Later the general will fly to New York.

MacArthur's tentative itinerary previously scheduled his Washington appearance after the New York welcome.

Near-Riot Marks

suit and was grinning broadly as she descended.

The general was wearing a dark olive drab uniform with an Eisenhower battle jacket. His head gear was his famous sun-tan gold-leafed hat. Arthur was wearing a dark beanie cap and a red jacket.

Lt. Col. and Mrs. Sid Huff followed them out of the plane. Huff was one of the general's closest personal advisers in his Tokyo commands.

The general and his family were taken to Adm. Radford's guest house in the Pearl Harbor area to sleep and rest until time for Honolulu's welcoming ceremonies this afternoon.

Pace Shakes Hands

Pace shook hands vigorously with the general in the milling crowd. They stood there grinning broadly at each other and shaking hands.

Hickman spokesmen said MacArthur would not release any statements.

High above the clouds, the MacArthur's had ridden the winds across the Pacific as the big four-engine plane winged nonstop from Tokyo.

VFW Carnival Opens Tonight for Week

The La Cross Shows, sponsored by Joyce-Schirick Post, 1386, Veterans of Foreign Wars, will open a week's engagement at the Pan Am Field tonight starting at 6:30 o'clock.

The carnival, the first to arrive in Kingston this spring, features the "Mighty Curran" in a free act nightly.

A special matinee has been planned next Saturday at 2 p. m.

The carnival began its summer schedule last week in Middletown after being in winter quarters at St. Albans, Vt.

9W Drive-In Has Opening

The reopening of the 9W Drive-in Theatre Saturday attracted 1,500, Hervey Keator, new manager, announced at the close of the season's first show.

The line of automobiles at one time, it was reported, extended from the theatre to the viaduct on Albany avenue extension, and the manager reported 200 cars turned away.

Two speakers for the opening were County Attorney Frederick Stang and Alderman-at-large Joseph Kelly, representing the city. Free popcorn was distributed. The theatre's new manager is well known in Kingston and vicinity because of the several years he served as a member of the New York State Police.

White House

He has argued they are confidential and that he is under no obligation to furnish them to Congress.

The five-member subversive activities board was created under the internal security law which Congress enacted last September over Mr. Truman's veto.

The President first sent his nominations to the Senate last November. The judiciary committee took no action, so Mr. Truman resubmitted them to the new Congress Feb. 12. The nominations still are on the shelf.

So Chairman Seth W. Richardson and the other four members of the board are serving under temporary appointments. Because the Senate has not confirmed them, the Communist Party has challenged the legality of the panel's operations.

The law which set up the board calls for the registration of Communist and Communist-front organizations. The board has ordered hearings to start April 23 to determine whether the Communist party should be required to register. The party has refused to do so, in a move to test the legality of the registration provisions.

McCarran, the Judiciary Committee chairman, has named Senators Willis Smith (D-N.C.) and Watkins (R-Utah) to handle preliminary work on nominations. Smith reportedly is dealing with the White House at present regarding the F.B.I. reports on the appointees.

Besides Richardson, the chairman and a Republican, the board has these other members:

Former Republican Congressmen Charles M Lafollette of Indiana; Peter C. Brown of Brooklyn, N. Y. a former special assistant to the attorney general; David J. Coddaire of Haverhill, Mass., one-time member of the old maritime commission; and Kathryn McHale, sister of Frank McHale, Indiana Democratic National Committeeman.

Evening Verse
(For Your Scrapbook)
By DANIEL J. O'CONNOR

OUR STREET

The world is filled with countless streets
Where man has fashioned snug retreats . . .
Where Winter's snow and Summer's rain
May rest upon his window-pans.

F'rinstance—take this street of ours
Where neighbors smile thru' sun and showers
And friendly voices play a part
That never fails to warm the heart.

It's just a street where youngsters play
As days of childhood dance away
With small concern for streets afar
That lie beneath a distant star.

Who share a grief . . . and pass a joke . . .
They live in peace and earn the rest
That follows toil and daily zest.

It's just a street with houses small
Where sunbeams play and shadows fall
But life . . . and love . . . build lofty towers
That smile upon this street of ours.

MORTICIANS

Resigns Sunday

REV. RAYMOND PONTIER

The Rev. Raymond J. Pontier, pastor of the Reformed Church of the Comforter, Wynkoop Place, for seven and a half years, resigned his pastorate Sunday, effective the end of next month.

He will assume his new duties in June as pastor of the Dearpark Reformed Church in Port Jervis.

The Rev. Mr. Pontier came to Kingston following a charge at the Bern and Beaverdam Reformed Church where he spent two and one-half years. The Bern church is near Albany. He began his duties there following graduation from the New Brunswick Seminary at Rutgers University.

During his pastorate here, the Rev. Mr. Pontier has been associated with various Protestant organizations.

He has served as president and vice-president of the Kingston Ministerial Association and also as president of the now defunct Kingston Council of Churches. He also has been connected with the annual Protestant Preaching Missions. The pastor also has served as chairman of the United Advance of the Reformed Church in this area.

The pastor also has served as director of the Oakwood Youth Conference at Oakwood for two years. The school is near Poughkeepsie.

Woodstock Motel

closed that Thompson probably had been carrying approximately $200.

Found in Bed

The severely injured Thompson was found in his bed, clad in pajamas. Blood on the floor and the bed indicated he had lost a considerable quantity of blood from wounds on the right side of his head.

Investigating authorities found a blood stained, rusty hatchet in a waste paper basket in the kitchen of the house, which was apparently the assault weapon.

Time Not Fixed

Time of the assault has not been fixed.

Thompson was alone in his house adjacent the motel on the Tannery Brook road where Sully's Bridge crosses the Sawkill since Friday morning, when he drove his wife to Kingston, where she took a bus for New Jersey to attend a wedding, Sgt. Reilly said.

Neighbors said the lights in the Thompson residence were extinguished as usual at 10 p m. Friday.

Thompson was not seen again until about 7:45 p. m. Saturday, when his daughter, Lorraine, and her husband, Fred Craft, of West Hurley drove to the home after they had made several telephone calls late that afternoon and early in the evening without response.

The Crafts immediately notified Dr. Hans Cohn, who ordered Thompson taken to the hospital. A W. N. Conner ambulance was called, and state police were notified.

Large Detail Assigned

Troopers from Lake Katrine and Cpl. Ray Dunn of Phoenicia were first to arrive upon the scene. A large detail of troopers has been assigned to the case. Lt. J. J. Lawson arrived Saturday night, as well as Inspector C. Lawson of the Bureau of Criminal Investigation. Sgt. Reilly and Trooper John Metzer of the B.C.I. were assigned, as was Trooper Edward Rocke, Troop C Headquarters, Sidney, photographer and fingerprint expert. District Attorney Louis G. Bruhn consulted with police officials early Sunday morning.

Cellar Window Entrance

It was believed the assailant had entered through a cellar window, climbed the stairs, attacked Thompson and left through the front door.

Dr. Cohn said that Thompson received skull fractures and cuts about the scalp.

Mrs. Thompson, wife of the victim, was contacted by telephone Saturday evening and returned by taxi late that night.

Mr. and Mrs. Thompson purchased the Mill Stream Motel late in May, 1950, from Mr. and Mrs. Edward White. Thompson had formerly been in the contracting business in Brooklyn for 25 years.

Furniture Is Damaged

Furniture stored in a storm shed at 49 Cedar street, was damaged in a fire Saturday. Firemen were called at 7:34 p. m., from box 1211 at Broadway and Greenkill avenue, the house is owned by Anna DeMott and occupied by Kenneth Johnson, first floor, and Jesse Bell, second. A false alarm was sounded from Box 2221, Delaware and Lindsley avenues Sunday at 2:04 a. m.

The Lorelei is a rock in the Rhine near St. Goar, which gives off a remarkable echo.

Japanese Accorded Great Parting Tribute to General

Tokyo, April 16 (AP)—General Douglas MacArthur left Japan today amid a great tribute from the Japanese people he ruled and Allied forces he commanded.

His Constellation plane Bataan roared into the spring sunshine at 7:21 a. m. (5:21 p. m. EST., Sunday) ending an epoch that remained dramatic and ironic until the last moment.

Fourteen minutes later his successor, Lt. Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway, moved into the same plain headquarters office from which MacArthur ruled Japan for five years and seven months.

Five hours after General MacArthur left Tokyo he had a dramatic plane-to-plane discussion of the proposed Japanese peace treaty with John Foster Dulles, special state department adviser.

Dulles was flying to Tokyo to reassure the Japanese people that General MacArthur's departure would not affect the proposed pact.

Their planes passed high over the Pacific about noon, Tokyo time (10 p. m. Sunday, EST).

On his arrival in Tokyo, Dulles was met by General Ridgway.

He said MacArthur told him "I could count completely on any help and assistance that he could render."

Greatest Acclaim

Between 500,000 and one million people jammed the streets for a final glimpse of "Field Marshal Makas-Sar," as they call him. They paid tribute their own way, with reverent silence and polite bows, during the general's 12-mile motor trip to Haneda airport.

Emperor Hirohito called on the general at noon Sunday for a farewell visit that lasted 45 minutes. The emperor had visited MacArthur in the American Embassy ten times previously, but all those calls were on business matters.

Give 19-Gun Salute

Military associates gave MacArthur a 19-gun salute from stubby 105 mm. howitzers. They said he was entitled to two more rounds than other American generals because he had served as supreme commander for the allied powers in Japan.

And, finally, the air was cleared temporarily of busy military planes, so the Bataan could head directly for Hawaii.

The general could not have had a more triumphant exit.

MacArthur was plainly moved. He held himself with extra erectness. His face wore a quick, tense smile. He was in a hurry to leave.

Mrs. MacArthur seemed on the verge of tears.

Thirteen-year-old Arthur MacArthur seemed bewildered and uneasy.

The epoch that has become associated with MacArthur in Japan and the Orient ended quickly. It took 30 minutes for the drive to the airport and out of the lives of the Japanese. In 14 minutes more, the general completed his military ceremonies, greeted the dignitaries on hand and was in his plane.

Then it was gone—a dot in the cloud-flecked air, chased by jet fighter planes as playful as porpoises.

Maj. Martin W. Baumgaertner, a Protestant air force chaplain from Fort Wayne, Ind., put it this way:

". . . What impressed me most was the genuine regret in the faces of the people here. What I saw in their faces was, to me, the greatest tribute ever paid any living American in our time. The tears were really there."

The air was chilly and the smoke of cooking fires hung over the city, when MacArthur's black limousine slipped through the gates of the American Embassy at 6:28 a. m.

It glided through a crowd of Japanese, long assembled there, and slipped down the hill past a group of Japanese Boy Scouts.

General Stiffly Erect

MacArthur sat stiffly erect near the right window of the rear seat, his hand saluting the long lines of black-garbed Japanese police, who snapped individually to attention.

Mrs. MacArthur, at the opposite window, smiled and waved a white handkerchief Son Arthur had slipped down between them.

The Japanese were packed along the sidewalks—girls in bright spring kimonas, old women with bent shoulders, youngsters in shapeless black school uniforms.

A grandmother and her granddaughter had come from a town 50 miles away to represent their family. Others had walked miles to be on hand. The majority had left their houses around dawn.

"We just wanted to say goodbye and return the confidence which the general showed in the Japanese people," one of the two sisters remarked.

The Japanese did not applaud or cheer. They stared in a silence broken by what sounded like a prolonged and continuing sigh. They waved the Japanese flags that MacArthur restored to them—many having only crayoned red balls on white paper.

Not an untoward incident was reported throughout the day.

GOP Demands

plans and MacArthur would fly here direct from San Francisco. Martin said the general will address Congress Thursday afternoon (12:30 p. m., E.S.T.). He is due in San Francisco late Tuesday.

Author of Resolution

Martin is author of a resolution by which Congress formally will invite MacArthur to address a joint meeting. The resolution probably will be approved tomorrow; no significant opposition was in sight.

There still was doubt whether the five-star general would accept an invitation by the Senate Armed Services Committee to testify behind closed doors on the military situation in the Pacific.

He notified Chairman Russell (D.-Ga.) of the committee late Saturday it would not be appropriate for him to accept such an invitation while the full Congress was considering asking him to address a joint meeting. Russell agreed, but renewed his request for MacArthur to appear sometime later.

The Senate and House Foreign Relations Committees discussed issuing invitations of their own, or at least trying to join the armed services group.

Mr. Truman fired MacArthur early last Wednesday because, he said the general was "unable to give his wholehearted support" to the policies being followed by this country and the United Nations in the Korean war.

Calls It 'Hokum'

Mr. Truman told a Democratic party dinner here Saturday night the Republicans are putting out a lot of "political hokum" against the bi-partisan foreign policy "because they think if the country is confused enough they may be able to win the next election."

He made only indirect references to the MacArthur ouster, but it was evident he was replying to the foreign policy criticism stirred up by that action. His administration will never appease communism, he said.

The basic policy disagreement is whether a limited war in Korea such as the U.N. forces are now fighting is the best way to head off a new world war, or whether—as MacArthur contends — the U.N. forces should be allowed to hit the Communists in Manchuria and to use Chinese Nationalist troops in Formosa.

Senator Cain (R-Wash.) pointed up the split yesterday when he announced he will move in the Senate for a formal declaration of war against all U. N. enemies in Korea, including Manchuria.

"I intend to make such a resolution to find out where we are and where, for God's sake, we are going," Cain said

An administration supporter, Senator Sparkman (D-Ala.) suggested, meanwhile, that the forces on Formosa are being held in strategic reserve.

'Definite Place'

"There is a very definite place in the scheme of things for the use of Chiang Kai-Shek's troops but it is not here yet," Sparkman said. Both he and Cain spoke on radio forums.

Assistant Secretary of State Dean Rusk, echoing the position

the speech was there any reference to the Wake island meeting.

The statement Mr. Truman released at the conclusion of the Wake island conferences said that "primarily we talked about the problems in Korea." The President said "we also discussed the steps necessary to bring peace and security to the area as rapidly as possible in accordance with the intent of the resolution of the United Nations General Assembly and in order to get our armed forces out of Korea as soon as their United Nations mission is completed." Then, down near the end of the 700-word statement, the President said:

"I also asked General MacArthur to tell me his ideas on the ways in which the United States can most effectively promote its policies of assisting the United Nations to promote and maintain international peace and security throughout the Pacific area."

Mr. Truman didn't say what ideas MacArthur offered.

Were they ideas which subsequently expanded into the irreconcilable conflict which led Mr. Truman to say last Wednesday that he concluded MacArthur "is unable to give his wholehearted support to the policies of the United States government and of the United Nations * * *"?

Basically, the fundamental issues between the President and the general seems to include the question of the way to fight the war in Korea and whether the quarrel between the Communists and the free world is to be settled in Asia or in Europe.

Mr. Truman recoils from the thought of using Chiang Kai-shek's Nationalist forces, as MacArthur urges. So does the State Department. And so, in considerable measure, does the military command at the Pentagon.

The President worries also lest the Korean war be extended into a general conflict.

MacArthur is supposed to favor the idea of bombing and naval blockade of Communist China's coastal areas. The White House, State Department and perhaps the Pentagon's joint chiefs of staff fear this would trigger off general war, that Russia would seize upon the act as a pretext for striking.

Mr. Truman voiced in his Saturday night Jefferson-Jackson dinner day speech, contended an expansion of the Korean war would "lead to disaster."

In a radio talk yesterday, Rusk argued for fighting the Korean war to the point where Communists will give up their aggressive desires.

The Senate Armed Services Committee plans to undertake an inquiry into the MacArthur ouster, starting Wednesday with testimony from Secretary of Defense Marshall.

Senator McFarland of Arizona, the Democratic leader predicted that inquiry "will clarify as much as possible the military situation surrounding MacArthur's dismissal."

"I hope the committee can give the public the maximum amount of information which can be given in keeping with military security," he told reporters.

Otto Herman, 67, Is Suicide Victim

Otto Herman, 67, former operator of Herman's Grove, was found dead at his home in Maple Hill this morning of a self-inflicted shotgun wound in the chest, the sheriff's office reported.

County Investigator Leonard Belmore and Deputy Carl Cline found the shotgun tied to a bracket on the back porch of the house. Apparently he had placed his heart against the muzzle of the .12 guage shotgun and pushed the trigger with a stick, they reported.

His body was discovered at 7:45 a. m. today by his housekeeper, Evelyn Jurgen, who notified Justice of the Peace Edward Brodsky. Brodsky in turn notified the sheriff's office. Coroner Ernest A. Kelly was called, and investigated at the scene.

The sheriff's men said investigation disclosed Herman had been ailing for some time from a serious disease and that he was aware of his condition.

A verdict of death by suicide was given this morning by Coroner Kelly. Herman, a native of Germany, was a naturalized citizen of this country and lived in Maple Hill about 26 years. There are no close relatives in the area. The funeral will be held from the Ernest A. Kelly Funeral Home Wednesday at 2:30 p. m. Burial will be in Wiltwyck Cemetery.

Noisy Tributes

tions and individual admirers.

The Golden Gate city will give MacArthur an official hero's welcome sometime Wednesday. Plans for a Tuesday reception were cancelled yesterday when the general telegraphed that he would not arrive until after dark.

A formal reception at the airport, a parade into San Francisco, and greetings at the city hall had been scheduled.

In New York city, MacArthur is booked for a returning hero's parade on Broadway Friday. The general wired Mayor Vincent R. Impellitteri yesterday that he would arrive in New York late Thursday.

The Waldorf-Astoria Hotel, where the MacArthurs plan to stay, readied a huge five-star banner to hang from its flagstaff.

Columbia Broadcasting Company Correspondent George Herman reported yesterday from Tokyo that Mrs. MacArthur said their "current plan is to settle down in New York city."

Rep. Joe Martin (R.-Mass.) said in Washington yesterday that the general would fly to the nation's capital from San Francisco on Thursday to address Congress that afternoon. Later the general will fly to New York.

MacArthur's tentative itinerary previously scheduled his Washington appearance after the New York welcome.

suit and was grinning broadly as she descended.

The general was wearing a dark olive drab uniform with an Eisenhower battle jacket. His head gear was his famous sun-tan gold-leafed hat. Arthur was wearing a dark beanie cap and a red jacket.

Lt. Col. and Mrs. Sid Huff followed them out of the plane. Huff was one of the general's closest personal advisers in his Tokyo commands.

The general and his family were taken to Adm. Radford's guest house in the Pearl Harbor area to sleep and rest until time for Honolulu's welcoming ceremonies this afternoon.

Pace Shakes Hands

Pace shook hands vigorously with the general in the milling crowd. They stood there grinning broadly at each other and shaking hands.

Hickman spokesmen said MacArthur would not release any statements.

High above the clouds, the MacArthur's had ridden the winds across the Pacific as the big four-engine plane winged nonstop from Tokyo.

VFW Carnival Opens Tonight for Week

The La Cross Shows, sponsored by Joyce-Schirick Post, 1386, Veterans of Foreign Wars, will open a week's engagement at the Pan Am Field tonight starting at 6:30 o'clock.

The carnival, the first to arrive in Kingston this spring, features the "Mighty Curran" in a free act nightly.

A special matinee has been planned next Saturday at 2 p. m.

The carnival began its summer schedule last week in Middletown after being in winter quarters at St. Albans, Vt.

9W Drive-In Has Opening

The reopening of the 9W Drive-in Theatre Saturday attracted 1,500, Hervey Keator, new manager, announced at the close of the season's first show.

The line of automobiles at one time, it was reported, extended from the theatre to the viaduct on Albany avenue extension, and the manager reported 200 cars turned away.

Two speakers for the opening were County Attorney Frederick Stang and Alderman-at-large Joseph Kelly, representing the city. Free popcorn was distributed. The theatre's new manager is well known in Kingston and vicinity because of the several years he served as a member of the New York State Police.

White House

He has argued they are confidential and that he is under no obligation to furnish them to Congress.

The five-member subversive activities board was created under the internal security law which Congress enacted last September over Mr. Truman's veto.

The President first sent his nominations to the Senate last November. The judiciary committee took no action, so Mr. Truman resubmitted them to the new Congress Feb. 12. The nominations still are on the shelf.

So Chairman Seth W. Richardson and the other four members of the board are serving under temporary appointments. Because the Senate has not confirmed them, the Communist Party has challenged the legality of the panel's operations.

The law which set up the board calls for the registration of Communist and Communist-front organizations. The board has ordered hearings to start April 23 to determine whether the Communist party should be required to register. The party has refused to do so, in a move to test the legality of the registration provisions.

McCarran, the Judiciary Committee chairman, has named Senators Willis Smith (D-N.C.) and Watkins (R-Utah) to handle preliminary work on nominations. Smith reportedly is dealing with the White House at present regarding the F.B.I. reports on the appointees.

Besides Richardson, the chairman and a Republican, the board has these other members:

Business Executive Kills Two, Self In Jealous Craze

Grand Rapids, Mich., April 16 (AP)—"I won't hurt your mother," a jealous-crazed business executive reassured his worried 12-year-old son as he fingered his rifle early Sunday.

But a few minutes later wealthy Robert W. Leroy, 39, his pert, blonde wife, Wayne, 38, and Arthur Westlund, 50, a former neighbor from Scarsdale, N. Y., lay dead—apparent victims of a love triangle dating back a year.

Plucky Robert Leroy, Jr., stood beside his father's bleeding body and telephoned police.

Then he hurried to his younger brother and sister to shield them from the grim tragedy.

On Outskirts of City

The scene was the swank, two-level home of the Leroys, overlooking a private lake on the outskirts of Grand Rapids. They had rented it after moving here from Scarsdale last September.

Westlund, who lived with his wife and daughter in the apartment building occupied by the Leroy family in Scarsdale, was visiting for the week-end.

He and the Leroy couple had been drinking when the shooting occurred.

Under Sheriff Arnold Pigorsh said Leroy first killed Westlund and his wife, then put the muzzle of the .32 caliber rifle in his own mouth and pulled the trigger.

The deaths were ruled a double murder and suicide.

A longhand note signed by Leroy said his wife "admitted infidelity on several occasions with Art Westlund."

Leroy, a former president of the Paper Corporation of America, headed a Michigan tire distributing firm. Westlund, a Scarsdale neighbor, was national sales manager for Fisk Tires.

Heard Noise Outside

Young Leroy told Pigorsh he heard a noise outside his bedroom window and saw his father carrying a rifle.

"Dad, what are you doing out there?" he called.

"You remember the trouble your mother had with Mr. Westlund in New York?" he said his father replied, and then promised:

"I'm not going to do anything."

The boy said he then went back to sleep, but was awakened by a rifle blast. Going upstairs, he found Westlund lying face down on the hallway floor.

His mother, later found clad in black lace underwear and a white silk dressing gown, was crouched over Westlund's body, he said. His father, standing in the kitchen, shouted at him:

"Go back to your room. I won't hurt your mother."

The boy said he left again, but shortly after, heard three more shots.

Running back to the kitchen, he found his parents' bodies sprawled on the floor. He called police, then took his brother, Roger, 6, and sister, Sharri, 8, to the home of a neighbor.

Ex-Actress Is Robbed

New York, April 16 (AP)—Robbers entered former film actress Hope Hampton's Park avenue mansion from the roof early yesterday, found no one at home, and left by the front door with loot valued at $335,000. The blonde silent-film actress said the haul included $300,000 worth of gems, a silver-blue mink coat worth $15,000, and $15,000 in cash. Police said an additional $5,000 in cash belonging to a house guest also was stolen. Most of the jewelry, police quoted Miss Hampton as saying, was not insured. The jewelry and $10,000 in cash were carried away by the robbers in a small safe.

U. S. FINDS OUT HOW MILD A CIGARETTE CAN BE!

After All the Mildness Tests, CAMEL Leads All Others by Billions!

Latest Published Figures Show Camels have Greatest Lead in 25 years!

There have been quick tests, trick tests and the sensible, thorough 30-day test for determining the mildness of a cigarette. The smokers of America, eager to find out which cigarette suits them best, have tried many of these mildness tests.

Now, after all this mildness testing, Camel has its biggest lead in 25 years of cigarette history! More people smoke Camels than any other cigarette by many billions of cigarettes per year! These statements are based on the latest published figures.

Find out for yourself how mild a cigarette can be. Make the thorough test of mildness. Smoke only Camels for thirty days. You'll enjoy every rich, flavorful puff. And you'll have proof of how mild Camels are, how well they get along with your throat!

And you'll discover why Camel is America's most popular cigarette by many billions!

C for Crawford...C for Camels. On the stage, "Goodbye, My Fancy" was seen by thousands; the movie version, with Joan Crawford as its brilliant, beautiful star, will be seen by millions! Miss Crawford enjoys the cigarette so many of her fans do—America's most popular cigarette, Camel. "Camels have a wonderful flavor and they agree with my throat."

NOTED THROAT SPECIALISTS REPORT IN COAST-TO-COAST 30-DAY MILDNESS TEST:

Not One Single Case of Throat Irritation due to smoking Camels!

How thorough can a mildness test be? In a coast-to-coast test, hundreds of men and women smoked only Camels for 30 days. Each week, noted throat specialists examined their throats—2,470 examinations in all—and reported not one single case of throat irritation due to smoking Camels!

WHO IS THE BEST PITCHER IN THE AMERICAN LEAGUE?

IS IT VIC RASCHI? Vic finished last year with a .724 record... Vic says the best cigarette in any league is Camel. "You can't beat 'em for flavor—and they're mild!"

COULD BE BOB LEMON. Bob won 20 or more games in each of the last three years! Bob, a converted infielder, has been converted to Camels. "Camels are great tasting and mild."

OR MEL PARNELL who won 25 games in 1949 and might do it again... Like so many baseball stars, Mel is a Camel smoker. "I like the taste and they get on fine with my throat."

U. S. FINDS OUT HOW MILD A CIGARETTE CAN BE!

After All the Mildness Tests, CAMEL Leads All Others by Billions!

C for Crawford...C for Camels. On the stage, "Goodbye, My Fancy" was seen by thousands; the movie version, with Joan Crawford as its brilliant, beautiful star, will be seen by millions! Miss Crawford enjoys the cigarette so many of her fans do—America's most popular cigarette, Camel. "Camels have a wonderful flavor and they agree with my throat."

NOTED THROAT SPECIALISTS REPORT IN COAST-TO-COAST 30-DAY MILDNESS TEST:

Not One Single Case of Throat Irritation due to smoking Camels!

How thorough can a mildness test be? In a coast-to-coast test, hundreds of men and women smoked only Camels for 30 days. Each week, noted throat specialists examined their throats—2,470 examinations in all—and reported not one single case of throat irritation due to smoking Camels!

Latest Published Figures Show Camels have Greatest Lead in 25 years!

There have been quick tests, trick tests and the sensible, thorough 30-day test for determining the mildness of a cigarette. The smokers of America, eager to find out which cigarette suits them best, have tried many of these mildness tests.

Now, after all this mildness testing, Camel has its biggest lead in 25 years of cigarette history! More people smoke Camels than any other cigarette by many billions of cigarettes per year! These statements are based on the latest published figures.

Find out for yourself how mild a cigarette can be. Make the thorough test of mildness. Smoke only Camels for thirty days. You'll enjoy every rich, flavorful puff. And you'll have proof of how mild Camels are, how well they get along with your throat!

And you'll discover why Camel is America's most popular cigarette by many billions!

R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Co., Winston-Salem, N. C.

WHO IS THE BEST PITCHER IN THE AMERICAN LEAGUE?

IS IT VIC RASCHI? Vic finished last year with a .724 record... Vic says the best cigarette in any league is Camel. "You can't beat 'em for flavor—and they're mild!"

COULD BE BOB LEMON. Bob won 20 or more games in each of the last three years! Bob, a converted infielder, has been converted to Camels. "Camels are great tasting and mild."

OR MEL PARNELL who won 25 games in 1949 and might do it again... Like so many baseball stars, Mel is a Camel smoker. "I like the taste and they get on fine with my throat."

LETTERS TO CONGRESS

Indications that local residents are writing to their senators and congressman expressing their opinions and desires on proposed legislation before the national legislators may be seen in the number of requests received by The Freeman for the names of the lawmakers in Washington, D. C.

As a service to the readers of The Freeman, who may desire to contact the two United States Senators from New York State and our Representative in Congress from the 30th Congressional District, which comprises the counties of Ulster, Dutchess, Columbia, Greene and Schoharie, we are publishing their names and party affiliation:

U. S. Senators
Irving M. Ives, Republican
Herbert H. Lehman, Democrat-Liberal
Representative in Congress
J. Ernest Wharton, Republican

The address of both the senators and the congressman is Washington, D. C.

TESTING DRIVERS

The search for more accurate and informative methods and devices for testing the ability of automobile drivers goes on. A current step forward is an apparatus which can give the person being tested the illusion of actually being in a changing traffic situation, and can measure his reactions to hazards and evaluate their probable results. Demonstration of the device has been started in New York.

This machine seems to come close to finding out what a person really would do in response to a given danger. Driver training for some time has dealt with the dangerous situations which are likely to arise on the road, and with the courses of action which are best for each situation. The student's learning of these perils and the things which should be done about them are tested with questions. It is well known, however, that when danger really appears and fright grips the heart, a person does not always do what he has been taught to do. Usually there is no way of knowing until the danger appears; then it may be too late.

Great progress has been made in recent years in devising machines and techniques which can measure a person's skills, abilities and reflexes without actually exposing him and others to danger. It is possible for a driver to learn a good deal about himself. The next step is to bring about more thorough and more frequent testing of drivers, as a standard practice. There are two great obstacles, the cost of testing and the reluctance of drivers.

The safety of himself, his family and others may some day suddenly depend on how well a driver has been tested, on how nearly his driven's license reflects his ability to drive. Once drivers really appreciate that fact they probably will be eager for good testing programs, and quite ready to pay for them.

REFUSAL FROM BYRNES

There is one man who says he is not going to run for president. That is Governor James F. Byrnes of South Carolina. He is at odds with the Truman administration largely because of the civil rights issue, but also on other grounds. Because of his long list of distinguished offices, some Dixiecrats have been making overtures to him to be their presidential candidate in 1952. This he now positively declines to do.

Byrnes may be actuated by party loyalty, or by a distaste for such a public wrangle as might easily come if President Truman's former secretary of state tried to defeat the Democrats, which would result in putting a Republican in the White House.

The Dixiecrat effort to do this failed in 1948. The rebellious party carried four states, including Alabama, where President Truman was ruled off the ballot and his supporters given no chance to vote for him. Of the other three, Byrnes' South Carolina has just repealed the poll tax. This means a larger electorate in 1952, and is expected to enhance Democratic chances. The failure of the 1948 bolt must prompt its leaders to look for a stronger candidate next year. Byrnes would be ideal from their viewpoint, and his refusal must be a severe disappointment to them.

Termites do more than $50,000,000 damage yearly, we are told. Which shows what can result when one bites off all he can chew.

'These Days'

By GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY

THE STAND WE MUST TAKE

Mrs. Emily M. Bullitt writes the editor of the "Louisville Courier-Journal" about me as follows:

"The other night Mr. Sokolsky riddled our government with charges of inefficiency, cunning and a program Red to the teeth. Not content with attacking the present regime, he encompassed the past 18 years.

"This is a free country. We have chosen our leaders. We have free speech. Just how far one may go in attacking his country in time of extreme danger I do not know. There is such a thing as treason. People have been hanged for it."

Yes, people have been hanged for many things and burned at the stake and tortured. But that never solved anybody's problems. It only meant that one person was hurt, but the question of truth remained.

I did not make World War II nor did I compose the compromises of Teheran and Yalta. At most I can report them and their consequences. But even if I did not report them, the consequences would be the same. There are 60,000 casualties in Korea who are witnesses to those consequences.

Someone is to blame for the Korean war. There is a long history of communism in China, at least 30 years of it. I know many of those men, having seen them grow up from schoolboys to fanatical Marxists. The State Department has called them "agrarian reformers," but they were Marxists, their leaders were trained in Russia and whoever says it differently is not telling the truth.

It does no good to try to suppress the truth to save anyone's political skin. What we need to save is our country and our civilization.

Our civilization has been developing for some 6,000 years around the hard core of revealed natural law. Really, Mrs. Bullitt, it would matter little if I were hanged; the natural law will survive little folks like us, who may desert the truth to serve our convenience and necessity. No extreme danger faces our country except the danger that our people have departed from our traditions and have deserted their God for a life of ease and softness.

You worry about my speaking of "inefficiency, cunning and a program Red to the teeth." This is my business. For instance, I would like to know why we need to have the inflation through which this country is now passing when the government is completely in control of the movement of currency and has the power to control prices and wages.

Look at the slow motion of control. Now, I do not advocate a controlled economy, being a good, old fashioned 19th Century liberal, but it has been voted that we are to have a controlled economy. Actually what we have is anarchy, an economy controlled neither by the law of supply and demand nor by government fiat but by compromise which squeeze our people between hight cost of living and high taxes.

Would you say, Mrs. Bullitt, that I should not report about these matters or should I reveal in all the tantrums of commissions and fixes and deals and trades which give to our era the title of "The Big Fix"?

I hope that partisanship does not blind any of us to the moral nihilism into which we have drifted. This nihilism is marked not only by the acceptance of corruption which would have shamed another generation and stirred anger among our people, but also by a lack of personal dignity and propriety even in high places.

We shall, of course, not live long enough to know whether your judgment is correct, or mine. History has its own curious way of visiting the errors of one generation upon its grandchildren, just as the accumulations of one generation are often enjoyed by another—and are often wasted and destroyed by another.

When a generation shows inadequate respect for natural law, for the laws of God; when adultery becomes a vogue and murder a syndicate, and when children teach their parents, and those who manage the state are not ashamed of corruption—then it is not too courageous to cast aside convenience and to protest and be counted.

You may say that I take myself and my work too seriously. Yet, since I was a boy at college, three generations of youth have been to war. Throughout the world there is a struggle between those who believe in God's natural law and those who believe in Marx's dialectical materialism. In this fight, sides must be chosen.

That Body of Yours

By James W. Barton, M.D.

USE OF GLUTAMIC ACID

Some years ago I was requested by the government to make a physical examination of the inmates of a boys' reformatory and also of the inmates of an institution for mentally defective children.

During the course of the examination of the inmates of the boys' reformatory I learned the majority of the boys came from broken homes, in which one or both parents were dead or had deserted the home. The worse cases were those in which the mother had died while the boy was very young.

Most of the boys were of average intelligence but my associate who made mental tests found that there were a few boys who were not up to the average and would do better in the institution for mental defectives. Accordingly, they were transferred.

In examining the children at the mental defective institution, we tried to find some who were up to, or almost up to, average intelligence, but were unable to find even one. Today, it is possible for some backward children or even mental defectives to raise their intelligence quotients, learn useful occupations and become members of their communities and thus give to and get more out of life. This is being accomplished in a number of cases by the use of glutamic acid.

Some months ago I reported a series of cases in which, by the use of glutamic acid, a number of mentally defective children had their intelligence quotients raised so that they became useful members of the school. They did odd jobs, took better care of themselves and their clothes and were more obedient.

In the New York State Medical Journal, Drs. F. T. Zimmerman and B. B. Burgemeister report that glutamic acid treatment for one year raised the intelligence quotients of 34 per cent of 35 borderline or high-grade defective children to normal levels.

While the above is most encouraging to parents of mentally defective children, it must be remembered that these cases were borderline (nearly normal) and only about 12 of the 35 were thus helped and 23 were not. But even with failure in two of every three, glutamic acid treatment should be given a trial. And when glutamic acid does help, it raises the intelligence quotients 10 to 15 points and usually within one year.

Okay, Mister, Do Your Stuff

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

(Ed. Note — Today's column takes the form of a letter from Drew Pearson to Sen. Robert Taft on the MacArthur-Truman controversy.)

Honorable Robert A. Taft
U. S. Senate
Washington, D. C.

Dear Senator Taft:

When your father was President of the United States, my late father-in-law, a general and a military man all his life, had about the same opinion of him that Douglas MacArthur has of the present occupant of the White House. In fact, your father, whom history records as having done a fine job as secretary of war, incurred the wrath of many military men, because he both kept within his budget and kept the military in their place.

He fully grasped the fundamental fact around which our constitution is written—that ours is a civilian government, in which the military take orders from civilians. He even carried it out so conscientiously that, when your father was secretary of war and used to come to the White House, Teddy Roosevelt would jokingly tell Mrs. Roosevelt to put away the carving knife for fear my father-in-law, a cousin and aide of T.R., might use it against Taft.

I mention this because you, of all Senate leaders, are in a position to grasp and understand the serious issue which faces the country today in the MacArthur-Truman controversy.

I mention it because the easiest thing in the world today is to join the wolfpack and kick Harry Truman in the pants. You, however, have not attained your present position by taking the easy way.

And you, in view of your father's record, in view of your own record as a champion of the constitution, can better understand this fundamental issue than any other man I know.

Take Off the Uniform

That issue is the Constitution of the United States—which provides that, if a general wants to run the government, he must take off his uniform and become a civilian like the rest of us. He cannot have the perquisites and protection of the uniform and give orders to the White House too.

Furthermore, you cannot have a general who has been running for President and who may still have political ambitions overruling the President of the United States. That also is implicit in the constitution

As far as President Truman is concerned, my personal feelings toward him are about the same as yours. He has castigated me just as much as he has you. But there is a difference between respect for the office of President and respect for the man. The former is something which must not be soiled or sullied by unfair Senate debate. And the office of President carries with it not only the power but the obligation, under the constitution, to remove a general who challenges the constitution.

People are easily confused these days, but you can help to prevent their confusion. And while it might be popular and even healthy to impeach Harry Truman, do it on the grounds of corruption in his administration. There you might be on solid ground. Don't do it on an issue for which your father and every other President has kept the torch of civilian government burning—the principle that no soldier can overrule a civilian elected by the people.

Or, if you will, impeach him on the issue of failure in China.

It might be healthy if you or Senator Wherry introduced a resolution embodying the exact terms of the MacArthur letter to Joe Martin, and let the Senate debate it—debate the bombing of Chinese bases, the landing of Chiang Kai-shek's troops on the mainland and the full probabilities and objectives of war with China.

This is an important, vital question upon which we should have full debate, upon which the public should be fully informed. I hope such a resolution will be introduced.

But do not, I urge, confuse the issue by challenging the basic principle of our constitution in regard to civilian rule.

Europe Watches U. S. A.

I have just returned from a trip through Europe. And I can report that you cannot travel abroad these days without sensing how vital is the issue now before our country. Many of the European nations have been through the struggle between military and civilian rule. They have seen the elected Parliaments of Italy and Germany weaken. They have seen the people—shaken in their confidence of the Democratic system, confused by unfair debate—turn to military dictatorships.

It is out of such confusion, when nations have weak civilian leaders and strong military leaders, that dictatorships spring.

In my opinion our country today faces a most dangerous crisis. Tempers are running high. We do not have a strong man in the White House. We do have a strong military man, who has sought to be in the White House.

Now, it is easy to jump on an unpopular President — as your family well remembers. It is easy to jump on him and to muddy up public opinion with confusing issues—such as the so-called Ballinger scandals which led to the overwhelming defeat of your father, and which history later proved not to have been scandals after all.

It is also easy to fool the public with a lot of phony flag-waving on an issue which your father and no other President worth his salt would have stood for—namely, permitting a general to thumb his nose at the civilian branch of the government and get away with it.

But the times today are too dangerous. And it is in days such as these, when we do not have the most astute brains in or around the White House, that we need leadership and courage such as yours outside the White House to keep us on an even keel.

Respectfully yours,
DREW PEARSON.

State Department Is Working Out Plan to Appease Communist China, Despite Truman

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, April 16 — President Truman keeps on denying in his speeches that there is any appeasement of the Communists intended but the fact remains that in the department of state a plan to do what really amounts to an appeasement of Communist China is being hatched.

The first public intimation that appeasement was in the wind came, strangely enough, in a White House release of a message that was sent by the joint chiefs of staff on March 20th to General MacArthur. The real purpose in releasing the message — if it wasn't done accidentally — was to show that General MacArthur jumped the gun, so to speak, when he broadcast directly his appeal to the Chinese Communist military commander to agree to an armistice. The stories have been widely disseminated by administration supporters that MacArthur stole the thunder of the government back home by making an appeal to his opposite military commander similar to that which the Department of State intended to make through the U.N. and that he followed the wording closely. It has been asserted, moreover, that the policy in question was cleared with the United Nations and that General MacArthur spilled the beans.

There is not a scintilla of truth in either of these allegations. The message of March 20th is bound to become a historical document not only because it shows there was no United Nations policy or decision by the American government but because it shows the state department was telling MacArthur to deploy his troops in some sort of confusing military operation whereby he didn't advance but yet maintained contact with the enemy while the diplomats were to talk for a few weeks.

Here is the text of that message:

"To the Commander in Chief, Far East from the Joint Chiefs of Staff in Washington.

"State (Department) planning presidential announcement shortly that, with (the) clearing of the bulk of South Korea of aggressors, United Nations (are) now prepared to discuss conditions of settlement in Korea. Strong feeling persists that further diplomatic effort toward settlement should be made before any advance with major forces north of (the) Thirty-eighth Parallel. Time will be required to determine diplomatic reactions and permit new negotiations that may develop. Recognizing that (the 38th) Parallel has no military significance, (the) state (department) has asked the joint chiefs of staff what authority you should have to permit sufficient freedom of action for (the) next few weeks to provide security for (the) U.N. forces and maintain contact with (the) enemy. Your recommendations (are) desired."

The foregoing shows how speculative and vague the State Department's plan was. It does not reveal the basis, if any, which the Department of State had for virtually ordering American troops to stand still and be shot at while diplomats talked even though the enemy had not agreed to hold his fire. Every piece of evidence thus far from press dispatches and from Trygve Lie, secretary-general of the United Nations, reveals that the Communist Chinese government at Peiping has rebuffed every effort to talk peace and has lately refused even to make appointments at the Chinese Foreign Office with diplomatic representatives there from Britain, India and Sweden to talk about the subject. Why was the Department of State so anxious to stop our side from fighting while it did a job of palavering with other governments? The only answer is that an appeasement program is in the works. Here are its details:

A "cease fire" line in a zigzag direction a few miles north and also a few miles south of the 38th Parallel is to be the armistice line. This is supposed to be our "victory" line. When we gain that line, as General Ridgway in his political statement on March 12th said, America and the United Nations will have gained a "victory."

The rest, it seems, is to be left to diplomacy. Thus is the Korean republic to be thrown to the Communist wolves. Thus also is the U.N. to accept the 38th Parallel line as all that it ever achieved since last June against the aggressor even though the U.N. branded Red China as an aggressor and is supposed to have resolved at one time to liberate all Korea. But the new plan presupposes that no liberation by military means can be achieved and that attainment of the barrier at the 38th Parallel is the substitute.

The legal basis for the plan is that, our "military objective" having been attained, the "political objective" is a matter for U.N. determination. The idea of an "independent, united Korea" is to be left to diplomatic negotiations with Red China presumably over a long period of time. Thus 60,000 casualties will have been suffered by the American government just to maintain the 38th Parallel and to admit that the U.N. could not push the aggressor out of Korea but must let him stay where he started from last June—ready, perhaps, to jump across the parallel at any time. The Red Chinese have said all foreign troops must be withdrawn and this presumably means the Communist North Koreans of course will remain. That's the appeasement plan. It will of course be denied that this is appeasement. But this this was what was planned before General MacArthur was fired. Maybe it will not materialize now because American public opinion may prevent it from being consummated.

PLATTEKILL

Plattekill, April 16 — The dramatic committee of the Plattekill Grange was in charge of a minstrel show given by members of the Rainbow Minstrel Association of the Associate Reformed Church in Newburgh Monday night. Thirty-six people participated in the show, including the interlocutor, the Rev. Niles M. Poff, pastor of the Newburgh Church. Dancing specialties and baton twirling were features of the program. Cowboy ballads, guitar selections, dramatic novelties and solos also were enjoyed. Proceeds were shared by the Association and the Grange.

Mrs. Milton Van Duser has been appointed as chairman of the Plattekill district of the cancer fund campaign, by Mrs. Lillian Courter, chairman of the drive in the Town of Plattekill.

Members of the Plattekill Fire Department are planning a banquet to be attended by firemen and members of their families. Plans were discussed at a recent meeting and an early report will be given of the results.

The Plattekill district of the annual Red Cross campaign exceeded its quota of $200 by $20, the committee reports. Mrs. Edward Neuwirth was chairman assisted by Mrs. Sydney Green, Mrs. Edmund Feldt, Mrs. Lynn Morris and Miss Florence Moran.

Mrs. Rose Denardo of the Denardo apartments is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Ida Amore in Brooklyn.

Prof. and Mrs. Charles Wagley of New York have purchased the property of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Stockman. The new owners plan their purchase as a summer home. Prof. Wagley is a sociology instructor in Columbia University.

Mrs. Milton Van Duser attended a meeting of the public health nursing committee of the town of Plattekill recently at the home of Mrs. Russell Minard in Clintondale. The May meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Fred Bernard in Modena.

Miss Burnette McNary and Myron Wood of Philadelphia, Pa., Mrs Jane Roe, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Caverly of Cortland were among recent visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Willett Deyo.

Mrs. Willet Deyo was a visitor in Newburgh Friday.

Demonstration of the device has been started in New York.

This machine seems to come close to finding out what a person really would do in response to a given danger. Driver training for some time has dealt with the dangerous situations which are likely to arise on the road, and with the courses of action which are best for each situation. The student's learning of these perils and the things which should be done about them are tested with questions. It is well known, however, that when danger really appears and fright grips the heart, a person does not always do what he has been taught to do. Usually there is no way of knowing until the danger appears; then it may be too late.

Great progress has been made in recent years in devising machines and techniques which can measure a person's skills, abilities and reflexes without actually exposing him and others to danger. It is possible for a driver to learn a good deal about himself. The next step is to bring about more thorough and more frequent testing of drivers, as a standard practice. There are two great obstacles, the cost of testing and the reluctance of drivers.

The safety of himself, his family and others may some day suddenly depend on how well a driver has been tested, on how nearly his driver's license reflects his ability to drive. Once drivers really appreciate that fact they probably will be eager for good testing programs, and quite ready to pay for them.

REFUSAL FROM BYRNES

There is one man who says he is not going to run for president. That is Governor James F. Byrnes of South Carolina. He is at odds with the Truman administration largely because of the civil rights issue, but also on other grounds. Because of his long list of distinguished offices, some Dixiecrats have been making overtures to him to be their presidential candidate in 1952. This he now positively declines to do.

Byrnes may be actuated by party loyalty, or by a distaste for such a public wrangle as might easily come if President Truman's former secretary of state tried to defeat the Democrats, which would result in putting a Republican in the White House.

The Dixiecrat effort to do this failed in 1948. The rebellious party carried four states, including Alabama, where President Truman was ruled off the ballot and his supporters given no chance to vote for him. Of the other three, Byrnes' South Carolina has just repealed the poll tax. This means a larger electorate in 1952, and is expected to enhance Democratic chances. The failure of the 1948 bolt must prompt its leaders to look for a stronger candidate next year. Byrnes would be ideal from their viewpoint, and his refusal must be a severe disappointment to them.

Termites do more than $50,000,000 damage yearly, we are told. Which shows what can result when one bites off all he can chew.

'These Days'

By GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY

THE STAND WE MUST TAKE

Mrs. Emily M. Bullitt writes the editor of the "Louisville Courier-Journal" about me as follows:

"The other night Mr. Sokolsky riddled our government with charges of inefficiency, cunning and a program Red to the teeth. Not content with attacking the present regime, he encompassed the past 18 years.

"This is a free country. We have chosen our leaders. We have free speech. Just how far one may go in attacking his country in time of extreme danger I do not know. There is such a thing as treason. People have been hanged for it."

Yes, people have been hanged for many things and burned at the stake and tortured. But that never solved anybody's problems. It only meant that one person was hurt, but the question of truth remained.

I did not make World War II nor did I compose the compromises of Teheran and Yalta. At most I can report them and their consequences. But even if I did not report them, the consequences would be the same. There are 60,000 casualties in Korea who are witnesses to those consequences.

Someone is to blame for the Korean war. There is a long history of communism in China, at least 30 years of it. I know many of those men, having seen them grow up from schoolboys to fanatical Marxists. The State Department has called them "agrarian reformers," but they were Marxists, their leaders were trained in Russia and whoever says it differently is not telling the truth.

It does no good to try to suppress the truth to save anyone's political skin. What we need to save is our country and our civilization.

Our civilization has been developing for some 6,000 years around the hard core of revealed natural law. Really, Mrs. Bullitt, it would matter little if I were hanged; the natural law will survive little folks like us, who may desert the truth to serve our convenience and necessity. No extreme danger faces our country except the danger that our people have departed from our traditions and have deserted their God for a life of ease and softness.

You worry about my speaking of "inefficiency, cunning and a program Red to the teeth." This is my business. For instance, I would like to know why we need to have the inflation through which this country is now passing when the government is completely in control of the movement of currency and has the power to control prices and wages.

Look at the slow motion of control. Now, I do not advocate a controlled economy, being a good, old fashioned 19th Century liberal, but it has been voted that we are to have a controlled economy. Actually what we have is anarchy, an economy controlled neither by the law of supply and demand nor by government fiat but by compromise which squeeze our people between hight cost of living and high taxes.

Would you say, Mrs. Bullitt, that I should not report about these matters or should I reveal in all the tantrums of commissions and fixes and deals and trades which give to our era the title of "The Big Fix"?

I hope that partisanship does not blind any of us to the moral nihilism into which we have drifted. This nihilism is marked not only by the acceptance of corruption which would have shamed another generation and stirred anger among our people, but also by a lack of personal dignity and propriety even in high places.

We shall, of course, not live long enough to know whether your judgment is correct, or mine. History has its own curious way of visiting the errors of one generation upon its grandchildren, just as the accumulations of one generation are often enjoyed by another—and are often wasted and destroyed by another.

When a generation shows inadequate respect for natural law, for the laws of God; when adultery becomes a vogue and murder a syndicate, and when children teach their parents, and those who manage the state are not ashamed of corruption—then it is not too courageous to cast aside convenience and to protest and be counted.

You may say that I take myself and my work too seriously. Yet, since I was a boy at college, three generations of youth have been to war. Throughout the world there is a struggle between those who believe in God's natural law and those who believe in Marx's dialectical materialism. In this fight, sides must be chosen.

That Body of Yours

By James W. Barton, M.D.

USE OF GLUTAMIC ACID

Some years ago I was requested by the government to make a physical examination of the inmates of a boys' reformatory and also of the inmates of an institution for mentally defective children.

During the course of the examination of the inmates of the boys' reformatory I learned the majority of the boys came from broken homes, in which one or both parents were dead or had deserted the home. The worse cases were those in which the mother had died while the boy was very young.

Most of the boys were of average intelligence but my associate who made mental tests found that there were a few boys who were not up to the average and would do better in the institution for mental defectives. Accordingly, they were transferred.

In examining the children at the mental defective institution, we tried to find some who were up to, or almost up to, average intelligence, but were unable to find even one. Today, it is possible for some backward children or even mental defectives to raise their intelligence quotients, learn useful occupations and become members of their communities and thus give to and get more out of life. This is being accomplished in a number of cases by the use of glutamic acid.

Some months ago I reported a series of cases in which, by the use of glutamic acid, a number of mentally defective children had their intelligence quotients raised so that they became useful members of the school. They did odd jobs, took better care of themselves and their clothes and were more obedient.

In the New York State Medical Journal, Drs. F. T. Zimmerman and B. B. Burgemeister report that glutamic acid treatment for one year raised the intelligence quotients of 34 per cent of 35 borderline or high-grade defective children to normal levels.

While the above is most encouraging to parents of mentally defective children, it must be remembered that these cases were borderline (nearly normal) and only about 12 of the 35 were thus helped and 23 were not. But even with failure in two of every three, glutamic acid treatment should be given a trial. And when glutamic acid does help, it raises the intelligence quotients 10 to 15 points and usually within one year.

Okay, Mister, Do Your Stuff

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

(Ed. Note — Today's column takes the form of a letter from Drew Pearson to Sen. Robert Taft on the MacArthur-Truman controversy.)

Honorable Robert A. Taft
U. S. Senate
Washington, D. C.

Dear Senator Taft:

When your father was President of the United States, my late father-in-law, a general and a military man all his life, had about the same opinion of him that Douglas MacArthur has of the present occupant of the White House. In fact, your father, whom history records as having done a fine job as secretary of war, incurred the wrath of many military men, because he both kept within his budget and kept the military in their place.

He fully grasped the fundamental fact around which our constitution is written—that ours is a civilian government, in which the military take orders from civilians. He even carried it out so conscientiously that, when your father was secretary of war and used to come to the White House, Teddy Roosevelt would jokingly tell Mrs. Roosevelt to put away the carving knife for fear my father-in-law, a cousin and aide of T.R., might use it against Taft.

I mention this because you, of all Senate leaders, are in a position to grasp and understand the serious issue which faces the country today in the MacArthur-Truman controversy.

I mention it because the easiest thing in the world today is to join the wolfpack and kick Harry Truman in the pants. You, however, have not attained your present position by taking the easy way.

And you, in view of your father's record, in view of your own record as a champion of the constitution, can better understand this fundamental issue than any other man I know.

Take Off the Uniform

That issue is the Constitution of the United States—which provides that, if a general wants to run the government, he must take off his uniform and become a civilian like the rest of us. He cannot have the perquisites and protection of the uniform and give orders to the White House too.

Furthermore, you cannot have a general who has been running for President and who may still have political ambitions overruling the President of the United States. That also is implicit in the constitution

As far as President Truman is concerned, my personal feelings toward him are about the same as yours. He has castigated me just as much as he has you. But there is a difference between respect for the office of President and respect for the man. The former is something which must not be soiled or sullied by unfair Senate debate. And the office of President carries with it not only the power but the obligation, under the constitution, to remove a general who challenges the constitution.

People are easily confused these days, but you can help to prevent their confusion. And while it might be popular and even healthy to impeach Harry Truman, do it on the grounds of corruption in his administration. There you might be on solid ground. Don't do it on an issue for which your father and every other President has kept the torch of civilian government burning—the principle that no soldier can overrule a civilian elected by the people.

Or, if you will, impeach him on the issue of failure in China.

It might be healthy if you or Senator Wherry introduced a resolution embodying the exact terms of the MacArthur letter to Joe Martin, and let the Senate debate it—debate the bombing of Chinese bases, the landing of Chiang Kai-shek's troops on the mainland and the full probabilities and objectives of war with China.

This is an important, vital question upon which we should have full debate, upon which the public should be fully informed. I hope such a resolution will be introduced.

But do not, I urge, confuse the issue by challenging the basic principle of our constitution in regard to civilian rule.

Europe Watches U. S. A.

I have just returned from a trip through Europe. And I can report that you cannot travel abroad these days without sensing how vital is the issue now before our country. Many of the European nations have been through the struggle between military and civilian rule. They have seen the elected Parliaments of Italy and Germany weaken. They have seen the people—shaken in their confidence of the Democratic system, confused by unfair debate—turn to military dictatorships.

It is out of such confusion, when nations have weak civilian leaders and strong military leaders, that dictatorships spring.

In my opinion our country today faces a most dangerous crisis. Tempers are running high. We do not have a strong man in the White House. We do have a strong military man, who has sought to be in the White House.

Now, it is easy to jump on an unpopular President — as your family well remembers. It is easy to jump on him and to muddy up public opinion with confusing issues—such as the so-called Ballinger scandals which led to the overwhelming defeat of your father, and which history later proved not to have been scandals after all.

It is also easy to fool the public with a lot of phony flag-waving on an issue which your father and no other President worth his salt would have stood for—namely, permitting a general to thumb his nose at the civilian branch of the government and get away with it.

But the times today are too dangerous. And it is in days such as these, when we do not have the most astute brains in or around the White House, that we need leadership and courage such as yours outside the White House to keep us on an even keel.

Respectfully yours,
DREW PEARSON.

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, April 16 — President Truman keeps on denying in his speeches that there is any appeasement of the Communists intended but the fact remains that in the department of state a plan to do what really amounts to an appeasement of Communist China is being hatched.

The first public intimation that appeasement was in the wind came, strangely enough, in a White House release of a message that was sent by the joint chiefs of staff on March 20th to General MacArthur. The real purpose in releasing the message — if it wasn't done accidentally — was to show that General MacArthur jumped the gun, so to speak, when he broadcast directly his appeal to the Chinese Communist military commander to agree to an armistice. The stories have been widely disseminated by administration supporters that MacArthur stole the thunder of the government back home by making an appeal to his opposite military commander similar to that which the Department of State intended to make through the U.N. and that he followed the wording closely. It has been asserted, moreover, that the policy in question was cleared with the United Nations and that General MacArthur spilled the beans.

There is not a scintilla of truth in either of these allegations. The message of March 20th is bound to become a historical document not only because it shows there was no United Nations policy or decision by the American government but because it shows the state department was telling MacArthur to deploy his troops in some sort of confusing military operation whereby he didn't advance but yet maintained contact with the enemy while the diplomats were to talk for a few weeks.

Here is the text of that message:

"To the Commander in Chief, Far East from the Joint Chiefs of Staff in Washington.

"State (Department) planning presidential announcement shortly that, with (the) clearing of the bulk of South Korea of aggressors, United Nations (are) now prepared to discuss conditions of settlement in Korea. Strong feeling persists that further diplomatic effort toward settlement should be made before any advance with major forces north of (the) Thirty-eighth Parallel. Time will be required to determine diplomatic reactions and permit new negotiations that may develop. Recognizing that (the 38th) Parallel has no military significance, (the) state (department) has asked the joint chiefs of staff what authority you should have to permit sufficient freedom of action for (the) next few weeks to provide security for (the) U.N. forces and maintain contact with (the) enemy. Your recommendations (are) desired."

The foregoing shows how speculative and vague the State Department's plan was. It does not reveal the basis, if any, which the Department of State had for virtually ordering American troops to stand still and be shot at while diplomats talked even though the enemy had not agreed to hold his fire. Every piece of evidence thus far from press dispatches and from Trygve Lie, secretary-general of the United Nations, reveals that the Communist Chinese government at Peiping has rebuffed every effort to talk peace and has lately refused even to make appointments at the Chinese Foreign Office with diplomatic representatives there from Britain, India and Sweden to talk about the subject. Why was the Department of State so anxious to stop our side from fighting while it did a job of palavering with other governments? The only answer is that an appeasement program is in the works. Here are its details:

A "cease fire" line in a zigzag direction a few miles north and also a few miles south of the 38th Parallel is to be the armistice line. This is supposed to be our "victory" line. When we gain that line, as General Ridgway in his political statement on March 12th said, America and the United Nations will have gained a "victory."

The rest, it seems, is to be left to diplomacy. Thus is the Korean republic to be thrown to the Communist wolves. Thus also is the U.N. to accept the 38th Parallel line as all that it ever achieved since last June against the aggressor even though the U.N. branded Red China as an aggressor and is supposed to have resolved at one time to liberate all Korea. But the new plan presupposes that no liberation by military means can be achieved and that attainment of the barrier at the 38th Parallel is the substitute.

The legal basis for the plan is that, our "military objective" having been attained, the "political objective" is a matter for U.N. determination. The idea of an "independent, united Korea" is to be left to diplomatic negotiations with Red China presumably over a long period of time. Thus 60,000 casualties will have been suffered by the American government just to maintain the 38th Parallel and to admit that the U.N. could not push the aggressor out of Korea but must let him stay where he started from last June—ready, perhaps, to jump across the parallel at any time. The Red Chinese have said all foreign troops must be withdrawn and this presumably means the Communist North Koreans of course will remain. That's the appeasement plan. It will of course be denied that this is appeasement. But this this was what was planned before General MacArthur was fired. Maybe it will not materialize now because American public opinion may prevent it from being consummated.

Thomas Herbert, former Third Ward alderman, died at Lancaster.

Judge A. T. Clearwater was re-elected president of the Wiltwyck Cemetery Association.

April 16, 1931—Dr. Myron J. Michael, superintendent of schools, observed his 80th birthday.

Mrs. Jerome E. Garrison, of Hoffman street, died.

Mrs. Freida A. Kern Murray, of Maiden Lane, died at Kingston Hospital.

Charles Purcell, 71, of High Falls, died at Kingston Hospital.

Three empty box cars were destroyed in a fire which spread over a lot near the north yard of the West Shore railroad.

April 16, 1941—Federal agents arrested eight men in a raid on a 1,000-gallon still in the town of Lloyd about a mile out of Highland.

Hangman Is Trained

Asmara, Eritrea (AP)—Five Shifta bandits, sentenced to death in January, are expected to be hanged soon. A recent British administration proclamation ended death by a firing squad for condemned criminals and a hangman has been trained at Nairobi to administer the death penalty in the future.

PLATTEKILL

Plattekill, April 16 — The dramatic committee of the Plattekill Grange was in charge of a minstrel show given by members of the Rainbow Minstrel Association of the Associate Reformed Church in Newburgh Monday night. Thirty-six people participated in the show, including the interlocutor, the Rev. Niles M. Poff, pastor of the Newburgh Church. Dancing specialties and baton twirling were features of the program. Cowboy ballads, guitar selections, dramatic novelties and solos also were enjoyed. Proceeds were shared by the Association and the Grange.

Mrs. Milton Van Duser has been appointed as chairman of the Plattekill district of the cancer fund campaign, by Mrs. Lillian Courter, chairman of the drive in the Town of Plattekill.

Members of the Plattekill Fire Department are planning a banquet to be attended by firemen and members of their families. Plans were discussed at a recent meeting and an early report will be given of the results.

The Plattekill district of the annual Red Cross campaign exceeded its quota of $200 by $20, the committee reports. Mrs. Edward Neuwirth was chairman assisted by Mrs. Sydney Green, Mrs. Edmund Feldt, Mrs. Lynn Morris and Miss Florence Moran.

Dominick Scopteuolo, a sophomore at the Wallkill Central School, won an award at a speaking contest of Future Farmers of America held at Middletown recently. He spoke on "Conservation of Our Natural Resources."

LETTERS TO CONGRESS

Indications that local residents are writing to their senators and congressman expressing their opinions and desires on proposed legislation before the national legislators may be seen in the number of requests received by The Freeman for the names of the lawmakers in Washington, D. C.

As a service to the readers of The Freeman, who may desire to contact the two United States Senators from New York State and our Representative in Congress from the 30th Congressional District, which comprises the counties of Ulster, Dutchess, Columbia, Greene and Schoharie, we are publishing their names and party affiliation:

U. S. Senators
Irving M. Ives, Republican
Herbert H. Lehman, Democrat-Liberal
Representative in Congress
J. Ernest Wharton, Republican

The address of both the senators and the congressman is Washington, D. C.

TESTING DRIVERS

The search for more accurate and informative methods and devices for testing the ability of automobile drivers goes on. A current step forward is an apparatus which can give the person being tested the illusion of actually being in a changing traffic situation, and can measure his reactions to hazards and evaluate their probable results. Demonstration of the device has been started in New York.

This machine seems to come close to finding out what a person really would do in response to a given danger. Driver training for some time has dealt with the dangerous situations which are likely to arise on the road, and with the courses of action which are best for each situation. The student's learning of these perils and the things which should be done about them are tested with questions. It is well known, however, that when danger really appears and fright grips the heart, a person does not always do what he has been taught to do. Usually there is no way of knowing until the danger appears; then it may be too late.

Great progress has been made in recent years in devising machines and techniques which can measure a person's skills, abilities and reflexes without actually exposing him and others to danger. It is possible for a driver to learn a good deal about himself. The next step is to bring about more thorough and more frequent testing of drivers, as a standard practice. There are two great obstacles, the cost of testing and the reluctance of drivers.

The safety of himself, his family and others may some day suddenly depend on how well a driver has been tested, on how nearly his driver's license reflects his ability to drive. Once drivers really appreciate that fact they probably will be eager for good testing programs, and quite ready to pay for them.

REFUSAL FROM BYRNES

There is one man who says he is not going to run for president. That is Governor James F. Byrnes of South Carolina. He is at odds with the Truman administration largely because of the civil rights issue, but also on other grounds. Because of his long list of distinguished offices, some Dixiecrats have been making overtures to him to be their presidential candidate in 1952. This he now positively declines to do.

Byrnes may be actuated by party loyalty, or by a distaste for such a public wrangle as might easily come if President Truman's former secretary of state tried to defeat the Democrats, which would result in putting a Republican in the White House.

The Dixiecrat effort to do this failed in 1948. The rebellious party carried four states, including Alabama, where President Truman was ruled off the ballot and his supporters given no chance to vote for him. Of the other three, Byrnes' South Carolina has just repealed the poll tax. This means a larger electorate in 1952, and is expected to enhance Democratic chances. The failure of the 1948 bolt must prompt its leaders to look for a stronger candidate next year.

Byrnes would be ideal from their viewpoint, and his refusal must be a severe disappointment to them.

Termites do more than $50,000,000 damage yearly, we are told. Which shows what can result when one bites off all he can chew.

'These Days'

THE STAND WE MUST TAKE

Mrs. Emily M. Bullitt writes the editor of the "Louisville Courier-Journal" about me as follows:

"The other night Mr. Sokolsky riddled our government with charges of inefficiency, cunning and a program Red to the teeth. Not content with attacking the present regime, he encompassed the past 18 years.

Would you say, Mrs. Bullitt, that I should not report about these matters or should I reveal in all the tantrums of commissions and fixes and deals and trades which give to our era the title of "The Big Fix"?

I hope that partisanship does not blind any of us to the moral nihilism into which we have drifted. This nihilism is marked not only by the acceptance of corruption which would have shamed another generation and stirred anger among our people, but also by a lack of personal dignity and propriety even in high places.

We shall, of course, not live long enough to know whether your judgment is correct, or mine. History has its own curious way of visiting the errors of one generation upon its grandchildren, just as the accumulations of one generation are often enjoyed by another—and are often wasted and destroyed by another.

When a generation shows inadequate respect for natural law, for the laws of God; when adultery becomes a vogue and murder a syndicate, and when children teach their parents, and those who manage the state are not ashamed of corruption—then it is not too courageous to cast aside convenience and to protest and be counted.

You may say that I take myself and my work too seriously. Yet, since I was a boy at college, three generations of youth have been to war. Throughout the world there is a struggle between those who believe in God's natural law and those who believe in Marx's dialectical materialism. In this fight, sides must be chosen.

That Body of Yours

By James W. Barton, M.D.

USE OF GLUTAMIC ACID

Some years ago I was requested by the government to make a physical examination of the inmates of a boys' reformatory and also of the inmates of an institution for mentally defective children.

During the course of the examination of the inmates of the boys' reformatory I learned the majority of the boys came from broken homes, in which one or both parents were dead or had deserted the home. The worse cases were those in which the mother had died while the boy was very young.

Most of the boys were of average intelligence but my associate who made mental tests found that there were a few boys who were not up to the average and would do better in the institution for mental defectives. Accordingly, they were transferred.

In examining the children at the mental defective institution, we tried to find some who were up to, or almost up to, average intelligence, but were unable to find even one. Today, it is possible for some backward children or even mental defectives to raise their intelligence quotients, learn useful occupations and become members of their communities and thus give to and get more out of life. This is being accomplished in a number of cases by the use of glutamic acid.

Some months ago I reported a series of cases in which, by the use of glutamic acid, a number of mentally defective children had their intelligence quotients raised so that they became useful members of the school. They did odd jobs, took better care of themselves and their clothes and were more obedient.

In the New York State Medical Journal, Drs. F. T. Zimmerman and B. B. Burgemeister report that glutamic acid treatment for one year raised the intelligence quotients of 34 per cent of 35 borderline or high-grade defective children to normal levels.

While the above is most encouraging to parents of mentally defective children, it must be remembered that these cases were borderline (nearly normal) and only about 12 of the 35 were thus helped and 23 were not. But even with failure in two of every three, glutamic acid treatment should be given a trial. And when glutamic acid does help, it raises the intelligence quotients 10 to 15 points and usually within one year.

Okay, Mister, Do Your Stuff

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

(Ed. Note — Today's column takes the form of a letter from Drew Pearson to Sen. Robert Taft on the MacArthur-Truman controversy.)

Honorable Robert A. Taft
U. S. Senate
Washington, D. C.

Dear Senator Taft:

When your father was President of the United States, my late father-in-law, a general and a military man all his life, had about the same opinion of him that Douglas MacArthur has of the present occupant of the White House. In fact, your father, whom history records as having done a fine job as secretary of war, incurred the wrath of many military men, because he both kept within his budget and kept the military in their place.

He fully grasped the fundamental fact around which our constitution is written—that ours is a civilian government, in which the military take orders from civilians. He even carried it out so conscientiously that, when your father was secretary of war and used to come to the White House, Teddy Roosevelt would jokingly tell Mrs. Roosevelt to put away the carving knife for fear my father-in-law, a cousin and aide of T.R., might use it against Taft.

I mention this because you, of all Senate leaders, are in a position to grasp and understand the serious issue which faces the country today in the MacArthur-Truman controversy.

I mention it because the easiest thing in the world today is to join the wolfpack and kick Harry Truman in the pants. You, however, have not attained your present position by taking the easy way.

And you, in view of your father's record, in view of your own record as a champion of the constitution, can better understand this fundamental issue than any other man I know.

Take Off the Uniform

That issue is the Constitution of the United States—which provides that, if a general wants to run the government, he must take off his uniform and become a civilian like the rest of us. He cannot have the perquisites and protection of the uniform and give orders to the White House too.

Furthermore, you cannot have a general who has been running for President and who may still have political ambitions overruling the President of the United States. That also is implicit in the constitution

As far as President Truman is concerned, my personal feelings toward him are about the same as yours. He has castigated me just as much as he has you. But there is a difference between respect for the office of President and respect for the man. The former is something which must not be soiled or sullied by unfair Senate debate. And the office of President carries with it not only the power but the obligation, under the constitution, to remove a general who challenges the constitution.

People are easily confused these days, but you can help to prevent their confusion. And while it might be popular and even healthy to impeach Harry Truman, do it on the grounds of corruption in his administration. There you might be on solid ground. Don't do it on an issue for which your father and every other President has kept the torch of civilian government burning—the principle that no soldier can overrule a civilian elected by the people.

Or, if you will, impeach him on the issue of failure in China.

It might be healthy if you or Senator Wherry introduced a resolution embodying the exact terms of the MacArthur letter to Joe Martin, and let the Senate debate it—debate the bombing of Chinese bases, the landing of Chiang Kai-shek's troops on the mainland and the full probabilities and objectives of war with China.

This is an important, vital question upon which we should have full debate, upon which the public should be fully informed. I hope such a resolution will be introduced.

But do not, I urge, confuse the issue by challenging the basic principle of our constitution in regard to civilian rule.

Europe Watches U. S. A.

I have just returned from a trip through Europe. And I can report that you cannot travel abroad these days without sensing how vital is the issue now before our country. Many of the European nations have been through the struggle between military and civilian rule. They have seen the elected Parliaments of Italy and Germany weaken. They have seen the people—shaken in their confidence of the Democratic system, confused by unfair debate—turn to military dictatorships.

It is out of such confusion, when nations have weak civilian leaders and strong military leaders, that dictatorships spring.

In my opinion our country today faces a most dangerous crisis. Tempers are running high. We do not have a strong man in the White House. We do have a strong military man, who has sought to be in the White House.

Now, it is easy to jump on an unpopular President — as your family well remembers. It is easy to jump on him and to muddy up public opinion with confusing issues—such as the so-called Ballinger scandals which led to the overwhelming defeat of your father, and which history later proved not to have been scandals after all.

It is also easy to fool the public with a lot of phony flag-waving on an issue which your father and no other President worth his salt would have stood for—namely, permitting a general to thumb his nose at the civilian branch of the government and get away with it.

But the times today are too dangerous. And it is in days such as these, when we do not have the most astute brains in or around the White House, that we need leadership and courage such as yours outside the White House to keep us on an even keel.

Respectfully yours,
DREW PEARSON.

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, April 16 — President Truman keeps on denying in his speeches that there is any appeasement of the Communists intended but the fact remains that in the department of state a plan to do what really amounts to an appeasement of Communist China is being hatched.

The first public intimation that appeasement was in the wind came, strangely enough, in a White House release of a message that was sent by the joint chiefs of staff on March 20th to General MacArthur. The real purpose in releasing the message — if it wasn't done accidentally — was to show that General MacArthur jumped the gun, so to speak, when he broadcast directly his appeal to the Chinese Communist military commander to agree to an armistice. The stories have been widely disseminated by administration supporters that MacArthur stole the thunder of the government back home by making an appeal to his opposite military commander similar to that which the Department of State intended to make through the U.N. and that he followed the wording closely. It has been asserted, moreover, that the policy in question was cleared with the United Nations and that General MacArthur spilled the beans.

There is not a scintilla of truth in either of these allegations. The message of March 20th is bound to become a historical document not only because it shows there was no United Nations policy or decision by the American government but because it shows the state department was telling MacArthur to deploy his troops in some sort of confusing military operation whereby he didn't advance but yet maintained contact with the enemy while the diplomats were to talk for a few weeks.

Here is the text of that message:

"To the Commander in Chief, Far East from the Joint Chiefs of Staff in Washington.

"State (Department) planning presidential announcement shortly that, with (the) clearing of the bulk of South Korea of aggressors, United Nations (are) now prepared to discuss conditions of settlement in Korea. Strong feeling persists that further diplomatic effort toward settlement should be made before any advance with major forces north of (the) Thirty-eighth Parallel. Time will be required to determine diplomatic reactions and permit new negotiations that may develop. Recognizing that (the 38th) Parallel has no military significance, (the) state (department) has asked the joint chiefs of staff what authority you should have to permit sufficient freedom of action for (the) next few weeks to provide security for (the) U.N. forces and maintain contact with (the) enemy. Your recommendations (are) desired."

The foregoing shows how speculative and vague the State Department's plan was. It does not reveal the basis, if any, which the Department of State had for virtually ordering American troops to stand still and be shot at while diplomats talked even though the enemy had not agreed to hold his fire. Every piece of evidence thus far from press dispatches and from Trygve Lie, secretary-general of the United Nations, reveals that the Communist Chinese government at Peiping has rebuffed every effort to talk peace and has lately refused even to make appointments at the Chinese Foreign Office with diplomatic representatives there from Britain, India and Sweden to talk about the subject. Why was the Department of State so anxious to stop our side from fighting while it did a job of palavering with other governments? The only answer is that an appeasement program is in the works. Here are its details:

A "cease fire" line in a zigzag direction a few miles north and also a few miles south of the 38th Parallel is to be the armistice line. This is supposed to be our "victory" line. When we gain that line, as General Ridgway in his political statement on March 12th said, America and the United Nations will have gained a "victory."

The rest, it seems, is to be left to diplomacy. Thus is the Korean republic to be thrown to the Communist wolves. Thus also is the U.N. to accept the 38th Parallel line as all that it ever achieved since last June against the aggressor even though the U.N. branded Red China as an aggressor and is supposed to have resolved at one time to liberate all Korea. But the new plan presupposes that no liberation by military means can be achieved and that attainment of the barrier at the 38th Parallel is the substitute.

The legal basis for the plan is that, our "military objective" having been attained, the "political objective" is a matter for U.N. determination. The idea of an "independent, united Korea" is to be left to diplomatic negotiations with Red China presumably over a long period of time. Thus 60,000 casualties will have been suffered by the American government just to maintain the 38th Parallel and to admit that the U.N. could not push the aggressor out of Korea but must let him stay where he started from last June—ready, perhaps, to jump across the parallel at any time. The Red Chinese have said all foreign troops must be withdrawn and this presumably means the Communist North Koreans of course will remain. That's the appeasement plan. It will of course be denied that this is appeasement. But this this was what was planned before General MacArthur was fired. Maybe it will not materialize now because American public opinion may prevent it from being consummated.

PLATTEKILL

Plattekill, April 16 — The dramatic committee of the Plattekill Grange was in charge of a minstrel show given by members of the Rainbow Minstrel Association of the Associate Reformed Church in Newburgh Monday night. Thirty-six people participated in the show, including the interlocutor, the Rev. Niles M. Poff, pastor of the Newburgh Church. Dancing specialties and baton twirling were features of the program. Cowboy ballads, guitar selections, dramatic novelties and solos also were enjoyed. Proceeds were shared by the Association and the Grange.

Mrs. Milton Van Duser has been appointed as chairman of the Plattekill district of the cancer fund campaign, by Mrs. Lillian Courter, chairman of the drive in the Town of Plattekill.

Members of the Plattekill Fire Department are planning a banquet to be attended by firemen and members of their families. Plans were discussed at a recent meeting and an early report will be given of the results.

The Plattekill district of the annual Red Cross campaign exceeded its quota of $200 by $20, the committee reports. Mrs. Edward Neuwirth was chairman assisted by Mrs. Sydney Green, Mrs. Edmund Feldt, Mrs. Lynn Morris and Miss Florence Moran.

Mrs. Rose Denardo of the Denardo apartments is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Ida Amore in Brooklyn.

Prof. and Mrs. Charles Wagley of New York have purchased the property of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Stockman. The new owners plan their purchase as a summer home. Prof. Wagley is a sociology instructor in Columbia University.

Mrs. Milton Van Duser attended a meeting of the public health nursing committee of the town of Plattekill recently at the home of Mrs. Russell Minard in Clintondale. The May meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Fred Bernard in Modena.

Miss Burnette McNary and Myron Wood of Philadelphia, Pa., Mrs Jane Roe, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Caverly of Cortland were among recent visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Willett Deyo.

Mrs. Willet Deyo was a visitor in Newburgh Friday.

'Good Neighbor' Contest Begins

A Tom Breneman rosebush will be awarded to the "good neighbor" of the community at a "Welcome to Hollywood" party in the Saugerties Municipal Auditorium May 11, it was announced today. The award will be based on letters of nominations submitted prior to the program.

Nominations may be made by any person who knows, or has heard of the outstanding neighborly acts of some person, perhaps someone whose kind, and thoughtful deeds are little known.

So that each letter may be carefully read, and a decision reached by a panel of judges before the program, all entries should be postmarked before May 1, and addressed to the Bluestone Society, Box 185, R. D. 2, Saugerties.

Proceeds from the entertainment will go to the organ fund of the High Woods Reformed Church. The Bluestone Society, sponsored by the church, is planning the program, which is fashioned after the well-known daily coast-to-coast broadcast. An advance ticket sale is now underway.

Jan Howland DeWitt Weds Miss Pellett In Brattleboro, Vt.

Miss Judith Louise Pellett, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Arnold Pellett of Brattleboro, Vt., became the bride of Jan Howland DeWitt, son of Mr. and Mrs. Deweese W. DeWitt of 202 Albany avenue, this city, Saturday at 4 p. m. The double ring ceremony was performed in the Centre Congregational Church, Brattleboro, by the Rev. Edward Curtis Dahl, of that congregation.

James Stearns was organist. Musical selections included Harmonies du Soir, Karg-Elert; Panis Angelicus, Franck; When Thou Art Near, Bach; Andante from Grande, Franck; Piece Symphonique; The Lord's Prayer, Malotte. Floral decorations in the church included white gladioli, tulips, stock and laurel leaves. There were lighted tapers in the windows, and candelabra at the altar.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of ivory satin, trimmed with embroidered Viennese lace. It was cut with a portrait neckline, and a cathedral train. She wore a fingertip veil of imported illusion lace, fastened to a matching lace cap, and carried a bouquet of gladioli, stephanotis, and ivy.

Mrs. Alfred E. Gras of Nutley, N. J., cousin of the bride, was matron of honor. She was dressed in a gown of sunset coral faille taffeta, with a bouffant overskirt of matching net. Her hat was of matching nylon net, with natural flower trim to match her cascade bouquet of Barbara carnations, sweet peas, and ivy.

Serving as bridesmaids were Miss Betsey A. DeWitt of 202 Albany avenue, sister of the groom, and Miss Catharine Davis of Holyoke, Mass. Their ensembles matched that of the matron of honor. The bride's cousin, Jane Gras, was flower girl. She was dressed in cream colored net over apple green taffeta and a wreath of sweet peas. She carried a basket of mixed sweet peas.

William R. Gladstone, Jr., of Montreal, Canada, was best man. William White of Cambridge, Mass., Richard Gale and Albert Hall, both of Brattleboro, ushered.

A reception was held for 250 guests at the Centre Parish house. After a wedding trip the couple will make their home in Bristol, Conn.

The bride attended the Brattleboro schools, and was graduated from Mt. Holyoke College, South Hadley, Mass. She is an executive of the Holyoke District of the Massachusetts Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children.

Mr. DeWitt attended the Walton schools, and is a graduate of Rochester Institute of Technology. During World War 2, he served for three years with the U. S. Navy. He is now associated with the Hildreth Press, Bristol.

Court Santa Maria Plans Card Party, Sale and Breakfast

Plans for a card party, rummage sale and the national communion breakfast were outlined Thursday evening during the monthly meeting of Court Santa Maria, No. 164, Catholic Daughters of America. The well attended meeting was held in the Knights of Columbus home. Prior to its opening the Rev. Austin V. Carey, chaplain, led the group in prayer.

Among the charitable projects supported by the court, foremost at present are the Maryknoll Sisters in China. It was announced that the group's annual card party, which will be held April 26 at the Knights of Columbus home, will be for their benefit. All games will be played, the public is invited, and refreshments will be served.

It was also announced that May 6 has been named National Communion Sunday for all Catholic Daughters. This year the local court will attend 8 a. m. Mass at St. Joseph's Church, and receive communion in a body. Following the service a communion breakfast under the chairmanship of Mrs. William Duffy will be held in the Governor Clinton Hotel. Guest speaker at the breakfast will be the Rev. Dennis P. Coleman, director of the Holy Name Center for Homeless Men, or Bowery Mission in New York.

During the seminary report it was announced that $200 has been sent to the state court, and a request for further contributions was made.

At the close of the meeting refreshments were served by Mrs. M. Zaneczek. Court Santa Maria will hold its next meeting May 10.

COUSINS SHOULD SEND WORD

A young woman asks: "If a certain man has been friendly but never has asked me to go out with him, would it be out of place for me to send word to him that I'm coming to visit cousins of mine in his town?"

If your cousins know him they would be the proper ones to send him word that you are coming and invite him to their house. The only thing that you can do yourself would be to call him on the telephone casually when you get there and say that you happen to be visiting in his town and thought you'd say hello.

Send Wedding Invitations

Dear Mrs. Post: How far ahead should invitations to a wedding be mailed? We'd like to have the replies in on time because of reservations at the club.

Answer: Engraved invitations to a large wedding are sent three weeks beforehand; those to a simpler wedding may be mailed three weeks before, or as late as ten days.

Engagement Party

Dear Mrs. Post: I have received an invitation from a friend inviting me to an engagement party in honor of her daughter. As I've never received such an invitation before, would you please advise me if it is customary to take a gift?

Answer: Definitely not an obligation; and although not unheard of, presents should not be expected.

Ushers at Morning Church

Dear Mrs. Post: Is it proper for the ushers at church on a Sunday morning to wear white or gray gloves with their striped trousers and cutaways?

Answer: Not improper — but very conspicuous, except at weddings.

'Good Neighbor' Contest Begins

A Tom Breneman rosebush will be awarded to the "good neighbor" of the community at a "Welcome to Hollywood" party in the Saugerties Municipal Auditorium May 11, it was announced today. The award will be based on letters of nominations submitted prior to the program.

Nominations may be made by any person who knows, or has heard of the outstanding neighborly acts of some person, perhaps someone whose kind, and thoughtful deeds are little known.

So that each letter may be carefully read, and a decision reached by a panel of judges before the program, all entries should be postmarked before May 1, and addressed to the Bluestone Society, Box 185, R. D. 2, Saugerties.

Proceeds from the entertainment will go to the organ fund of the High Woods Reformed Church. The Bluestone Society, sponsored by the church, is planning the program, which is fashioned after the well-known daily coast-to-coast broadcast. An advance ticket sale is now underway.

Jan Howland DeWitt Weds Miss Pellett In Brattleboro, Vt.

Miss Judith Louise Pellett, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Arnold Pellett of Brattleboro, Vt., became the bride of Jan Howland DeWitt, son of Mr. and Mrs. Deweese W. DeWitt of 202 Albany avenue, this city, Saturday at 4 p. m. The double ring ceremony was performed in the Centre Congregational Church, Brattleboro, by the Rev. Edward Curtis Dahl, of that congregation.

James Stearns was organist. Musical selections included Harmonies du Soir, Karg-Elert; Panis Angelicus, Franck; When Thou Art Near, Bach; Andante from Grande, Franck; Piece Symphonique; The Lord's Prayer, Malotte. Floral decorations in the church included white gladioli, tulips, stock and laurel leaves. There were lighted tapers in the windows, and candelabra at the altar.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of ivory satin, trimmed with embroidered Viennese lace. It was cut with a portrait neckline, and a cathedral train. She wore a fingertip veil of imported illusion lace, fastened to a matching lace cap, and carried a bouquet of gladioli, stephanotis, and ivy.

Mrs. Alfred E. Gras of Nutley, N. J., cousin of the bride, was matron of honor. She was dressed in a gown of sunset coral faille taffeta, with a bouffant overskirt of matching net. Her hat was of matching nylon net, with natural flower trim to match her cascade bouquet of Barbara carnations, sweet peas, and ivy.

Serving as bridesmaids were Miss Betsey A. DeWitt of 202 Albany avenue, sister of the groom, and Miss Catharine Davis of Holyoke, Mass. Their ensembles matched that of the matron of honor. The bride's cousin, Jane Gras, was flower girl. She was dressed in cream colored net over apple green taffeta and a wreath of sweet peas. She carried a basket of mixed sweet peas.

William R. Gladstone, Jr., of Montreal, Canada, was best man. William White of Cambridge, Mass., Richard Gale and Albert Hall, both of Brattleboro, ushered.

A reception was held for 250 guests at the Centre Parish house. After a wedding trip the couple will make their home in Bristol, Conn.

The bride attended the Brattleboro schools, and was graduated from Mt. Holyoke College, South Hadley, Mass. She is an executive of the Holyoke District of the Massachusetts Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children.

Mr. DeWitt attended the Walton schools, and is a graduate of Rochester Institute of Technology. During World War 2, he served for three years with the U. S. Navy. He is now associated with the Hildreth Press, Bristol.

Court Santa Maria Plans Card Party, Sale and Breakfast

Plans for a card party, rummage sale and the national communion breakfast were outlined Thursday evening during the monthly meeting of Court Santa Maria, No. 164, Catholic Daughters of America. The well attended meeting was held in the Knights of Columbus home. Prior to its opening the Rev. Austin V. Carey, chaplain, led the group in prayer.

Among the charitable projects supported by the court, foremost at present are the Maryknoll Sisters in China. It was announced that the group's annual card party, which will be held April 26 at the Knights of Columbus home, will be for their benefit. All games will be played, the public is invited, and refreshments will be served.

It was also announced that May 6 has been named National Communion Sunday for all Catholic Daughters. This year the local court will attend 8 a. m. Mass at St. Joseph's Church, and receive communion in a body. Following the service a communion breakfast under the chairmanship of Mrs. William Duffy will be held in the Governor Clinton Hotel. Guest speaker at the breakfast will be the Rev. Dennis P. Coleman, director of the Holy Name Center for Homeless Men, or Bowery Mission in New York.

During the seminary report it was announced that $200 has been sent to the state court, and a request for further contributions was made.

At the close of the meeting refreshments were served by Mrs. M. Zaneczek. Court Santa Maria will hold its next meeting May 10.

Jan Howland DeWitt Weds Miss Pellett In Brattleboro, Vt.

Miss Judith Louise Pellett, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Arnold Pellett of Brattleboro, Vt., became the bride of Jan Howland DeWitt, son of Mr. and Mrs. Deweese W. DeWitt of 202 Albany avenue, this city, Saturday at 4 p. m. The double ring ceremony was performed in the Centre Congregational Church, Brattleboro, by the Rev. Edward Curtis Dahl, of that congregation.

James Stearns was organist. Musical selections included Harmonies du Soir, Karg-Elert; Panis Angelicus, Franck; When Thou Art Near, Bach; Andante from Grande, Franck; Piece Symphonique; The Lord's Prayer, Malotte. Floral decorations in the church included white gladioli, tulips, stock and laurel leaves. There were lighted tapers in the windows, and candelabra at the altar.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of ivory satin, trimmed with embroidered Viennese lace. It was cut with a portrait neckline, and a cathedral train. She wore a fingertip veil of imported illusion lace, fastened to a matching lace cap, and carried a bouquet of gladioli, stephanotis, and ivy.

Mrs. Alfred E. Gras of Nutley, N. J., cousin of the bride, was matron of honor. She was dressed in a gown of sunset coral faille taffeta, with a bouffant overskirt of matching net. Her hat was of matching nylon net, with natural flower trim to match her cascade bouquet of Barbara carnations, sweet peas, and ivy.

Serving as bridesmaids were Miss Betsey A. DeWitt of 202 Albany avenue, sister of the groom, and Miss Catharine Davis of Holyoke, Mass. Their ensembles matched that of the matron of honor. The bride's cousin, Jane Gras, was flower girl. She was dressed in cream colored net over apple green taffeta and a wreath of sweet peas. She carried a basket of mixed sweet peas.

William R. Gladstone, Jr., of Montreal, Canada, was best man. William White of Cambridge, Mass., Richard Gale and Albert Hall, both of Brattleboro, ushered.

A reception was held for 250 guests at the Centre Parish house. After a wedding trip the couple will make their home in Bristol, Conn.

The bride attended the Brattleboro schools, and was graduated from Mt. Holyoke College, South Hadley, Mass. She is an executive of the Holyoke District of the Massachusetts Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children.

Mr. DeWitt attended the Walton schools, and is a graduate of Rochester Institute of Technology. During World War 2, he served for three years with the U. S. Navy. He is now associated with the Hildreth Press, Bristol.

Court Santa Maria Plans Card Party, Sale and Breakfast

Plans for a card party, rummage sale and the national communion breakfast were outlined Thursday evening during the monthly meeting of Court Santa Maria, No. 164, Catholic Daughters of America. The well attended meeting was held in the Knights of Columbus home. Prior to its opening the Rev. Austin V. Carey, chaplain, led the group in prayer.

Among the charitable projects supported by the court, foremost at present are the Maryknoll Sisters in China. It was announced that the group's annual card party, which will be held April 26 at the Knights of Columbus home, will be for their benefit. All games will be played, the public is invited, and refreshments will be served.

It was also announced that May 6 has been named National Communion Sunday for all Catholic Daughters. This year the local court will attend 8 a. m. Mass at St. Joseph's Church, and receive communion in a body. Following the service a communion breakfast under the chairmanship of Mrs. William Duffy will be held in the Governor Clinton Hotel. Guest speaker at the breakfast will be the Rev. Dennis P. Coleman, director of the Holy Name Center for Homeless Men, or Bowery Mission in New York.

During the seminary report it was announced that $200 has been sent to the state court, and a request for further contributions was made.

At the close of the meeting refreshments were served by Mrs. M. Zaneczek. Court Santa Maria will hold its next meeting May 10.

COUSINS SHOULD SEND WORD

A young woman asks: "If a certain man has been friendly but never has asked me to go out with him, would it be out of place for me to send word to him that I'm coming to visit cousins of mine in his town?"

If your cousins know him they would be the proper ones to send him word that you are coming and invite him to their house. The only thing that you can do yourself would be to call him on the telephone casually when you get there and say that you happen to be visiting in his town and thought you'd say hello.

Send Wedding Invitations

Dear Mrs. Post: How far ahead should invitations to a wedding be mailed? We'd like to have the replies in on time because of reservations at the club.

Answer: Engraved invitations to a large wedding are sent three weeks beforehand; those to a simpler wedding may be mailed three weeks before, or as late as ten days.

Engagement Party

Dear Mrs. Post: I have received an invitation from a friend inviting me to an engagement party in honor of her daughter. As I've never received such an invitation before, would you please advise me if it is customary to take a gift?

Answer: Definitely not an obligation; and although not unheard of, presents should not be expected.

Ushers at Morning Church

Dear Mrs. Post: Is it proper for the ushers at church on a Sunday morning to wear white or gray gloves with their striped trousers and cutaways?

Answer: Not improper — but very conspicuous, except at weddings.

Mrs. Post is sorry she cannot answer personal mail. Are you planning cocktail parties? If so do you know how to word the invitations and what to serve? Details are given in her leaflet E-26. To obtain a copy, send 10 cents to her, in care The Kingston Daily Freeman, P. O. Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. Y.

Miss Dorothy Proud, extension specialist at the New York State College of Home Economics at Cornell University, will give a lecture demonstration on "Meals for Many" at the Dutch Reformed Church kitchen in Woodstock Friday, April 20 from 10:30 a. m. to 3 p. m.

This meeting is sponsored by the Ulster County Home Bureau and is designed to help boarding house and hotel operators with menu planning, quantity food preparation and keeping food cost records.

Everyone is asked to bring his or her own salad and dessert for the luncheon. Soup, muffins and coffee will be provided.

Kingston Day Unit

At the regular monthly meeting of Kingston Day Unit, Home Bureau, held Thursday at 410 Broadway at 2 p. m., the resignation of Mrs. Charles Reis as chairman necessitated the re-election of officers, with the exception of Mrs. R. Ratschitzky, who retained her post as corresponding secretary. The following new officers were elected: Mrs. E. Steuding, chairman; Mrs. F. Bongartz, vice-chairman; Mrs. O. Christensen, recording secretary; Mrs. R. Campbell, treasurer.

Following the meeting there was a social hour, with Mrs. Gustave Immish assisted by the following co-hostesses: The Mmes. B. Bennett, Clifford Donahue, William McBride, Rufus Whitney, Albert Kiersted, and Casimir Musialkiewicz. Mrs. Steuding and Mrs. Ratschitzky poured.

Worman-Katin Engagement Told

Mr. and Mrs. Max Katin of Trenton, N. J., announce the engagement of their daughter, Helen, to Louis Worman, son of Mrs. David Worman, 644 Broadway, and the late Mr. Worman.

The bride-elect attended New Jersey College for Women, Newark, N. J., and is now a student at Rider College, Trenton.

Mr. Worman, a veteran of the U. S Navy, and a graduate of Kingston High School, and Rider College, is manager of the Ozone Water Company, Newark.

Kingston A.C.E. Hears Miss Palmer

Miss Josephine Palmer of the nursery department at New Paltz State Teachers College, was guest speaker Tuesday at the regular meeting of the American Childhood Education Association, held at School No. 6. Miss Palmer spoke on the history, purposes, and activities of the organization.

Emphasizing the association's practice of sharing ideas among teachers, Miss Palmer told her audience that the A.C.E. has a membership of over 16,000 in the United States alone, and that local organizations, as the Kingston A.C.E., are a definite source of professional stimulation. She also urged members to attend the annual conferences which are held in a different city each year.

During the short business meeting which preceeded Miss Palmer's address, with Miss Sylvia Relyea, president, in the chair, plans for a spring picnic were discussed.

They tell about the cattle thief who was caught red-handed; the boys decided to lynch him on the spot. He agreed to the justice of the thing but made ont request.

Thief—You ought to let me have one good slug of whisky before I go.

Some of the cowpokes thought this was reasonable, but the leader frowned them down.

Leader—Nothing doin'. Do you want him boasting forever after that we showed him mercy?

Judge—Did you have control of the car at the time of the accident?

Man—No, sir, my wife was with me.

In Berea, Ohio, an old law still on the books makes it illegal to take a dog or cat out after dark without a red light on the animal's tail. —Jennie Gelzer, Mount Hope, W. Va.

Doctor—Nurse, where is this man's record? Don't you keep a progress chart?

Nurse—(Blushing)—No, but I can show you my diary.

Missouri judges at a judicial conference in Kansas City agreed court opinions "often are too long and written in such a manner as to characteristic judicial fashion they adopted a characteristically judicial resolution:

"An appellate judge, without sacrifice of clarity, should curtail his opinions as much as possible."

What they meant was "Keep it short and simple."

Grace—Weren't you kinda nervous when your new boy-friend gave you all those expensive gifts for Christmas?

Ruthe—No, Gracie, I just kept calm . . . and collected!

Give a girl enough rope and she wants to get knotted.

Urma — Has Jack ever kissed you against your will?

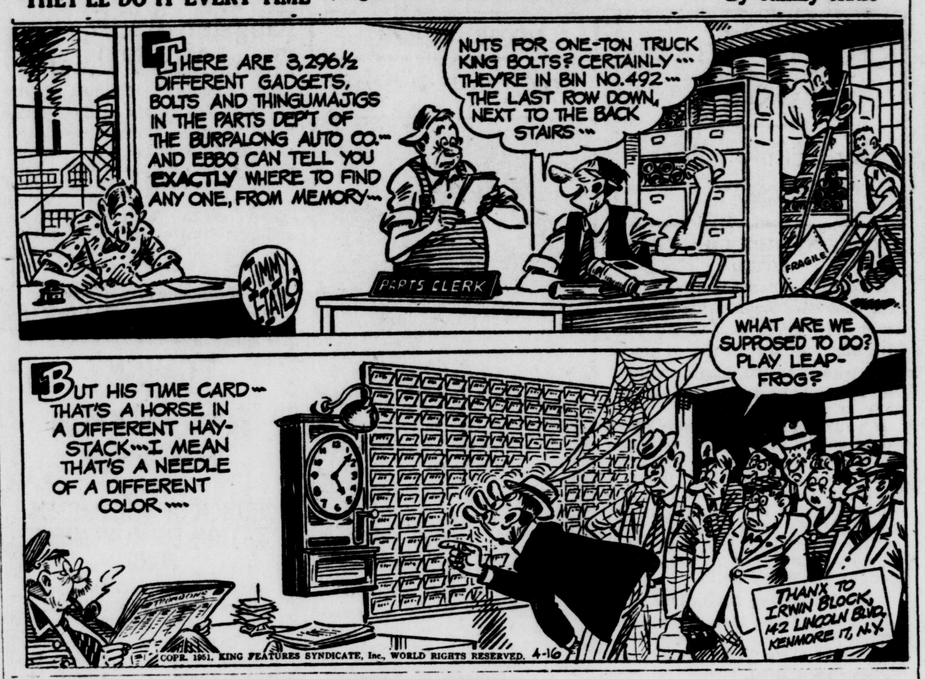

Helen—No, but he thinks he has.

Happiness grows at our own firesides, and is not to be picked in strangers' gardens.

Gets La Scala Honor

Milan (AP)—American tenor Eugene Conley will sing the lead in the opening night of La Scala's opera season here next Christmas Eve. It will be the first time a foreign artist has had this honor, generally reserved to famed Italian singers. Conley will appear in Verdi's "Vespri Siciliani", which has not been performed at La Scala for 41 years, owing to the lack of a suitable voice.

Surveying Flood Damage

Pursuing the orderly and rather slower phase of rehabilitation of the flood victims, Red Cross has dispatched to this section, J. T. Wakefield, building advisor of the Eastern Area Disaster Relief Service. This is the regular sequence of procedure, following the detailed work of the case workers, Mrs. Anne Cragin and Miss Gertrude O'Connell, who have been here since damage resulted. As the buildings dry out and a thorough inspection can be made, Mr. Wakefield will be available to survey the destruction and to estimate the cost of disaster damage to the homes of applicants for American Red Cross assistance in the affected area.

Mr. Wakefield has been assigned by National Red Cross as the Building Advisor for the New York and New Jersey Floods of 1951 and will work with the Ulster County Chapter until the close of the Disaster Relief Operation. Mr. Wakefield comes to assist the Ulster County Chapter as a well qualified member of the national staff who has had about 20 years of experience in disaster service.

Fire Is Checked

East Kingston fire department was called out Sunday at 4:45 p. m. for a fire in a shed on the former Rose brickyard, now owned by the county, on the Ulster Landing road. Paul Caban, who operates a grocery store at Goldrick's Landing, reported the fire. Chief Costello reported the fire was confined to a small shed which had been used to store brickyard tools. It apparently had been started by children. The fire was extinguished with wet clay and water buckets. It also was reported that two air rifles were found near the scene. Officials of the East Kingston fire department requested today that persons refrain from following too closely the fire trucks while they are en route to a fire.

Homeless Counted

New Delhi (AP)—Operation homeless—counting the thousands of this and every Indian city's pavement dwellers — confronts volunteer workers finishing up the first national census. The census-taker must enumerate the vast floating population of beggars, refugees, and day laborers by torch or candlelight as they lie huddled in tattered blankets along bazaars and streets.

Bard Panel Votes Strong Support of Truman's Action

Annandale-on-Hudson, April 16—Bard College students and 30 foreign student representatives from 25 countries indicated their strong support Sunday of the administration's policy of limited action in Korea and of President Harry S. Truman's decision to replace Gen. Douglas MacArthur.

Their opinions were gathered in a poll conducted by the Bardian, the student paper, at the close of the three-day international student conference on the theme, "The Split Between the East and West Can a Divided World Survive."

The three leading questions and the results of the vote on them are as follows:

On the whole, are you in agreement with President Truman's foreign policy speech of April 11? Yes 108, no 23.

Do you think President Truman acted correctly in relieving Gen. MacArthur of his military command? Yes 125, no 19.

Do you think Congress should express itself in favor of sending two million tons of wheat to India immediately, Yes 123, no 17.

The conference, the fifth in an annual series of international student gatherings at the college, heard speeches during the sessions by Max Lerner, newspaper columnist; Dr. Walter R. Sharp, head of the department of government, City College of New York; and Dr. Foster Rhea Dulles, professor of history, Ohio State University.

Special panel meetings were devoted yesterday to the analysis of the economic cultural and political factors of the conference theme.

Eight Persons Drown in Squalls

(By The Associated Press)

At least eight persons were reported drowned and another missing as squals upset their boats during weekend outings on Long Island Sound and the St. Lawrence river.

Five were believed drowned at Norwalk, Conn., while flounder fishing in Long Island Sound.

Four of them, from Yonkers, N. Y., were identified as Paul Kane, 43, and his son, Neil, 11 (of 117 Lee avenue); Gerard Reyer, 37 (of Hamilton avenue); and Anthony Ivelis, 60 (no street address available). The other was listed as Louis Mina, 55, of (1 Bronson avenue) Scarsdale, N. Y.

About half a dozen skiffs were overturned by near-gale-force-winds in the Norwalk area. Three men swam to safety, and several other persons were rescued by the coast guard or other fishing boats.

In the New York city area of the sound, Morris Weisberg, 33, drowned when his small boat capsized in Jamaica Bay. His brother, Sam, and another companion were rescued. All are from Brooklyn.

Reported Missing

The coast guard also reported Cornelius McNally, 24, of Jamaica, Queens, missing since Saturday. His boat overturned off Rockaway Point. Three of his friends reached safety.

Week-end gusts of wind up to 41 miles per hour were reported in the New York area as many other small boats were capsized.

At Alexandria Bay, N. Y., two men from Utica drowned in the St. Lawrence river during a severe storm. A companion was rescued by coast guardsmen.

The two victims were identified as Frederick E. Junier, Sr., 50, and George W. Swallow, 62. Both were described as foreman at the Globe Woolen Mill in Utica.

Scattered squalls along the Massachusetts coast, with velocities up to 50 miles per hour, also upset several boats.

Annandale-on-Hudson, April 16—Bard College students and 30 foreign student representatives from 25 countries indicated their strong support Sunday of the administration's policy of limited action in Korea and of President Harry S. Truman's decision to replace Gen. Douglas MacArthur.

Their opinions were gathered in a poll conducted by the Bardian, the student paper, at the close of the three-day international student conference on the theme, "The Split Between the East and West Can a Divided World Survive."

The three leading questions and the results of the vote on them are as follows:

On the whole, are you in agreement with President Truman's foreign policy speech of April 11? Yes 108, no 23.

Do you think President Truman acted correctly in relieving Gen. MacArthur of his military command? Yes 125, no 19.

Do you think Congress should express itself in favor of sending two million tons of wheat to India immediately, Yes 123, no 17.

The conference, the fifth in an annual series of international student gatherings at the college, heard speeches during the sessions by Max Lerner, newspaper columnist; Dr. Walter R. Sharp, head of the department of government, City College of New York; and Dr. Foster Rhea Dulles, professor of history, Ohio State University.

Special panel meetings were devoted yesterday to the analysis of the economic cultural and political factors of the conference theme.

Eight Persons Drown in Squalls

(By The Associated Press)

At least eight persons were reported drowned and another missing as squals upset their boats during weekend outings on Long Island Sound and the St. Lawrence river.

Five were believed drowned at Norwalk, Conn., while flounder fishing in Long Island Sound.

Four of them, from Yonkers, N. Y., were identified as Paul Kane, 43, and his son, Neil, 11 (of 117 Lee avenue); Gerard Reyer, 37 (of Hamilton avenue); and Anthony Ivelis, 60 (no street address available). The other was listed as Louis Mina, 55, of (1 Bronson avenue) Scarsdale, N. Y.

About half a dozen skiffs were overturned by near-gale-force-winds in the Norwalk area. Three men swam to safety, and several other persons were rescued by the coast guard or other fishing boats.

In the New York city area of the sound, Morris Weisberg, 33, drowned when his small boat capsized in Jamaica Bay. His brother, Sam, and another companion were rescued. All are from Brooklyn.

Reported Missing

The coast guard also reported Cornelius McNally, 24, of Jamaica, Queens, missing since Saturday. His boat overturned off Rockaway Point. Three of his friends reached safety.

Week-end gusts of wind up to 41 miles per hour were reported in the New York area as many other small boats were capsized.

At Alexandria Bay, N. Y., two men from Utica drowned in the St. Lawrence river during a severe storm. A companion was rescued by coast guardsmen.

The two victims were identified as Frederick E. Junier, Sr., 50, and George W. Swallow, 62. Both were described as foreman at the Globe Woolen Mill in Utica.

Scattered squalls along the Massachusetts coast, with velocities up to 50 miles per hour, also upset several boats.

Fire Is Checked

East Kingston fire department was called out Sunday at 4:45 p. m. for a fire in a shed on the former Rose brickyard, now owned by the county, on the Ulster Landing road. Paul Caban, who operates a grocery store at Goldrick's Landing, reported the fire. Chief Costello reported the fire was confined to a small shed which had been used to store brickyard tools. It apparently had been started by children. The fire was extinguished with wet clay and water buckets. It also was reported that two air rifles were found near the scene. Officials of the East Kingston fire department requested today that persons refrain from following too closely the fire trucks while they are en route to a fire.

Homeless Counted

New Delhi (AP)—Operation homeless—counting the thousands of this and every Indian city's pavement dwellers — confronts volunteer workers finishing up the first national census. The census-taker must enumerate the vast floating population of beggars, refugees, and day laborers by torch or candlelight as they lie huddled in tattered blankets along bazaars and streets.

Major League Pilots Pin Pennant Hopes on Improved Pitching Staffs

Washington, April 16 (AP)—H. Truman, a veteran lefthanded pitcher with a fair fast ball, arranged to make the first pitch today and start the 1951 baseball season on its way.

Shortly after the presidential pitch (at 3 p.m., EST), the world champion New York Yankees met the Washington Senators.

Manager Casey Stengel picked a surprise mound starter, Rookie Tom Morgan. He officially became a member of the Yankees only yesterday with the formal transfer of his contract from Kansas City. Morgan won 17 and lost eight for Binghamton in the Eastern League last year. He is a righthander.

Manager Bucky Harris chose Bob Kuzava, lefthander who won eight games and lost seven for the fifth place Senators after coming here from the Chicago White Sox.

Pitching Is Factor

"We'll win if the pitching holds up."

Ever hear that before? Sure, it's the same old managerial moan as a new major league baseball season begins today with a game in each circuit. A complete eight-game slate is on tap for tomorrow.

"My only worry is pitching," says Manager Casey Stengel of the defending champion New York Yankees.

"It all depends on Allie Reynolds. If his arm comes around in the next 10 days, we'll be in fine shape and should win again. Until I know about him, I won't be able to line up my starters."

Blackwell Ready

Luke Sewell of Cincinnati is one of the few skippers who has no visual pitching problems. He had Ewell Blackwell (17-15), one of the best in the business, all primed for today's opener between the Reds and Pittsburgh Pirates in Cincinnati. Another bumper crowd of some 32,000, was slated to watch the lanky righthander take on Cliff Chambers (12-15), Pirate southpaw.

"Pitching is my strong point," says Sewell. "Show me a better starting five than Blackwell, Howard Fox (11-8), Ken Raffensberger (14-19), Herb Wehmeier (10-18), and Will Ramsdell (8-14). I don't know how we'll fare but we're an improved club.

Billy Meyer, Pittsburgh pilot, thinks his club can get out of the basement "provided we get the pitching and Ralph Kiner works out at first base." His starters include Murry Dickson, Vernon Law, Will Werle and Rookie Bob Friend.

O'Neil Confident

All other managers will have to wait another day to get their first official indication as to how their pitching will hold up. They are all leading with their aces. Stout Steve O'Neill openly declares that his Boston Red Sox have the best chucking in the American League.

"The Yankees may have the best Big Three in Lopat, Raschi and Reynolds," he argues, "but I have the best top five in (Mel) Parnell, (Will) Wight, (Ray) Scarborough, (Will) Dixon and (Harry) Taylor."

Parnell (18-10) is the choice to oppose Vic Raschi (21-8), at the Yankee Stadium in the opening clash between the Yankees and Red Sox before some 55,000 tomorrow.

No Tribe Lefties

Despite four such fine starters as Bob Lemon, Bob Feller, Early Wynn and Mike Garcia, Al Lopez of the Cleveland Indians still has a pitching problem. There isn't a lefthander on the front line crew.

At that, he is much better off than Red Rolfe, genial Detroit manager who still hasn't come up with anyone to replace Art Houtteman, his 19-game winner now in the army. Rolfe also must wait for final judgment on Virgil Trucks, his lame armed righthander.

It will be up to Hal Newhouser (15-13), the old "stopper" to get the Tigers off on the right foot. He will be opposed by Lemon (23-11), the majors' biggest winner last year. Some 54,000 were expected to attend.

Bill Pierce (12-16) and Ned Garver (13-18), a pair of efficient hurlers with losing ball clubs last season, were to oppose each other before 15,000 in St. Louis as the Chicago White Sox and Browns clash.

"If we get a couple of more pitchers to go with Pierce, Bob Cain and Joe Dobson, we'll take a back step for nobody," says Paul Richards of the White Sox.

"Our team will go just as far as the pitching," says Zach Taylor of the Browns. It would be cruel to ask Zach "what pitching?"

The same can be asked of Jimmy Dykes, whose Athletics take on the Senators in Philadelphia in the first night game opener in the American League. Bobby Shantz (8-14) is to oppose Washington's Hudson (14-14).

Newcombe Opens

Don Newcombe (19-11) and Robin Roberts (20-11) pick up where they left off last year as Brooklyn and the Philadelphia Phils clash at Ebbets Field before some 30,000. Newcombe was the loser and Roberts the winner when the Phils nipped the Brooks in the final flag-deciding game last October.

Manager Charlie Dressen of the Dodgers is frantically seeking a starter to replace Erv Palica who is army bound. Thus far he has only Newcombe and Preacher Roe (19-11) as dependables. Eddie Sawyer of the Phils confesses he has no idea where he can get a pitcher to make up for the loss of 17-game winner Curt Simmons to the army. Otherwise, his team is set.

Leo Durocher is another of those lucky people who is happy over his pitching. However, he knows that Sal Maglie (18-4) and Jim Hearn (11-4) must do it again if his New York Giants are to win the pennant. He plans to pitch Larry Jansen (19-13), his most dependable hurler, against Boston's Vern Bickford (19-14) before 20,000. The latter of no-hit fame last season, collaborated with Warren Spahn (21-17) and Johnny Sain (20-13) to total 60 victories for the Braves.

Fox will oppose the Cubs' Frank Hiller (12-5) as the Reds are host to Chicago before some 28,000. The St. Louis Cardinals, with a veteran pitching staff take on the Pirates in Pittsburgh. About 30,000 will see Murry Dickson (10-15), ex-Redbird who has become a Cardinal killer, toe the mound for the Bucs. He will be opposed by Gerry Staley (13-13), usually successful against the Pirates.

Trailways Win Two Matches

Adirondack Trailways completed their Hudson Valley League season by winning four out of six games in a Sunday doubleheader against Liberty Villa and Saugerties Recs.

Cy's Diner of Newburgh swept to the league title by taking three games from the Middletown Bennetts.

Led by Harold Broskie's 184-227-244-655, the Trailways rolled 1107 in their final game of the season against Saugerties. They totaled 3008. Johnny Schatzel aided with 204-223-616. B. M. Rinaldi anchored the visitors with 221-606.

Hammerin' Hank Kemmerer kept his bid for third place average alive with a 235-600 effort on the Liberty drives where the Trailways posted a 2875 total.

Michigan Keglers Lead ABC Doubles

St. Paul, April 15 (AP)—A couple of Lansing, Mich. veterans—Bob Benson and Eddie Marshall—rolled a 1334 total in the doubles division of the American Bowling Congress today, a score nine pins higher than the winning total of the 1950 event at Columbus, Ohio.

They put together games of 449, 445 and 440.

Benson, 57 years old and competing in his 21st tournament, rolled his previous ABC high score of 687 at Indianapolis in 1937. His games were 237, 219 and 244 for 680.

Marshall, a 38-year-old carpenter, rolled 645 on games of 212, 226 and 216.

Johnny Frey and Tom Sweeney of Cheviot, Ohio, rolled 1289 on games of 412, 491 and 386 for second place in the doubles. Sweeney also posted 1860 for second in the all-events.

Andy Varipapa, of Hempstead, N. Y., twice national match game champion, posted 1763 for his all-events, with 559 in the team event; 619 in the doubles and 585 in the singles.

Marcal Products of East Paterson, N. J. continued to lead the team event with 2992. Adolph Schultz of St. Paul is the singles leader with 696, while Louis Frantz of Louisville was in the all-events lead with 1907.

Brain Ailment Fells Pirate Hurler

Pittsburgh, April 16 (AP)—Bill Pierro, Pittsburgh Pirate pitcher, is in Presbyterian Hospital in serious condition from a brain ailment.

Dr. Norman C. Ochsenhirt, team physician, said last night he had consulted brain specialists and we've diagnosed Pierro's ailment as either encephalitis (inflammation of the brain) or meningitis (inflammation of the brain lining.)

Pierro first became ill at Knoxville, Tenn., last Tuesday. He entered the hospital here on his 25th birthday Saturday. His wife arrived by plane last night from their Brooklyn home.

The rookie pitcher lost two games with Pittsburgh last year after being brought up from Indianapolis of the American Association where he had an 8-3 record.

Pierro Saturday was assigned to Indianapolis on a 24-hour option. Pirate General Manager Branch Rickey called off the deal which provided for the purchase of Southpaw Paul La Palme from Indianapolis when he was unable to deliver Pierro.

83 Robins Hail Spring

Ancaster, Ont. (AP)—Those persons who eagerly report the first robin of spring were put in the shade by two residents of this Hamilton suburb. They counted 83 robins in a flock that alighted on the outskirts of town.

Woman Angler Lands Beauties

Mrs. Douglas Tyler, of 1 Murphy street, one of the best known woman anglers in the area, is credited with two of the outstanding catches of the infant trout season. She landed a 20-inch Rainbow and a 20-inch Brown trout about noon Sunday in the Ashokan reservoir.

Strangely enough, the two beautiful specimens were her only catches for the day. Mrs. Tyler and her husband, Douglas Tyler, have been a prominent husband-wife fishing combination for many years.

Mrs. Tyler was the first local woman to procure a fishing license when the privilege was extended to the distaff anglers.

Babe's Record 66 Paces Weathervane

Dallas, April 16 (AP)—The woman's golf tour rolled on to California today with the incomparable Babe Didrikson Zaharias holding a four-stroke lead in the $17,000 144-hole cross-country Weathervane tournament.

The mighty Babe came from far back yesterday to equal the greatest round of woman's golf of all time and win the first 36 holes of the Weathervane. She shot a 66-nine under par—over chilly Lakewood Country Club's 6100-yard course to make her 36-hole total 149. She won $750 and brought her earnings for the year to $3825—$925 more than second place Patty Berg, the Minneapolis redhead.

Miss Berg wound up second with 153 and got $500.

The second 36 holes of the Weathervane, in which Mrs. Zaharias is defending champion, will be played May 5-6 at Pebble Beach, Calif. But there are three tournaments on the tour before that. April 21-23 the links gals play at Richmond, Calif., then come appearances at Sacramento and Fresno. The Weathervane's third 36 will be at Indianapolis May 18-19 and the final at New York May 26-27.

The Babe's 66 was five under men's par at Lakewood, five under the woman's competitive course record and one stroke over the men's course record. She had to do it; she had taken an 83 in the first 18 holes.

Legion Keglers In State Tourney

Kingston Post No. 150, American Legion, announced today that it would send a team to the second annual New York State American Legion bowling tournament in Syracuse Saturday and Sunday, April 21-22.

Approximately 150 teams are entered in the 1951 competition. Members of the local squad are Phil Corrado, Angelo Corrado, Frank Bruno, Bill Schabot and Mike Milano.

Albany Woman Tops State Meet

Binghamton, N. Y., April 16 (AP)—Aggie Meinbrook of Albany was out in front today in the Class A division of the New York State Women's Bowling Tournament.

She cracked 605 yesterday and was the first competitor in the 18th annual pin classic to break into the 600 circle in the singles.

The tournament, with an entry list of 1,915 five-member teams, opened March 30. It will end May 27.

Ann Swierczak of Niagara Falls rolled into first place in the all events competition hitting 1,690 for nine games. She also teamed with Mae Eodice to take over the lead in the Class A doubles. Their total was 1,123.

In the team competition, Ann scored 534. She posted 587 in the doubles and 569 in the singles.

The T. J. Byrnes Club of Binghamton moved into the top spot of the Class B team division by scoring 2,462.

Colvin Casino of Buffalo still tops the Class A event with 2,618.

The Class B doubles lead changed when Alyce Costello and Louise Huller of Minoa rolled 1,001.

Other leaders:

Class B singles—Margaret Callahan, Schenectady, 558; Class C singles — Ruth Vrooman, Canajoharie, 508; Class C doubles—Jane Burt and Genevieve Kraushaar, Syracuse, 961; Class C team—EJ Fair Play, Endicott, 2,312.

Week-End Sports

(By the Associated Press)

Dallas— Babe Didrickson Zaharias, defending champion, won first leg of 144-hole cross country Weathervane tourney with a blazing 66 for 36-hole total of 149.

Houston, Tex.—Pat Keller McCormick, Los Angeles, won three-meter diving title at National A.A.U. women's meet to become the first to hold all five indoor and outdoor diving titles at same time.

Derby, Conn.—Cambridge University beat Yale by four lengths in first international collegiate rowing race held in U. S.

New York—Sonic, $28.80, beat Jumbo, 80 to 1 shot, by half length in Experimental Handicap No. 2 at Jamacia as Uncle Miltie, 1-3 favorite, ran eighth in 10-hourse field.

Binghamton Kegler Tops State Singles

Elmira, N. Y., April 16 (AP)—Frank Blagg of Binghamton took the honors in week-end rolling in the New York State Men's Bowling tournament here, scoring 708 actual pins in the doubles event.

It was the second of eight weekends of bowling in the 26th annual tourney.

Blagg was teamed with Dana Ellis of Binghamton who rolled 511. Their total of 1,219 actual pins put them in a tie for third place.

Sam Di Bella of Rome took over the top spot in the all events handicap division with 1,985 total pins.

John Ferraro of Kingston and Carl Hoffmaier of Rochester rolled into a first place tie of 1,840 pins in the all events handicap race.

Ferraro still leads in the singles championship race with a 677 triple rolled last week. Other leaders:

Handicap singles: George Daniels, Buffalo, 730 pins.

Actual pins team events: Masline Appliance, Rochester, 2,880.

Handicap team events: Oasis Grill, Elmira, 3,180.

Actual pins doubles; L. Reimer and J. Bloom, Rochester, 1,254.

Handicap doubles: Franklin Laemlein and Elmer Ward, Rochester, 1,354.

Larsen and Flam In Houston Tourney

Houston, Tex., April 16 (AP)—National champion Art Larsen and Intercolligiate titlist Herbie Flam rank one, two in the 17th annual River Oaks tennis tournament opening here today.

Four of the nation's six top amateurs are entered in the big week-long tournament.

Seeded entries in action today include Gardnar Mulloy, No. 3; Billy Talbert, New York City, No. 4; Tony Vincent, New York City, No. 5 and Hamilton Richardson, Baton Rouge, La., No. 7.

A three time winner, Bryan (Bitsy) Grant of Atlanta, Ga., isn't seeded this time. His first opponent is Karl Kamrath, former University of Texas star.

Bob Falkenburg, defending singles champion, is not entered.

It Just Comes Naturally, So Old Pros Watch Mickey Take Licks

By HARRY GRAYSON
(NEA Sports Editor)

Talk in the Yankee clubhouse and behind the batting cage centers around Mickey Mantle, just as though the extraordinary recruit were already established as one of the superior players of the game.

Young Mantle swings so naturally from either side of the plate that old pros stand and watch him bat.

That's the mark of true greatness . . . when men who play for a living take time out from their own work to feast their eyes on another.

Napoleon Lajoie was such an attraction among his own. So were Honus Wagner, Cobb, Hornsby, Shoeless Joe Jackson and Ruth. So are Ted Williams, Joe DiMaggio, Musial and Kiner. But you count them on your fingers.

Feller Only Hurler

Bob Feller was the only pitcher old-timers ever saw who had teammates and opponents watching him warm up. The Iowa farm boy was something to see when he was setting strikeout records.

Everyone agrees they never saw a 19-year-old ball player like Mantle.

"And he has twin 15-year-old brothers, Roy and Ray, who they say are just as good as he was at that age," says Eddie Lopat, with a whistle of amazement.

"Mickey is almost unbelievably advanced for a kid still in his teens. He starts with the secret of hitting—timing. He's hard to fool because he takes an identical swing on any type of pitch.

"That is perhaps the most remarkable thing about him at such an early stage. After being fed three fast balls, he is likely to belt a curve or change-up out of the park."

Casey Ecstatic

It's too bad Casey Stengel can't be put on television describing his newest favorite subject in pantomime. It's the greatest show on earth.

Old Case's description of Mantle going to first base, or from first to third, is a quick flick of the right wrist and "Shoosh!"

In addition to his tremendous power, every ball Mantle hits to the infield is hot because of his extraordinary speed. The inimitable Stengel rolls baseball writers on the floor depicting a pitcher trying to find the handle on a ball bunted by the whiz kid.

Asked if he believed Mantle, the converted shortstop, could make the jump from Class C to right field at Yankee Stadium, Manager Stengel said: "When this young feller gets to loping around out there, a lot of long-ball hitters are going to be sick."

Mantle still gets rid of the ball with a snap throw of the infielder. Casey Stengel told him to raise his leg high in the air and throw the ball high.

"He threw it three miles," Casey said.

35 Report For Drill

Overcast skies and chilly weather greeted the vanguard of Kingston Colonial baseball hopefuls this morning at municipal stadium.

About 35 players turned out for the first workout under Manager Hank Camelli. Others were expected to drift in during the day from various parts of the country.

Week-end developments in the front office included a trip by local directors to the Canadian-American League meeting in Pittsfield on Saturday.

The league directors discussed only routine business matters, it was announced today. The next meeting was set for Kingston in June.

Irving Kaze, a graduate of Florida Southern College's business administration course for front office personnel for baseball, was interviewed by local officials Saturday morning for the business manager's post.

A decision on Kaze is expected during the day.

All-DUSO Five Due Tuesday

The All-DUSO basketball selections for the 1950-51 season will be announced on Tuesday. The mythical quintet reflects a wide variation of opinion among the DUSO sports writers as no player was a unanimous choice.

Pete Camp is the only Kingston player mentioned. He got honorable mention.

If you want to deceive an opponent, it isn't always necessary to make weird and wonderful plays. Your opponent may be already on the wrong track, and it is enough if you merely sit quietly without disturbing him.

In today's hand West opened the king of spades, and South won with the ace. Declarer drew trumps with the ace and king, and East mildly discarded the deuce of clubs on the second round of trumps. Declarer next led dummy's singleton club, and East saw no harm in playing the three of clubs.

This didn't surprise South. He expected to find most of the missing high cards in West's hand because of West's bid. He naturally assumed that West had the ace of clubs, and therefore finessed the jack of clubs at this point.

West won with the queen of clubs without lifting an eyebrow. He returned the queen of spades, and South ruffed as expected. It was still possible for South to make the hand by means of a squeeze if he suspected that East had the ace of clubs.

However, South was convinced that the ace of clubs was still in the West hand. Therefore he eventually led the king of clubs through West and discarded from dummy when West played a low club. This gave East the chance to take his ace of clubs for the setting the trick.

It is important to note that declarer would make his sam without the slightest difficulty if East played the ace of clubs when that suit was led for the first time. South would then have only two losing clubs, with two trumps in the dummy to take care of them.

Give Prizes for Show

Several prizes for the winners in the Kingston High School Dog Lovers' Club annual show, to be held Saturday, April 28, at the Chapel Hill Kennels, 76 Chapel street, have been donated by business firms of the city. Richard Meyer, jeweler, has donated a silver pin; Richard Jones of Everett & Treadwell, has given a dog harness and Otto Seyfert of 57 North Front street will donate a boy's or girl's watch. This is the first annual dog show of the K.H.S. Dog Lovers' Club and is open to students of both the high school and M.J.M. Two classes will be shown, pedigreed and mixed breeds. Prizes and ribbons will be awarded. Arnold Schmidt, owner of the kennels will judge the entries.

Major League Pilots Pin Pennant Hopes on Improved Pitching Staffs

Washington, April 16 (AP)—H. Truman, a veteran lefthanded pitcher with a fair fast ball, arranged to make the first pitch today and start the 1951 baseball season on its way.

Shortly after the presidential pitch (at 3 p.m., EST), the world champion New York Yankees met the Washington Senators.

Manager Casey Stengel picked a surprise mound starter, Rookie Tom Morgan. He officially became a member of the Yankees only yesterday with the formal transfer of his contract from Kansas City. Morgan won 17 and lost eight for Binghamton in the Eastern League last year. He is a righthander.

Manager Bucky Harris chose Bob Kuzava, lefthander who won eight games and lost seven for the fifth place Senators after coming here from the Chicago White Sox.

Pitching Is Factor

"We'll win if the pitching holds up."

Ever hear that before? Sure, it's the same old managerial moan as a new major league baseball season begins today with a game in each circuit. A complete eight-game slate is on tap for tomorrow.

"My only worry is pitching," says Manager Casey Stengel of the defending champion New York Yankees.

"It all depends on Allie Reynolds. If his arm comes around in the next 10 days, we'll be in fine shape and should win again. Until I know about him, I won't be able to line up my starters."

Blackwell Ready

Luke Sewell of Cincinnati is one of the few skippers who has no visual pitching problems. He had Ewell Blackwell (17-15), one of the best in the business, all primed for today's opener between the Reds and Pittsburgh Pirates in Cincinnati. Another bumper crowd of some 32,000, was slated to watch the lanky righthander take on Cliff Chambers (12-15), Pirate southpaw.

"Pitching is my strong point," says Sewell. "Show me a better starting five than Blackwell, Howard Fox (11-8), Ken Raffensberger (14-19), Herb Wehmeier (10-18), and Will Ramsdell (8-14). I don't know how we'll fare but we're an improved club.

Billy Meyer, Pittsburgh pilot, thinks his club can get out of the basement "provided we get the pitching and Ralph Kiner works out at first base." His starters include Murry Dickson, Vernon Law, Will Werle and Rookie Bob Friend.

O'Neil Confident

All other managers will have to wait another day to get their first official indication as to how their pitching will hold up. They are all leading with their aces. Stout Steve O'Neill openly declares that his Boston Red Sox have the best chucking in the American League.

"The Yankees may have the best Big Three in Lopat, Raschi and Reynolds," he argues, "but I have the best top five in (Mel) Parnell, (Will) Wight, (Ray) Scarborough, (Will) Dixon and (Harry) Taylor."

Parnell (18-10) is the choice to oppose Vic Raschi (21-8), at the Yankee Stadium in the opening clash between the Yankees and Red Sox before some 55,000 tomorrow.

No Tribe Lefties

Despite four such fine starters as Bob Lemon, Bob Feller, Early Wynn and Mike Garcia, Al Lopez of the Cleveland Indians still has a pitching problem. There isn't a lefthander on the front line crew.

At that, he is much better off than Red Rolfe, genial Detroit manager who still hasn't come up with anyone to replace Art Houtteman, his 19-game winner now in the army. Rolfe also must wait for final judgment on Virgil Trucks, his lame armed righthander.

It will be up to Hal Newhouser (15-13), the old "stopper" to get the Tigers off on the right foot. He will be opposed by Lemon (23-11), the majors' biggest winner last year. Some 54,000 were expected to attend.

Bill Pierce (12-16) and Ned Garver (13-18), a pair of efficient hurlers with losing ball clubs last season, were to oppose each other before 15,000 in St. Louis as the Chicago White Sox and Browns clash.

"If we get a couple of more pitchers to go with Pierce, Bob Cain and Joe Dobson, we'll take a back step for nobody," says Paul Richards of the White Sox.

"Our team will go just as far as the pitching," says Zach Taylor of the Browns. It would be cruel to ask Zach "what pitching?"

The same can be asked of Jimmy Dykes, whose Athletics take on the Senators in Philadelphia in the first night game opener in the American League. Bobby Shantz (8-14) is to oppose Washington's Hudson (14-14).

Newcombe Opens

Don Newcombe (19-11) and Robin Roberts (20-11) pick up where they left off last year as Brooklyn and the Philadelphia Phils clash at Ebbets Field before some 30,000. Newcombe was the loser and Roberts the winner when the Phils nipped the Brooks in the final flag-deciding game last October.

Manager Charlie Dressen of the Dodgers is frantically seeking a starter to replace Erv Palica who is army bound. Thus far he has only Newcombe and Preacher Roe (19-11) as dependables. Eddie Sawyer of the Phils confesses he has no idea where he can get a pitcher to make up for the loss of 17-game winner Curt Simmons to the army. Otherwise, his team is set.

Leo Durocher is another of those lucky people who is happy over his pitching. However, he knows that Sal Maglie (18-4) and Jim Hearn (11-4) must do it again if his New York Giants are to win the pennant. He plans to pitch Larry Jansen (19-13), his most dependable hurler, against Boston's Vern Bickford (19-14) before 20,000. The latter of no-hit fame last season, collaborated with Warren Spahn (21-17) and Johnny Sain (20-13) to total 60 victories for the Braves.

Fox will oppose the Cubs' Frank Hiller (12-5) as the Reds are host to Chicago before some 28,000. The St. Louis Cardinals, with a veteran pitching staff take on the Pirates in Pittsburgh. About 30,000 will see Murry Dickson (10-15), ex-Redbird who has become a Cardinal killer, toe the mound for the Bucs. He will be opposed by Gerry Staley (13-13), usually successful against the Pirates.

Trailways Win Two Matches

Adirondack Trailways completed their Hudson Valley League season by winning four out of six games in a Sunday doubleheader against Liberty Villa and Saugerties Recs.

Cy's Diner of Newburgh swept to the league title by taking three games from the Middletown Bennetts.

Led by Harold Broskie's 184-227-244-655, the Trailways rolled 1107 in their final game of the season against Saugerties. They totaled 3008. Johnny Schatzel aided with 204-223-616. B. M. Rinaldi anchored the visitors with 221-606.

Hammerin' Hank Kemmerer kept his bid for third place average alive with a 235-600 effort on the Liberty drives where the Trailways posted a 2875 total.

Michigan Keglers Lead ABC Doubles

St. Paul, April 15 (AP)—A couple of Lansing, Mich. veterans—Bob Benson and Eddie Marshall—rolled a 1334 total in the doubles division of the American Bowling Congress today, a score nine pins higher than the winning total of the 1950 event at Columbus, Ohio.

They put together games of 449, 445 and 440.

Benson, 57 years old and competing in his 21st tournament, rolled his previous ABC high score of 687 at Indianapolis in 1937. His games were 237, 219 and 244 for 680.

Marshall, a 38-year-old carpenter, rolled 645 on games of 212, 226 and 216.

Johnny Frey and Tom Sweeney of Cheviot, Ohio, rolled 1289 on games of 412, 491 and 386 for second place in the doubles. Sweeney also posted 1860 for second in the all-events.

Andy Varipapa, of Hempstead, N. Y., twice national match game champion, posted 1763 for his all-events, with 559 in the team event; 619 in the doubles and 585 in the singles.

Marcal Products of East Paterson, N. J. continued to lead the team event with 2992. Adolph Schultz of St. Paul is the singles leader with 696, while Louis Frantz of Louisville was in the all-events lead with 1907.

Brain Ailment Fells Pirate Hurler

Pittsburgh, April 16 (AP)—Bill Pierro, Pittsburgh Pirate pitcher, is in Presbyterian Hospital in serious condition from a brain ailment.

Dr. Norman C. Ochsenhirt, team physician, said last night he had consulted brain specialists and we've diagnosed Pierro's ailment as either encephalitis (inflammation of the brain) or meningitis (inflammation of the brain lining.)

Pierro first became ill at Knoxville, Tenn., last Tuesday. He entered the hospital here on his 25th birthday Saturday. His wife arrived by plane last night from their Brooklyn home.

The rookie pitcher lost two games with Pittsburgh last year after being brought up from Indianapolis of the American Association where he had an 8-3 record.

Pierro Saturday was assigned to Indianapolis on a 24-hour option. Pirate General Manager Branch Rickey called off the deal which provided for the purchase of Southpaw Paul La Palme from Indianapolis when he was unable to deliver Pierro.

Livia Tenedini rolled high triple of 486 in the Chalet Pioneer Women's League, with solos of 143, 165 and 178. Runnerup Helen Sutton posted 477 and Dolores Joyce had 466. Other scores of note included Kay Houska's 452; E. Pratt 444; M. Gilmartin 417; Doris Gillen 410 and R. Hutchins 404.

Clarence Herdman edged John Thompson by a single stick for high average honors in the Hercules Bowling League, 176 to 175, with Jack Martin's 173 taking the show spot. Bill Mohr finished with a flat 170.

Thompson won both individual honors with 247 and 621, while Maintenance shot 1044 and Blasting Caps 2929 for team honors.

Blasting Caps swept both halves of the pennant race for the league championship.

Joe "Bush" Sangi and Jennie Spada led their respective divisions of the Central Rec Mixed League, with 613 and 520 last night. Sangi shot 189-182-237, while Miss Spada rolled 148-199-173.

The "500" shooters among the men were Frank Bruno 204-573; Fred Schryver 222-570; Frank Grimaldi 201-203-567; Ken Radel 222-541; Jim Daniels 531 and V. La Rocca 524. Kay Roosa had a neat 207-514; E. Barkley 474; Marge Van Alstyne 443; Sally O'Bryan 413 and B. Ostrander 408.

83 Robins Hail Spring

Ancaster, Ont. (AP)—Those persons who eagerly report the first robin of spring were put in the shade by two residents of this Hamilton suburb. They counted 83 robins in a flock that alighted on the outskirts of town.

Chris Robinson and Dot Rawding Win Freeman Headpin Trophies

Chris Robinson and Dot Rawding are the trophy winners in the Daily Freeman Headpin bowling tournament that ended last night at the Bowlodrome.

Robinson's 109, rolled early in the tournament, held up against all opposition, while Mrs. Rawding's equally brilliant 108 was seriously challenged only once. Mrs. Tess Moss shot a 107.

Both winners will be presented with Freeman trophies in the near future.

The "Name Your Score" contest sponsored by the K.W.B.A. produced 13 winners who copped 15 prizes. Dot Rawding was a double winner with scores of 170 and 200. Rosalie Eckdish hit the jackpot with 135 and 148.

The winning list included: Sue Heins 180; Charlotte Lapine 177; Jack Ferraro 201; Jim Moss 202; Len Freer 160; Fred Bruno 165; Joan Singer 104; Moe Lazarowitz 162; Joe Bell 163; Reta Frederick 152; Elizabest Schoonmaker 133.

Charles J. Tiano, the Freeman sports editor, won the $25 "jackpot" in the Headpin tournament with a score of 104. The runnerup was Buster Ferraro with 97. More than 200 entries competed in the headpin play.

Woman Angler Lands Beauties

Mrs. Douglas Tyler, of 1 Murphy street, one of the best known woman anglers in the area, is credited with two of the outstanding catches of the infant trout season. She landed a 20-inch Rainbow and a 20-inch Brown trout about noon Sunday in the Ashokan reservoir.

Strangely enough, the two beautiful specimens were her only catches for the day. Mrs. Tyler and her husband, Douglas Tyler, have been a prominent husband-wife fishing combination for many years.

Mrs. Tyler was the first local woman to procure a fishing license when the privilege was extended to the distaff anglers.

Babe's Record 66 Paces Weathervane

Dallas, April 16 (AP)—The woman's golf tour rolled on to California today with the incomparable Babe Didrikson Zaharias holding a four-stroke lead in the $17,000 144-hole cross-country Weathervane tournament.

The mighty Babe came from far back yesterday to equal the greatest round of woman's golf of all time and win the first 36 holes of the Weathervane. She shot a 66-nine under par—over chilly Lakewood Country Club's 6100-yard course to make her 36-hole total 149. She won $750 and brought her earnings for the year to $3825—$925 more than second place Patty Berg, the Minneapolis redhead.

Miss Berg wound up second with 153 and got $500.

The second 36 holes of the Weathervane, in which Mrs. Zaharias is defending champion, will be played May 5-6 at Pebble Beach, Calif. But there are three tournaments on the tour before that. April 21-23 the links gals play at Richmond, Calif., then come appearances at Sacramento and Fresno. The Weathervane's third 36 will be at Indianapolis May 18-19 and the final at New York May 26-27.

The Babe's 66 was five under men's par at Lakewood, five under the woman's competitive course record and one stroke over the men's course record. She had to do it; she had taken an 83 in the first 18 holes.

Legion Keglers In State Tourney

Kingston Post No. 150, American Legion, announced today that it would send a team to the second annual New York State American Legion bowling tournament in Syracuse Saturday and Sunday, April 21-22.

Approximately 150 teams are entered in the 1951 competition. Members of the local squad are Phil Corrado, Angelo Corrado, Frank Bruno, Bill Schabot and Mike Milano.

Albany Woman Tops State Meet

Binghamton, N. Y., April 16 (AP)—Aggie Meinbrook of Albany was out in front today in the Class A division of the New York State Women's Bowling Tournament.

She cracked 605 yesterday and was the first competitor in the 18th annual pin classic to break into the 600 circle in the singles.

The tournament, with an entry list of 1,915 five-member teams, opened March 30. It will end May 27.

Ann Swierczak of Niagara Falls rolled into first place in the all events competition hitting 1,690 for nine games. She also teamed with Mae Eodice to take over the lead in the Class A doubles. Their total was 1,123.

In the team competition, Ann scored 534. She posted 587 in the doubles and 569 in the singles.

The T. J. Byrnes Club of Binghamton moved into the top spot of the Class B team division by scoring 2,462.

Colvin Casino of Buffalo still tops the Class A event with 2,618.

The Class B doubles lead changed when Alyce Costello and Louise Huller of Minoa rolled 1,001.

Other leaders:

Class B singles—Margaret Callahan, Schenectady, 558; Class C singles — Ruth Vrooman, Canajoharie, 508; Class C doubles—Jane Burt and Genevieve Kraushaar, Syracuse, 961; Class C team—EJ Fair Play, Endicott, 2,312.

Week-End Sports

(By the Associated Press)

Dallas— Babe Didrickson Zaharias, defending champion, won first leg of 144-hole cross country Weathervane tourney with a blazing 66 for 36-hole total of 149.

Houston, Tex.—Pat Keller McCormick, Los Angeles, won three-meter diving title at National A.A.U. women's meet to become the first to hold all five indoor and outdoor diving titles at same time.

Derby, Conn.—Cambridge University beat Yale by four lengths in first international collegiate rowing race held in U. S.

New York—Sonic, $28.80, beat Jumbo, 80 to 1 shot, by half length in Experimental Handicap No. 2 at Jamacia as Uncle Miltie, 1-3 favorite, ran eighth in 10-hourse field.

Binghamton Kegler Tops State Singles

Elmira, N. Y., April 16 (AP)—Frank Blagg of Binghamton took the honors in week-end rolling in the New York State Men's Bowling tournament here, scoring 708 actual pins in the doubles event.

It was the second of eight weekends of bowling in the 26th annual tourney.

Blagg was teamed with Dana Ellis of Binghamton who rolled 511. Their total of 1,219 actual pins put them in a tie for third place.

Sam Di Bella of Rome took over the top spot in the all events handicap division with 1,985 total pins.

John Ferraro of Kingston and Carl Hoffmaier of Rochester rolled into a first place tie of 1,840 pins in the all events handicap race.

Ferraro still leads in the singles championship race with a 677 triple rolled last week. Other leaders:

Handicap singles: George Daniels, Buffalo, 730 pins.

Actual pins team events: Masline Appliance, Rochester, 2,880.

Handicap team events: Oasis Grill, Elmira, 3,180.

Actual pins doubles; L. Reimer and J. Bloom, Rochester, 1,254.

Handicap doubles: Franklin Laemlein and Elmer Ward, Rochester, 1,354.

Larsen and Flam In Houston Tourney

Houston, Tex., April 16 (AP)—National champion Art Larsen and Intercolligiate titlist Herbie Flam rank one, two in the 17th annual River Oaks tennis tournament opening here today.

Four of the nation's six top amateurs are entered in the big week-long tournament.

Seeded entries in action today include Gardnar Mulloy, No. 3; Billy Talbert, New York City, No. 4; Tony Vincent, New York City, No. 5 and Hamilton Richardson, Baton Rouge, La., No. 7.

A three time winner, Bryan (Bitsy) Grant of Atlanta, Ga., isn't seeded this time. His first opponent is Karl Kamrath, former University of Texas star.

Bob Falkenburg, defending singles champion, is not entered.

It Just Comes Naturally, So Old Pros Watch Mickey Take Licks

By HARRY GRAYSON
(NEA Sports Editor)

Talk in the Yankee clubhouse and behind the batting cage centers around Mickey Mantle, just as though the extraordinary recruit were already established as one of the superior players of the game.

Young Mantle swings so naturally from either side of the plate that old pros stand and watch him bat.

That's the mark of true greatness . . . when men who play for a living take time out from their own work to feast their eyes on another.

Napoleon Lajoie was such an attraction among his own. So were Honus Wagner, Cobb, Hornsby, Shoeless Joe Jackson and Ruth. So are Ted Williams, Joe DiMaggio, Musial and Kiner. But you count them on your fingers.

Feller Only Hurler

Bob Feller was the only pitcher old-timers ever saw who had teammates and opponents watching him warm up. The Iowa farm boy was something to see when he was setting strikeout records.

Everyone agrees they never saw a 19-year-old ball player like Mantle.

"And he has twin 15-year-old brothers, Roy and Ray, who they say are just as good as he was at that age," says Eddie Lopat, with a whistle of amazement.

"Mickey is almost unbelievably advanced for a kid still in his teens. He starts with the secret of hitting—timing. He's hard to fool because he takes an identical swing on any type of pitch.

"That is perhaps the most remarkable thing about him at such an early stage. After being fed three fast balls, he is likely to belt a curve or change-up out of the park."

Casey Ecstatic

It's too bad Casey Stengel can't be put on television describing his newest favorite subject in pantomime. It's the greatest show on earth.

Old Case's description of Mantle going to first base, or from first to third, is a quick flick of the right wrist and "Shoosh!"

In addition to his tremendous power, every ball Mantle hits to the infield is hot because of his extraordinary speed. The inimitable Stengel rolls baseball writers on the floor depicting a pitcher trying to find the handle on a ball bunted by the whiz kid.

Asked if he believed Mantle, the converted shortstop, could make the jump from Class C to right field at Yankee Stadium, Manager Stengel said: "When this young feller gets to loping around out there, a lot of long-ball hitters are going to be sick."

Mantle still gets rid of the ball with a snap throw of the infielder. Casey Stengel told him to raise his leg high in the air and throw the ball high.

"He threw it three miles," Casey said.

Yonkers Opener

Yonkers, N. Y., April 16 (AP)—New York's harness racing season opens tonight at Yonkers Raceway with Retlaw Winchell the overnight favorite to win the $5,000 Inaugural, one mile pace. Scheduled to be driven by Stanley Dancer, Retlaw Winchell was held at 3 to 1. Other pacers entered include Moore Volo, Thomas B. Scot, Vologda Dale, Wayzoff, Oliviette Hanover, Single See, WAAC, Mac Bingen and Mighty Sister.

35 Report For Drill

Overcast skies and chilly weather greeted the vanguard of Kingston Colonial baseball hopefuls this morning at municipal stadium.

About 35 players turned out for the first workout under Manager Hank Camelli. Others were expected to drift in during the day from various parts of the country.

Week-end developments in the front office included a trip by local directors to the Canadian-American League meeting in Pittsfield on Saturday.

The league directors discussed only routine business matters, it was announced today. The next meeting was set for Kingston in June.

Irving Kaze, a graduate of Florida Southern College's business administration course for front office personnel for baseball, was interviewed by local officials Saturday morning for the business manager's post.

A decision on Kaze is expected during the day.

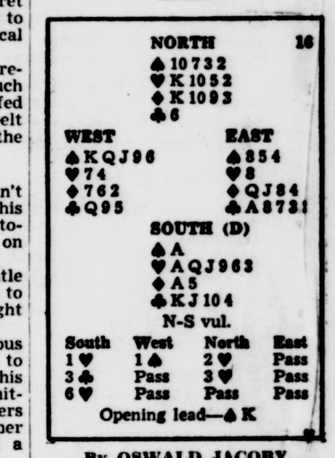

All-DUSO Five Due Tuesday

The All-DUSO basketball selections for the 1950-51 season will be announced on Tuesday. The mythical quintet reflects a wide variation of opinion among the DUSO sports writers as no player was a unanimous choice.

Pete Camp is the only Kingston player mentioned. He got honorable mention.

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

Let Opponent Alone If He's Up a Tree

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

If you want to deceive an opponent, it isn't always necessary to make weird and wonderful plays. Your opponent may be already on the wrong track, and it is enough if you merely sit quietly without disturbing him.

In today's hand West opened the king of spades, and South won with the ace. Declarer drew trumps with the ace and king, and East mildly discarded the deuce of clubs on the second round of trumps. Declarer next led dummy's singleton club, and East saw no harm in playing the three of clubs.

This didn't surprise South. He expected to find most of the missing high cards in West's hand because of West's bid. He naturally assumed that West had the ace of clubs, and therefore finessed the jack of clubs at this point.

West won with the queen of clubs without lifting an eyebrow. He returned the queen of spades, and South ruffed as expected. It was still possible for South to make the hand by means of a squeeze if he susp

Major League Pilots Pin Pennant Hopes on Improved Pitching Staffs

Washington, April 16 (AP)—H. Truman, a veteran lefthanded pitcher with a fair fast ball, arranged to make the first pitch today and start the 1951 baseball season on its way.

Shortly after the presidential pitch (at 3 p.m., EST), the world champion New York Yankees met the Washington Senators.

Manager Casey Stengel picked a surprise mound starter, Rookie Tom Morgan. He officially became a member of the Yankees only yesterday with the formal transfer of his contract from Kansas City. Morgan won 17 and lost eight for Binghamton in the Eastern League last year. He is a righthander.

Manager Bucky Harris chose Bob Kuzava, lefthander who won eight games and lost seven for the fifth place Senators after coming here from the Chicago White Sox.

Pitching Is Factor

"We'll win if the pitching holds up."

Ever hear that before? Sure, it's the same old managerial moan as a new major league baseball season begins today with a game in each circuit. A complete eight-game slate is on tap for tomorrow.

"My only worry is pitching," says Manager Casey Stengel of the defending champion New York Yankees.

"It all depends on Allie Reynolds. If his arm comes around in the next 10 days, we'll be in fine shape and should win again. Until I know about him, I won't be able to line up my starters."

Blackwell Ready

Luke Sewell of Cincinnati is one of the few skippers who has no visual pitching problems. He had Ewell Blackwell (17-15), one of the best in the business, all primed for today's opener between the Reds and Pittsburgh Pirates in Cincinnati. Another bumper crowd of some 32,000, was slated to watch the lanky righthander take on Cliff Chambers (12-15), Pirate southpaw.

"Pitching is my strong point," says Sewell. "Show me a better starting five than Blackwell, Howard Fox (11-8), Ken Raffensberger (14-19), Herb Wehmeier (10-18), and Will Ramsdell (8-14). I don't know how we'll fare but we're an improved club.

Billy Meyer, Pittsburgh pilot, thinks his club can get out of the basement "provided we get the pitching and Ralph Kiner works out at first base." His starters include Murry Dickson, Vernon Law, Will Werle and Rookie Bob Friend.

O'Neil Confident

All other managers will have to wait another day to get their first official indication as to how their pitching will hold up. They are all leading with their aces. Stout Steve O'Neill openly declares that his Boston Red Sox have the best chucking in the American League.

"The Yankees may have the best Big Three in Lopat, Raschi and Reynolds," he argues, "but I have the best top five in (Mel) Parnell, (Will) Wight, (Ray) Scarborough, (Will) Dixon and (Harry) Taylor."

Parnell (18-10) is the choice to oppose Vic Raschi (21-8), at the Yankee Stadium in the opening clash between the Yankees and Red Sox before some 55,000 tomorrow.

No Tribe Lefties

Despite four such fine starters as Bob Lemon, Bob Feller, Early Wynn and Mike Garcia, Al Lopez of the Cleveland Indians still has a pitching problem. There isn't a lefthander on the front line crew.

At that, he is much better off than Red Rolfe, genial Detroit manager who still hasn't come up with anyone to replace Art Houtteman, his 19-game winner now in the army. Rolfe also must wait for final judgment on Virgil Trucks, his lame armed righthander.

It will be up to Hal Newhouser (15-13), the old "stopper" to get the Tigers off on the right foot. He will be opposed by Lemon (23-11), the majors' biggest winner last year. Some 54,000 were expected to attend.

Bill Pierce (12-16) and Ned Garver (13-18), a pair of efficient hurlers with losing ball clubs last season, were to oppose each other before 15,000 in St. Louis as the Chicago White Sox and Browns clash.

"If we get a couple of more pitchers to go with Pierce, Bob Cain and Joe Dobson, we'll take a back step for nobody," says Paul Richards of the White Sox.

"Our team will go just as far as the pitching," says Zach Taylor of the Browns. It would be cruel to ask Zach "what pitching?"

The same can be asked of Jimmy Dykes, whose Athletics take on the Senators in Philadelphia in the first night game opener in the American League. Bobby Shantz (8-14) is to oppose Washington's Hudson (14-14).

Newcombe Opens

Don Newcombe (19-11) and Robin Roberts (20-11) pick up where they left off last year as Brooklyn and the Philadelphia Phils clash at Ebbets Field before some 30,000. Newcombe was the loser and Roberts the winner when the Phils nipped the Brooks in the final flag-deciding game last October.

Manager Charlie Dressen of the Dodgers is frantically seeking a starter to replace Erv Palica who is army bound. Thus far he has only Newcombe and Preacher Roe (19-11) as dependables. Eddie Sawyer of the Phils confesses he has no idea where he can get a pitcher to make up for the loss of 17-game winner Curt Simmons to the army. Otherwise, his team is set.

Leo Durocher is another of those lucky people who is happy over his pitching. However, he knows that Sal Maglie (18-4) and Jim Hearn (11-4) must do it again if his New York Giants are to win the pennant. He plans to pitch Larry Jansen (19-13), his most dependable hurler, against Boston's Vern Bickford (19-14) before 20,000. The latter of no-hit fame last season, collaborated with Warren Spahn (21-17) and Johnny Sain (20-13) to total 60 victories for the Braves.

Fox will oppose the Cubs' Frank Hiller (12-5) as the Reds are host to Chicago before some 28,000. The St. Louis Cardinals, with a veteran pitching staff take on the Pirates in Pittsburgh. About 30,000 will see Murry Dickson (10-15), ex-Redbird who has become a Cardinal killer, toe the mound for the Bucs. He will be opposed by Gerry Staley (13-13), usually successful against the Pirates.

Trailways Win Two Matches

Adirondack Trailways completed their Hudson Valley League season by winning four out of six games in a Sunday doubleheader against Liberty Villa and Saugerties Recs.

Cy's Diner of Newburgh swept to the league title by taking three games from the Middletown Bennetts.

Led by Harold Broskie's 184-227-244-655, the Trailways rolled 1107 in their final game of the season against Saugerties. They totaled 3008. Johnny Schatzel aided with 204-223-616. B. M. Rinaldi anchored the visitors with 221-606.

Hammerin' Hank Kemmerer kept his bid for third place average alive with a 235-600 effort on the Liberty drives where the Trailways posted a 2875 total.

Michigan Keglers Lead ABC Doubles

St. Paul, April 15 (AP)—A couple of Lansing, Mich. veterans—Bob Benson and Eddie Marshall—rolled a 1334 total in the doubles division of the American Bowling Congress today, a score nine pins higher than the winning total of the 1950 event at Columbus, Ohio.

They put together games of 449, 445 and 440.

Benson, 57 years old and competing in his 21st tournament, rolled his previous ABC high score of 687 at Indianapolis in 1937. His games were 237, 219 and 244 for 680.

Marshall, a 38-year-old carpenter, rolled 645 on games of 212, 226 and 216.

Johnny Frey and Tom Sweeney of Cheviot, Ohio, rolled 1289 on games of 412, 491 and 386 for second place in the doubles. Sweeney also posted 1860 for second in the all-events.

Andy Varipapa, of Hempstead, N. Y., twice national match game champion, posted 1763 for his all-events, with 559 in the team event; 619 in the doubles and 585 in the singles.

Marcal Products of East Paterson, N. J. continued to lead the team event with 2992. Adolph Schultz of St. Paul is the singles leader with 696, while Louis Frantz of Louisville was in the all-events lead with 1907.

Brain Ailment Fells Pirate Hurler

Pittsburgh, April 16 (AP)—Bill Pierro, Pittsburgh Pirate pitcher, is in Presbyterian Hospital in serious condition from a brain ailment.

Dr. Norman C. Ochsenhirt, team physician, said last night he had consulted brain specialists and we've diagnosed Pierro's ailment as either encephalitis (inflammation of the brain) or meningitis (inflammation of the brain lining.)

Pierro first became ill at Knoxville, Tenn., last Tuesday. He entered the hospital here on his 25th birthday Saturday. His wife arrived by plane last night from their Brooklyn home.

The rookie pitcher lost two games with Pittsburgh last year after being brought up from Indianapolis of the American Association where he had an 8-3 record.

Pierro Saturday was assigned to Indianapolis on a 24-hour option. Pirate General Manager Branch Rickey called off the deal which provided for the purchase of Southpaw Paul La Palme from Indianapolis when he was unable to deliver Pierro.

83 Robins Hail Spring

Ancaster, Ont. (AP)—Those persons who eagerly report the first robin of spring were put in the shade by two residents of this Hamilton suburb. They counted 83 robins in a flock that alighted on the outskirts of town.

Woman Angler Lands Beauties

Mrs. Douglas Tyler, of 1 Murphy street, one of the best known woman anglers in the area, is credited with two of the outstanding catches of the infant trout season. She landed a 20-inch Rainbow and a 20-inch Brown trout about noon Sunday in the Ashokan reservoir.

Strangely enough, the two beautiful specimens were her only catches for the day. Mrs. Tyler and her husband, Douglas Tyler, have been a prominent husband-wife fishing combination for many years.

Mrs. Tyler was the first local woman to procure a fishing license when the privilege was extended to the distaff anglers.

Babe's Record 66 Paces Weathervane

Dallas, April 16 (AP)—The woman's golf tour rolled on to California today with the incomparable Babe Didrikson Zaharias holding a four-stroke lead in the $17,000 144-hole cross-country Weathervane tournament.

The mighty Babe came from far back yesterday to equal the greatest round of woman's golf of all time and win the first 36 holes of the Weathervane. She shot a 66-nine under par—over chilly Lakewood Country Club's 6100-yard course to make her 36-hole total 149. She won $750 and brought her earnings for the year to $3825—$925 more than second place Patty Berg, the Minneapolis redhead.

Miss Berg wound up second with 153 and got $500.

The second 36 holes of the Weathervane, in which Mrs. Zaharias is defending champion, will be played May 5-6 at Pebble Beach, Calif. But there are three tournaments on the tour before that. April 21-23 the links gals play at Richmond, Calif., then come appearances at Sacramento and Fresno. The Weathervane's third 36 will be at Indianapolis May 18-19 and the final at New York May 26-27.

The Babe's 66 was five under men's par at Lakewood, five under the woman's competitive course record and one stroke over the men's course record. She had to do it; she had taken an 83 in the first 18 holes.

Legion Keglers In State Tourney

Kingston Post No. 150, American Legion, announced today that it would send a team to the second annual New York State American Legion bowling tournament in Syracuse Saturday and Sunday, April 21-22.

Approximately 150 teams are entered in the 1951 competition. Members of the local squad are Phil Corrado, Angelo Corrado, Frank Bruno, Bill Schabot and Mike Milano.

Albany Woman Tops State Meet

Binghamton, N. Y., April 16 (AP)—Aggie Meinbrook of Albany was out in front today in the Class A division of the New York State Women's Bowling Tournament.

She cracked 605 yesterday and was the first competitor in the 18th annual pin classic to break into the 600 circle in the singles.

The tournament, with an entry list of 1,915 five-member teams, opened March 30. It will end May 27.

Ann Swierczak of Niagara Falls rolled into first place in the all events competition hitting 1,690 for nine games. She also teamed with Mae Eodice to take over the lead in the Class A doubles. Their total was 1,123.

In the team competition, Ann scored 534. She posted 587 in the doubles and 569 in the singles.

The T. J. Byrnes Club of Binghamton moved into the top spot of the Class B team division by scoring 2,462.

Colvin Casino of Buffalo still tops the Class A event with 2,618.

The Class B doubles lead changed when Alyce Costello and Louise Huller of Minoa rolled 1,001.

Other leaders:

Class B singles—Margaret Callahan, Schenectady, 558; Class C singles — Ruth Vrooman, Canajoharie, 508; Class C doubles—Jane Burt and Genevieve Kraushaar, Syracuse, 961; Class C team—EJ Fair Play, Endicott, 2,312.

Larsen and Flam In Houston Tourney

Houston, Tex., April 16 (AP)—National champion Art Larsen and Intercolligiate titlist Herbie Flam rank one, two in the 17th annual River Oaks tennis tournament opening here today.

Four of the nation's six top amateurs are entered in the big week-long tournament.

Seeded entries in action today include Gardnar Mulloy, No. 3; Billy Talbert, New York City, No. 4; Tony Vincent, New York City, No. 5 and Hamilton Richardson, Baton Rouge, La., No. 7.

A three time winner, Bryan (Bitsy) Grant of Atlanta, Ga., isn't seeded this time. His first opponent is Karl Kamrath, former University of Texas star.

Bob Falkenburg, defending singles champion, is not entered.

Chris Robinson and Dot Rawding Win Freeman Headpin Trophies

Chris Robinson and Dot Rawding are the trophy winners in the Daily Freeman Headpin bowling tournament that ended last night at the Bowlodrome.

Robinson's 109, rolled early in the tournament, held up against all opposition, while Mrs. Rawding's equally brilliant 108 was seriously challenged only once. Mrs. Tess Moss shot a 107.

Both winners will be presented with Freeman trophies in the near future.

The "Name Your Score" contest sponsored by the K.W.B.A. produced 13 winners who copped 15 prizes. Dot Rawding was a double winner with scores of 170 and 200. Rosalie Eckdish hit the jackpot with 135 and 148.

The winning list included: Sue Heins 180; Charlotte Lapine 177; Jack Ferraro 201; Jim Moss 202; Len Freer 160; Fred Bruno 165; Joan Singer 104; Moe Lazarowitz 162; Joe Bell 163; Reta Frederick 152; Elizabest Schoonmaker 133.

Charles J. Tiano, the Freeman sports editor, won the $25 "jackpot" in the Headpin tournament with a score of 104. The runnerup was Buster Ferraro with 97. More than 200 entries competed in the headpin play.

It Just Comes Naturally, So Old Pros Watch Mickey Take Licks

By HARRY GRAYSON
(NEA Sports Editor)

Talk in the Yankee clubhouse and behind the batting cage centers around Mickey Mantle, just as though the extraordinary recruit were already established as one of the superior players of the game.

Young Mantle swings so naturally from either side of the plate that old pros stand and watch him bat.

That's the mark of true greatness . . . when men who play for a living take time out from their own work to feast their eyes on another.

Napoleon Lajoie was such an attraction among his own. So were Honus Wagner, Cobb, Hornsby, Shoeless Joe Jackson and Ruth. So are Ted Williams, Joe DiMaggio, Musial and Kiner. But you count them on your fingers.

Feller Only Hurler

Bob Feller was the only pitcher old-timers ever saw who had teammates and opponents watching him warm up. The Iowa farm boy was something to see when he was setting strikeout records.

Everyone agrees they never saw a 19-year-old ball player like Mantle.

"And he has twin 15-year-old brothers, Roy and Ray, who they say are just as good as he was at that age," says Eddie Lopat, with a whistle of amazement.

"Mickey is almost unbelievably advanced for a kid still in his teens. He starts with the secret of hitting—timing. He's hard to fool because he takes an identical swing on any type of pitch.

"That is perhaps the most remarkable thing about him at such an early stage. After being fed three fast balls, he is likely to belt a curve or change-up out of the park."

Casey Ecstatic

It's too bad Casey Stengel can't be put on television describing his newest favorite subject in pantomime. It's the greatest show on earth.

Old Case's description of Mantle going to first base, or from first to third, is a quick flick of the right wrist and "Shoosh!"

In addition to his tremendous power, every ball Mantle hits to the infield is hot because of his extraordinary speed. The inimitable Stengel rolls baseball writers on the floor depicting a pitcher trying to find the handle on a ball bunted by the whiz kid.

Asked if he believed Mantle, the converted shortstop, could make the jump from Class C to right field at Yankee Stadium, Manager Stengel said: "When this young feller gets to loping around out there, a lot of long-ball hitters are going to be sick."

Mantle still gets rid of the ball with a snap throw of the infielder. Casey Stengel told him to raise his leg high in the air and throw the ball high.

"He threw it three miles," Casey said.

35 Report For Drill

Overcast skies and chilly weather greeted the vanguard of Kingston Colonial baseball hopefuls this morning at municipal stadium.

About 35 players turned out for the first workout under Manager Hank Camelli. Others were expected to drift in during the day from various parts of the country.

Week-end developments in the front office included a trip by local directors to the Canadian-American League meeting in Pittsfield on Saturday.

The league directors discussed only routine business matters, it was announced today. The next meeting was set for Kingston in June.

Irving Kaze, a graduate of Florida Southern College's business administration course for front office personnel for baseball, was interviewed by local officials Saturday morning for the business manager's post.

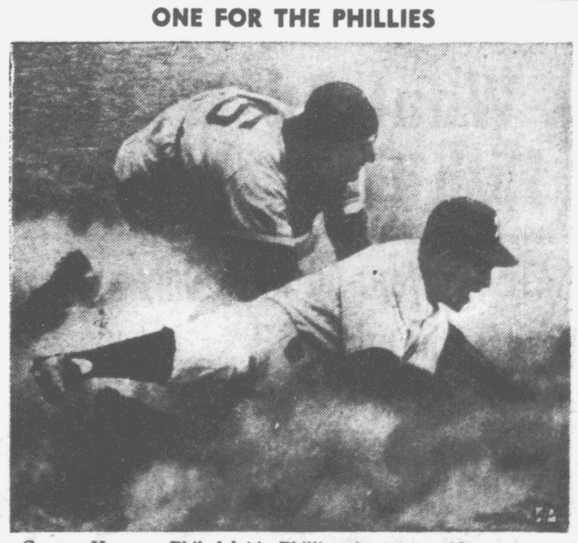

A decision on Kaze is expected during the day.

All-DUSO Five Due Tuesday

The All-DUSO basketball selections for the 1950-51 season will be announced on Tuesday. The mythical quintet reflects a wide variation of opinion among the DUSO sports writers as no player was a unanimous choice.

Pete Camp is the only Kingston player mentioned. He got honorable mention.

ONE FOR THE PHILLIES

Granny Hamner, Philadelphia Phillies shortstop, slides across with one of five runs during a fifth inning rally against the Philadelphia Athletics in final game of three-game city series at Shibe Park. Hamner scored on Del Ennis' fielder's choice grounder to First Baseman Ferris Fain. Phils won, 8-3, but dropped series two games to one. A's catcher is Joe Tipton. (AP Wirephoto)

MODENA

Modena, April 16—The refreshment committee of the Plattekill Grange for Saturday night's meeting met Wednesday night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Bernard. Attending were Mrs. Burton Van Aken of New Hurley, Mr. and Mrs. Burton Ward of Modena. Others on the committee were Mrs. George Lare of Gardnertown, Mrs. Richard Schoonmaker of New Hurley, Mr. and Mrs. George Smith of Gardiner, Arlene Bernard, Phyllis Paltridge, Philip Rappelyea and George Daley of Modena.

The Modena Home Bureau will hold a silver tea Thursday, April 26 at Hasbrouck Memorial Hall, from 2 to 4 p. m. An exhibit of articles made in Home Bureau projects will be made and a program of entertainment provided.

Miss Frances Barclay, one of the class of student nurses capped at ceremonies held recently at St. Luke's Hospital, Newburgh, is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Barclay of Gardnertown, formerly of Modena.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Douglas and son, Robert, who have been spending the past winter season at their home in New York, spent the past week-end at their summer home, "The Long Lane Farm," north of Modena.

Fred and Harold Bernard are completing the building of a bungalow at Algonquin Park, Newburgh.

Debby Deyo, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew L. F. Deyo, is convalescing from an appendectomy performed recently at Vassar Hospital, Poughkeepsie.

Millard Hendricks was a recent visitor of Mr. and Mrs. Willett Deyo in Plattekill.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Denton and daughter, Nancy, were visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Lester Wager and family Wednesday night.

Emil Rode, employed by the IBM Co., in Poughkeepsie, over a period of four years, has been appointed manager of the electric accounting machine assembly qaulity control department of the plant. Mr. Rode, who with his wife and three children live on the property formerly owned and operated by his father, the late Peter Rode, is a graduate of New Paltz State Teachers College, class of 1937. He served four and a half years in the U. S. army, graduating from the Officers Candidate School in Camp Davis, N. C., in 1942, and received his commission as second lieutenant. Lt. Rode was stationed in army camps in Texas and California, prior to his assignment overseas in Italy. He received his honorable discharge in 1945.

Crisis Care for Your Car

Toledo, O. (AP)—Care for your car is vital today because the war crisis may make it difficult to get another. This is the opinion of Dean A. Walters, service manager for a motor manufacturer (Willys-Overland). He suggests: 1. Frequent brake and wheel alignment tests; 2. frequent oil changes; 3. an undercoat on the car to prevent rust; 4. an engine, carburetor, air filter and electric system kept in adjustment; 5. wax on the body.

Mrs. Coolidge's Bread

By FRANK TRIPP

Speaking of Eleanor, Margaret and Bess, someone said "What's become of Grace Coolidge?", and we all were reminded of the charming New England first lady who graced the White House from August 1923 till 1928 when her laconic Cal proclaimed, "I do not choose to run"—and stuck to it.

It was the last time we were to hear anybody say he didn't choose to run. After 23 years there was such certainty that we'd likely never hear it again that the States took a hand and now an eight-year President has no choice. He can't run again no matter what he chooses; that is, none can after Hilarious Harry's hectic hierarchy has hied hence.

Harry will be the last to make his own choice. A constitutional amendment has written George Washington's no third term philosophy into the law of the land; after two Roosevelts had spent 20 of the last 50 years as chief executive.

It happened that one in our party could shed some intimate light on Mrs. Coolidge's activities. The gracious lady has passed her three score and ten and has spent 18 years of widowhood in the Northampton, Mass., home where she and the 30th President retired when Herbert Hoover took over.

YOU WILL RECALL that grief marred the Coolidge stay at the White House. They lost their son Calvin while there. He was a promising lad of 16. Their other son, John, married Florence Trumbull, daughter of Governor John H. Trumbull of Connecticut.

Mrs. Coolidge, who is an alumna of the University of Vermont, was teaching in Clarke School for the Deaf when the Northampton city solicitor, who was to become Governor of Massachusetts and President of the United States, courted and married her in 1905. Her father was a steamboat inspector.

The sudden death of Harding made Coolidge President in a farmhouse ceremony that was characteristic of his administration to its end. His father, a justice of the peace at Plymouth, Vt., administered the presidential oath under kerosene lamplight in the humble family home -- and sent Cal away to reduce the World War 1 debt by two billion dollars. We each owed $146.09 on the public debt when Cal didn't choose to run a second time. We each owe $1,696.11 now.

THERE WAS NO similarity whatsoever between the men inhabitants of the White House pre-1932 and since. There is little similarity between their women folks and mighty little between the lives the American people lived then and now.

Yet with all this change in the world, Grace Goodhue Coolidge lives serenely, smilingly and helpfully on, reflecting joy and confidence into the lives of all who touch her small sphere of activities. She was homemaker in the White House; she is homemaker still. She moved into two rooms during World War 2, that her house might be used by the Waves.

"I SMELLED THAT appetizing odor of baking bread as I walked into the Hartford home of John and Florence Coolidge," said a friend of the late President's son. "I remarked about it, for it had been years since I had been in contact with a loaf of homemade bread.

"'Mother Coolidge is here,' said Florence, 'and she always bakes us bread when she comes.' Then Mrs. Coolidge stepped in from the kitchen. She beamed motherly pleasure that I knew and liked the smell of baking bread.

"'It is just out of the oven,' she said. 'Perhaps you'd like to taste it while still hot. I'll fetch an end crust—the heel, Calvin called it. He liked that best.'

"And I ate a slice of Mother Coolidge's homemade bread—and thought!

"Yes, I thought of it as a symbol of America's reverent, peaceful, homemade past."

Governor Vetoed 426 Measures of 1951 Legislature

Albany, N. Y., April 16 (AP) — Governor Dewey vetoed 426 of the bills passed by the 1951 Legislature—the most he ever rejected in one year.

The governor signed 838 of the 1,264 bills sent him by the lawmakers.

He signed 325 and vetoed 347 last year. In 1946, he approved a record 1,002 bills, while vetoing 325.

Dewey completed action on the bills over the week-end, and went to his Pawling farm. He and Mrs. Dewey leave for Bermuda today for a two-week vacation. The governor had been confined to the executive mansion at Albany since March 13 with a virus infection.

Among the last bills approved by Dewey was one to increase the financial borrowing powers of municipalities and school districts.

However, provisions of the bill will not become effective unless voters approve a proposed constitutional amendment next Nov. 6 to make changes in the basic state law.

If the amendment is approved, the implementing legislation will become effective next Jan. 1.

The 1951 Legislature gave final approval to the amendment.

Girls, Elephants Parade

Rangoon (AP) — Kachin dancing girls and elephants headed a mile long procession bearing sacred Buddhist relics from the airstrip to Putao, Burma's northernmost town. The relics, a gift from India, were taken to Putao by Burmese premier Thakin Nu for exposition.

College Draft Is To Be Delayed

Washington, April 16 (AP)—Selective Service has decided to delay drafting of college men this spring until their test scores and scholastic averages have been calculated.

In disclosing this during a radio broadcast (WOL) yesterday, Selective Service Director Lewis B. Hershey also said he believes the "great mass of college freshmen will assemble freely next fall without interference" from the draft.

Educators here said thousands of queries have been received from students worried by the fact that their school terms — and their statutory deferment—may end before they can take the forthcoming aptitude test, or before their scholastic grades are out.

Students who score 70 or better in the test, or who are in the upper ranks scholastically, may be deferred in order to resume their education in the fall. However, many school terms end before the test dates—May 26, June 16 and June 30—and scholastic standings often are not determined by colleges for weeks after school is out.

Hershey said also that the Kilday amendment to the draft bill passed Friday by the House "in no way impairs our plans for giving the tests or using the scores." The amendment says, in effect, draft boards are not bound by the aptitude tests in granting deferments.

The final draft law is being worked out now from differing versions passed by the House and Senate. The Senate bill has no provisions similar to the amendment sponsored by Rep. Kilday (D-Tex.)

Opium Traffic

Bangkok (AP)—A formal agreement between Thailand and Great Britain terminating the state of war between the two countries is being delayed owing to opium traffic in Thailand. Officials of the Ministry of Foreign Affairs said under terms of the agreement Thailand agreed to sign eight international conventions, including the Geneva convention of 1936, suppressing traffic in illicit drugs.

by SOPHIE MILLER

The little "Skillypot" stopped running on October 14, 1922 just about a year after the opening of the bridge on November 29, 1921. Although some 30 years have past, still folks talk about the little "Riverside" its official name. Perhaps I heard it more, because the model my father made of it, stood in his drug store windows both at 46 Broadway and at 93 Broadway for some 30 years. From the time my father first lived in Port Ewen and then moved to Kingston and we took frequent trips to see my grandparents in Port Ewen, I estimated roughly he rode on the Skillypot some 5,000 times. At that time he had a chance to not only make an accurate model of it, but to check with the original throughout. For instance in the ladies' cabin he had the long yellow bench. In the men's cabin he copied the machinery, etc. This can all be seen through the 'glass" in the windows and doors. "The Riverside" originally was a 51-ton job, built in Rondout in 1870. I happened to have a chance to be in Connelly recently and see the sunken hull in the water, having as its companion, the drowned hull of the famous Mary Powell, with parts of the walking beam still proudly above water. The little model my father made, is now safely at the Senate House Museum, on the second floor, and for its companion it too has the model of the Mary Powell, on the same shelf.

Looking for material on the "Skillypot" for Mrs. Black Terwilliger, to place with the model I was able to interview the last captain, Fred J. Becker in Connelly. He is Mrs. Crissy Becker Wilson's father. He is in his eighties, but still active and now custodian of the Connelly school, which is situated on a high hill overlooking his beloved Rondout Creek over which the Skillypot once ran. Mr. Becker told me, he was captain of the Riverside for some 16 or 17 years. Previous to him, Captain James Rodman had charge. The fare for passengers was two cents, 25 cents for vehicles and for each passenger in the vehicle except the chauffeur, two cents extra. The Riverside carried six vehicles in two lines. The first trip was at 6 a. m. and the last trip at 10:30 p. m. Being that the ferry at the time was the 'missing link' of the famous 9W road, no doubt the guest book of the Skillypot would have been honored by famous names not only of this country but the world as well, but of course such a book not only didn't exist, but understand even our City Hall in Kingston doesn't possess one.

To Captain Becker's knowledge, no one during his trips ever fell overboard, nor did the ferry ever collide with another boat on the creek. The chains which dropped from the ends of the ferry, and on the one side were attached to each shore and rested on the bottom of the creek so that they would not rub on the keel of ships entering or leaving the creek. Mr. Becker further stated, that the Riverside consumed some half a ton of coal each day in her travels. The Sleightsburg ferry slip was a famous spot in those days. For Instance, there were three official places in Kingston, where the "Square Dealer" was sold, and one of them was the Skillypot Rondout side slip, according to an item in that paper dated Saturday, July 11, 1908.

PACKARD ULTRAMATIC DRIVE

1. On long trips—because you cruise in solid, direct drive at all cruising speeds. No gas-wasting slippage. No "racing-engine sensation." No overheating of the drive unit.

2. In stop-go traffic—because with Packard Ultramatic there's no clutch-pushing—and no gear-shifting anywhere, either by you or the transmission. No jerking, no clunking.

3. On slippery pavement—because Packard Ultramatic Drive eliminates risky "down-shifts," which often cause prolonged skids. You enjoy smooth, gradual engine braking power. Also important: Packard Ultramatic improves traction.

4. When parking—or when "rocking" the car in snow or mud—because there's no "gear-shift balk" in Ultramatic. You can change instantly from Forward to Reverse without clashing—without even taking your foot off the gas!

On these four counts—and on every count—the most advanced of all the modern automatic drives is Packard's exclusive Ultramatic Drive. It's another one of the big reasons why the new 1951 Packard is the newest new car of the year! Come in—try it!

It's more than a car--it's a PACKARD Ask the man who owns one

MODENA

Modena, April 16—The refreshment committee of the Plattekill Grange for Saturday night's meeting met Wednesday night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Bernard. Attending were Mrs. Burton Van Aken of New Hurley, Mr. and Mrs. Burton Ward of Modena. Others on the committee were Mrs. George Lare of Gardnertown, Mrs. Richard Schoonmaker of New Hurley, Mr. and Mrs. George Smith of Gardiner, Arlene Bernard, Phyllis Paltridge, Philip Rappelyea and George Daley of Modena.

The Modena Home Bureau will hold a silver tea Thursday, April 26 at Hasbrouck Memorial Hall, from 2 to 4 p. m. An exhibit of articles made in Home Bureau projects will be made and a program of entertainment provided.

Miss Frances Barclay, one of the class of student nurses capped at ceremonies held recently at St. Luke's Hospital, Newburgh, is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Barclay of Gardnertown, formerly of Modena.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Douglas and son, Robert, who have been spending the past winter season at their home in New York, spent the past week-end at their summer home, "The Long Lane Farm," north of Modena.

Fred and Harold Bernard are completing the building of a bungalow at Algonquin Park, Newburgh.

Debby Deyo, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew L. F. Deyo, is convalescing from an appendectomy performed recently at Vassar Hospital, Poughkeepsie.

Millard Hendricks was a recent visitor of Mr. and Mrs. Willett Deyo in Plattekill.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Denton and daughter, Nancy, were visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Lester Wager and family Wednesday night.

Emil Rode, employed by the IBM Co., in Poughkeepsie, over a period of four years, has been appointed manager of the electric accounting machine assembly qaulity control department of the plant. Mr. Rode, who with his wife and three children live on the property formerly owned and operated by his father, the late Peter Rode, is a graduate of New Paltz State Teachers College, class of 1937. He served four and a half years in the U. S. army, graduating from the Officers Candidate School in Camp Davis, N. C., in 1942, and received his commission as second lieutenant. Lt. Rode was stationed in army camps in Texas and California, prior to his assignment overseas in Italy. He received his honorable discharge in 1945.

Crisis Care for Your Car

Toledo, O. (AP)—Care for your car is vital today because the war crisis may make it difficult to get another. This is the opinion of Dean A. Walters, service manager for a motor manufacturer (Willys-Overland). He suggests: 1. Frequent brake and wheel alignment tests; 2. frequent oil changes; 3. an undercoat on the car to prevent rust; 4. an engine, carburetor, air filter and electric system kept in adjustment; 5. wax on the body.

Mrs. Coolidge's Bread

By FRANK TRIPP

Speaking of Eleanor, Margaret and Bess, someone said "What's become of Grace Coolidge?", and we all were reminded of the charming New England first lady who graced the White House from August 1923 till 1928 when her laconic Cal proclaimed, "I do not choose to run"—and stuck to it.

It was the last time we were to hear anybody say he didn't choose to run. After 23 years there was such certainty that we'd likely never hear it again that the States took a hand and now an eight-year President has no choice. He can't run again no matter what he chooses; that is, none can after Hilarious Harry's hectic hierarchy has hied hence.

Harry will be the last to make his own choice. A constitutional amendment has written George Washington's no third term philosophy into the law of the land; after two Roosevelts had spent 20 of the last 50 years as chief executive.

It happened that one in our party could shed some intimate light on Mrs. Coolidge's activities. The gracious lady has passed her three score and ten and has spent 18 years of widowhood in the Northampton, Mass., home where she and the 30th President retired when Herbert Hoover took over.

YOU WILL RECALL that grief marred the Coolidge stay at the White House. They lost their son Calvin while there. He was a promising lad of 16. Their other son, John, married Florence Trumbull, daughter of Governor John H. Trumbull of Connecticut.

Mrs. Coolidge, who is an alumna of the University of Vermont, was teaching in Clarke School for the Deaf when the Northampton city solicitor, who was to become Governor of Massachusetts and President of the United States, courted and married her in 1905. Her father was a steamboat inspector.

The sudden death of Harding made Coolidge President in a farmhouse ceremony that was characteristic of his administration to its end. His father, a justice of the peace at Plymouth, Vt., administered the presidential oath under kerosene lamplight in the humble family home—and sent Cal away to reduce the World War 1 debt by two billion dollars. We each owed $146.09 on the public debt when Cal didn't choose to run a second time. We each owe $1,696.11 now.

THERE WAS NO similarity whatsoever between the men inhabitants of the White House pre-1932 and since. There is little similarity between their women folks and mighty little between the lives the American people lived then and now.

Yet with all this change in the world, Grace Goodhue Coolidge lives serenely, smilingly and helpfully on, reflecting joy and confiedence into the lives of all who touch her small sphere of activities. She was homemaker in the White House; she is homemaker still. She moved into two rooms during World War 2, that her house might be used by the Waves.

"I SMELLED THAT appetizing odor of baking bread as I walked into the Hartford home of John and Florence Coolidge," said a friend of the late President's son.

"I remarked about it, for it had been years since I had been in contact with a loaf of homemade bread.

"'Mother Coolidge is here,' said Florence, 'and she always bakes us bread when she comes.' Then Mrs. Coolidge stepped in from the kitchen. She beamed motherly pleasure that I knew and liked the smell of baking bread.

"'It is just out of the oven,' she said. 'Perhaps you'd like to taste it while still hot. I'll fetch an end crust—the heel, Calvin called it. He liked that best.'

"And I ate a slice of Mother Coolidge's homemade bread—and thought!

"Yes, I thought of it as a symbol of America's reverent, peaceful, homemade past."

Governor Vetoed 426 Measures of 1951 Legislature

Albany, N. Y., April 16 (AP) — Governor Dewey vetoed 426 of the bills passed by the 1951 Legislature—the most he ever rejected in one year.

The governor signed 838 of the 1,264 bills sent him by the lawmakers.

He signed 325 and vetoed 347 last year. In 1946, he approved a record 1,002 bills, while vetoing 325.

Dewey completed action on the bills over the week-end, and went to his Pawling farm. He and Mrs. Dewey leave for Bermuda today for a two-week vacation. The governor had been confined to the executive mansion at Albany since March 13 with a virus infection.

Among the last bills approved by Dewey was one to increase the financial borrowing powers of municipalities and school districts.

However, provisions of the bill will not become effective unless voters approve a proposed constitutional amendment next Nov. 6 to make changes in the basic state law.

If the amendment is approved, the implementing legislation will become effective next Jan. 1.

The 1951 Legislature gave final approval to the amendment.

Girls, Elephants Parade

Rangoon (AP) — Kachin dancing girls and elephants headed a mile long procession bearing sacred Buddhist relics from the airstrip to Putao, Burma's northernmost town. The relics, a gift from India, were taken to Putao by Burmese premier Thakin Nu for exposition.

College Draft Is To Be Delayed

Washington, April 16 (AP)—Selective Service has decided to delay drafting of college men this spring until their test scores and scholastic averages have been calculated.

In disclosing this during a radio broadcast (WOL) yesterday, Selective Service Director Lewis B. Hershey also said he believes the "great mass of college freshmen will assemble freely next fall without interference" from the draft.

Educators here said thousands of queries have been received from students worried by the fact that their school terms — and their statutory deferment—may end before they can take the forthcoming aptitude test, or before their scholastic grades are out.

Students who score 70 or better in the test, or who are in the upper ranks scholastically, may be deferred in order to resume their education in the fall. However, many school terms end before the test dates—May 26, June 16 and June 30—and scholastic standings often are not determined by colleges for weeks after school is out.

Hershey said also that the Kilday amendment to the draft bill passed Friday by the House "in no way impairs our plans for giving the tests or using the scores." The amendment says, in effect, draft boards are not bound by the aptitude tests in granting deferments.

The final draft law is being worked out now from differing versions passed by the House and Senate. The Senate bill has no provisions similar to the amendment sponsored by Rep. Kilday (D-Tex.)

Opium Traffic

Bangkok (AP)—A formal agreement between Thailand and Great Britain terminating the state of war between the two countries is being delayed owing to opium traffic in Thailand. Officials of the Ministry of Foreign Affairs said under terms of the agreement Thajland agreed to sign eight international conventions, including the Geneva convention of 1936, suppressing traffic in illicit drugs.

PACKARD ULTRAMATIC DRIVE

1. On long trips—because you cruise in solid, direct drive at all cruising speeds. No gas-wasting slippage. No "racing-engine sensation." No overheating of the drive unit.

2. In stop-go traffic—because with Packard Ultramatic there's no clutch-pushing—and no gear-shifting anywhere, either by you or the transmission. No jerking, no clunking.

3. On slippery pavement—because Packard Ultramatic Drive eliminates risky "down-shifts," which often cause prolonged skids. You enjoy smooth, gradual engine braking power. Also important: Packard Ultramatic improves traction.

4. When parking—or when "rocking" the car in snow or mud—because there's no "gear-shift balk" in Ultramatic. You can change instantly from Forward to Reverse without clashing—without even taking your foot off the gas!

On these four counts—and on every count—the most advanced of all the modern automatic drives is Packard's exclusive Ultramatic Drive. It's another one of the big reasons why the new 1951 Packard is the newest new car of the year! Come in—try it!

MODENA

Modena, April 16—The refreshment committee of the Plattekill Grange for Saturday night's meeting met Wednesday night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Bernard. Attending were Mrs. Burton Van Aken of New Hurley, Mr. and Mrs. Burton Ward of Modena. Others on the committee were Mrs. George Lare of Gardnertown, Mrs. Richard Schoonmaker of New Hurley, Mr. and Mrs. George Smith of Gardiner, Arlene Bernard, Phyllis Paltridge, Philip Rappelyea and George Daley of Modena.

The Modena Home Bureau will hold a silver tea Thursday, April 26 at Hasbrouck Memorial Hall, from 2 to 4 p. m. An exhibit of articles made in Home Bureau projects will be made and a program of entertainment provided.

Miss Frances Barclay, one of the class of student nurses capped at ceremonies held recently at St. Luke's Hospital, Newburgh, is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Barclay of Gardnertown, formerly of Modena.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Douglas and son, Robert, who have been spending the past winter season at their home in New York, spent the past week-end at their summer home, "The Long Lane Farm," north of Modena.

Fred and Harold Bernard are completing the building of a bungalow at Algonquin Park, Newburgh.

Debby Deyo, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew L. F. Deyo, is convalescing from an appendectomy performed recently at Vassar Hospital, Poughkeepsie.

Millard Hendricks was a recent visitor of Mr. and Mrs. Willett Deyo in Plattekill.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Denton and daughter, Nancy, were visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Lester Wager and family Wednesday night.

Emil Rode, employed by the IBM Co., in Poughkeepsie, over a period of four years, has been appointed manager of the electric accounting machine assembly qaulity control department of the plant. Mr. Rode, who with his wife and three children live on the property formerly owned and operated by his father, the late Peter Rode, is a graduate of New Paltz State Teachers College, class of 1937. He served four and a half years in the U. S. army, graduating from the Officers Candidate School in Camp Davis, N. C., in 1942, and received his commission as second lieutenant. Lt. Rode was stationed in army camps in Texas and California, prior to his assignment overseas in Italy. He received his honorable discharge in 1945.

Crisis Care for Your Car

Toledo, O. (AP)—Care for your car is vital today because the war crisis may make it difficult to get another. This is the opinion of Dean A. Walters, service manager for a motor manufacturer (Willys-Overland). He suggests: 1. Frequent brake and wheel alignment tests; 2. frequent oil changes; 3. an undercoat on the car to prevent rust; 4. an engine, carburetor, air filter and electric system kept in adjustment; 5. wax on the body.

Mrs. Coolidge's Bread

By FRANK TRIPP

Speaking of Eleanor, Margaret and Bess, someone said "What's become of Grace Coolidge?", and we all were reminded of the charming New England first lady who graced the White House from August 1923 till 1928 when her laconic Cal proclaimed, "I do not choose to run"—and stuck to it.

It was the last time we were to hear anybody say he didn't choose to run. After 23 years there was such certainty that we'd likely never hear it again that the States took a hand and now an eight-year President has no choice. He can't run again no matter what he chooses; that is, none can after Hilarious Harry's hectic hierarchy has hied hence.

Harry will be the last to make his own choice. A constitutional amendment has written George Washington's no third term philosophy into the law of the land; after two Roosevelts had spent 20 of the last 50 years as chief executive.

It happened that one in our party could shed some intimate light on Mrs. Coolidge's activities. The gracious lady has passed her three score and ten and has spent 18 years of widowhood in the Northampton, Mass., home where she and the 30th President retired when Herbert Hoover took over.

YOU WILL RECALL that grief marred the Coolidge stay at the White House. They lost their son Calvin while there. He was a promising lad of 16. Their other son, John, married Florence Trumbull, daughter of Governor John H. Trumbull of Connecticut.

Mrs. Coolidge, who is an alumna of the University of Vermont, was teaching in Clarke School for the Deaf when the Northampton city solicitor, who was to become Governor of Massachusetts and President of the United States, courted and married her in 1905. Her father was a steamboat inspector.

The sudden death of Harding made Coolidge President in a farmhouse ceremony that was characteristic of his administration to its end. His father, a justice of the peace at Plymouth, Vt., administered the presidential oath under kerosene lamplight in the humble family home -- and sent Cal away to reduce the World War 1 debt by two billion dollars. We each owed $146.09 on the public debt when Cal didn't choose to run a second time. We each owe $1,696.11 now.

THERE WAS NO similarity whatsoever between the men inhabitants of the White House pre-1932 and since. There is little similarity between their women folks and mighty little between the lives the American people lived then and now.

Yet with all this change in the world, Grace Goodhue Coolidge lives serenely, smilingly and helpfully on, reflecting joy and confiedence into the lives of all who touch her small sphere of activities. She was homemaker in the White House; she is homemaker still. She moved into two rooms during World War 2, that her house might be used by the Waves.

"I SMELLED THAT appetizing odor of baking bread as I walked into the Hartford home of John and Florence Coolidge," said a friend of the late President's son.

"I remarked about it, for it had been years since I had been in contact with a loaf of homemade bread.

"'Mother Coolidge is here,' said Florence, 'and she always bakes us bread when she comes.' Then Mrs. Coolidge stepped in from the kitchen. She beamed motherly pleasure that I knew and liked the smell of baking bread.

"'It is just out of the oven,' she said. 'Perhaps you'd like to taste it while still hot. I'll fetch an end crust—the heel, Calvin called it. He liked that best.'

"And I ate a slice of Mother Coolidge's homemade bread—and thought!

Do You Remember

by SOPHIE MILLER

The little "Skillypot" stopped running on October 14, 1922 just about a year after the opening of the bridge on November 29, 1921. Although some 30 years have past, still folks talk about the little "Riverside" its official name. Perhaps I heard it more, because the model my father made of it, stood in his drug store windows both at 46 Broadway and at 93 Broadway for some 30 years. From the time my father first lived in Port Ewen and then moved to Kingston and we took frequent trips to see my grandparents in Port Ewen, I estimated roughly he rode on the Skillypot some 5,000 times. At that time he had a chance to not only make an accurate model of it, but to check with the original throughout. For instance in the ladies' cabin he had the long yellow bench. In the men's cabin he copied the machinery, etc. This can all be seen through the 'glass" in the windows and doors. "The Riverside" originally was a 51-ton job, built in Rondout in 1870. I happened to have a chance to be in Connelly recently and see the sunken hull in the water, having as its companion, the drowned hull of the famous Mary Powell, with parts of the walking beam still proudly above water. The little model my father made, is now safely at the Senate House Museum, on the second floor, and for its companion it too has the model of the Mary Powell, on the same shelf.

Looking for material on the "Skillypot" for Mrs. Black Terwilliger, to place with the model I was able to interview the last captain, Fred J. Becker in Connelly. He is Mrs. Crissy Becker Wilson's father. He is in his eighties, but still active and now custodian of the Connelly school, which is situated on a high hill overlooking his beloved Rondout Creek over which the Skillypot once ran. Mr. Becker told me, he was captain of the Riverside for some 16 or 17 years. Previous to him, Captain James Rodman had charge. The fare for passengers was two cents, 25 cents for vehicles and for each passenger in the vehicle except the chauffeur, two cents extra. The Riverside carried six vehicles in two lines. The first trip was at 6 a. m. and the last trip at 10:30 p. m. Being that the ferry at the time was the 'missing link' of the famous 9W road, no doubt the guest book of the Skillypot would have been honored by famous names not only of this country but the world as well, but of course such a book not only didn't exist, but understand even our City Hall in Kingston doesn't possess one.

To Captain Becker's knowledge, no one during his trips ever fell overboard, nor did the ferry ever collide with another boat on the creek. The chains which dropped from the ends of the ferry, and on the one side were attached to each shore and rested on the bottom of the creek so that they would not rub on the keel of ships entering or leaving the creek. Mr. Becker further stated, that the Riverside consumed some half a ton of coal each day in her travels. The Sleightsburg ferry slip was a famous spot in those days. For Instance, there were three official places in Kingston, where the "Square Dealer" was sold, and one of them was the Skillypot Rondout side slip, according to an item in that paper dated Saturday, July 11, 1908.

Many black bears are cinnamon color, and some members of the big brown bear group are coal black.

Governor Vetoed 426 Measures of 1951 Legislature

Albany, N. Y., April 16 (AP) — Governor Dewey vetoed 426 of the bills passed by the 1951 Legislature—the most he ever rejected in one year.

The governor signed 838 of the 1,264 bills sent him by the lawmakers.

He signed 325 and vetoed 347 last year. In 1946, he approved a record 1,002 bills, while vetoing 325.

Dewey completed action on the bills over the week-end, and went to his Pawling farm. He and Mrs. Dewey leave for Bermuda today for a two-week vacation. The governor had been confined to the executive mansion at Albany since March 13 with a virus infection.

Among the last bills approved by Dewey was one to increase the financial borrowing powers of municipalities and school districts.

However, provisions of the bill will not become effective unless voters approve a proposed constitutional amendment next Nov. 6 to make changes in the basic state law.

If the amendment is approved, the implementing legislation will become effective next Jan. 1.

The 1951 Legislature gave final approval to the amendment.

Just count the times you'll wish for
PACKARD ULTRAMATIC DRIVE

1. On long trips—because you cruise in solid, direct drive at all cruising speeds. No gas-wasting slippage. No "racing-engine sensation." No overheating of the drive unit.
2. In stop-go traffic—because with Packard Ultramatic there's no clutch-pushing—and no gear-shifting anywhere, either by you or the transmission. No jerking, no clunking.
3. On slippery pavement—because Packard Ultramatic Drive eliminates risky "down-shifts," which often cause prolonged skids. You enjoy smooth, gradual engine braking power. Also important: Packard Ultramatic improves traction.
4. When parking—or when "rocking" the car in snow or mud—because there's no "gear-shift balk" in Ultramatic. You can change instantly from Forward to Reverse without clashing—without even taking your foot off the gas!

On these four counts—and on every count—the most advanced of all the modern automatic drives is Packard's exclusive Ultramatic Drive. It's another one of the big reasons why the new 1951 Packard is the newest new car of the year! Come in—try it!

It's more than a car--it's a PACKARD Ask the man who owns one

Four Men Held

Roosevelt avenue, and Raymond W. Ross, 41, of 672 Broadway.

Police said Daniel Pope, 51, of 7 Canal street, who allegedly held the job as janitor at the place, was held only on a charge of violation of Section 974, which alleges in effect that he acted unlawfully as janitor in a place used for the purpose cited in the section.

Brought Before Mino

Attorney Elmore Nathan appeared for the defendants when they were brought before City Judge Raymond J. Mino today, and Attorney John Larkin represented the district attorney's office. The cases were adjourned for a week and bail of $500 for each defendant was continued.

Police headquarters recorded the raid at 1:40 p. m., Saturday, and listed Sgt. Lemuel Howard, Detective Clarence Brophy, and Officers Leonard Ellsworth and Ernest Bartroff as the participating officers.

Chief Van Buren said he had received reports prior to the raid. He forwarded sufficient information to the officers with instructions and they "did the job."

The police confiscated three adding machines, three telephones, alleged policy books, and miscellaneous papers and envelopes, the chief said.

temptuous words against the president, vice president, Congress, secretary of defense, or a secretary of a department, a governor or a Legislature of any state, territory, or other possession of the United States in which he is on duty at present will be punished as a court-martial may direct.

"Article 89. Disrespect towards superior officer.

"Any person subject to this code, who behaves with disrespect towards his superior officer shall be punished as a court-martial may direct."

The memorandum said: "These articles express the restraints imposed upon the fundamental constitutional right of freedom of speech incident to membership in the armed forces. In their stories correspondents are requested to consider the applicability of these articles of war to armed forces personnel whose opinions they may solicit or quote."

Fire Damages House

Fire damaged the house occupied by Robert DuBois on Rural avenue, New Paltz, Sunday. The fire started from a kerosene burner and was confined to the kitchen although there was considerable damage to the house from smoke. The house is owned by M. Gardner. Good work done by the New Paltz firemen prevented the blaze from spreading throughout the premises, although at one time the flames spread up to the bathroom. Mr. Dubois and his family were compelled to move to the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harold DuBois on Modena road.

Flood Victims Vote

form mutual aid headquarters in Kingston when conditions indicate a possible flood, that headquarters would in turn notify each fire company in the area that might be affected by a flood. The various volunteer companies would then notify the residents of their districts of the impending flood conditions.

The possibility that such a system will be effected was indicated with the receipt of a letter by John Walker, chairman of the flood victim group, from The Poughkeepsie-New Yorker, in which it stated that the water department commissioner had told them that the department would cooperate in any warning plan.

Mrs. Anne Cragin, Red Cross disaster relief representative, answered questions from the group in regard to flood damage rehabilitation. She assured those present that all those whose disaster loss is beyond their ability to meet will be assisted.

Building Repairs Top Item

Major expense will probably be in building repairs, she said, but large amounts will be spent for food, clothing and furniture, she said.

Information obtained by Red Cross workers relative to a family's need will be kept confidential, but is necessary to determine the amount of aid to be given.

Red Cross area representatives will not leave the area until all flood victims are "within reach of their previous community position," Mrs. Cragin said. Work of rehabilitation is necessarily slow because of the drying out process before damage estimates can be made, she said.

Present at the meeting with Mrs. Cragin was Walter T. Tremper, Ulster chapter disaster relief chairman.

With Chief Murphy from the volunteer firemen's association was Chief Edward Mains of Port Ewen. The Rev. Frank Lawrence Gollnick pronounced the invocation.

Resolutions of appreciation for the work of Mayor Oscar V. Newkirk, the Kingston Lions Club and Ulster Hose Company No. 5 were passed.

The next meeting of the group was set for 8 p. m., Saturday, April 21, at the Town of Ulster highway department garage.

Case Is Adjourned

Charles Brown, of 59 Henry street, supervisor of motors for the local fire department, was arrested Saturday by Officer Louis Sapp, Jr., on a charge of operating an automobile while intoxicated. The case was adjourned until Wednesday when Brown appeared before City Judge Raymond J. Mino today, and bail of $100 was continued. The police report at 5:06 p. m., said that Officer Sapp, who was off duty, called for a patrol car to North Front street near Washington avenue, and Officers James Burns and Kenneth Stratton were dispatched there. Officer Sapp reported that he was making a left turn from North Front street into Washington avenue when his car was struck by one owned and operated by Brown. The latter continued on, the report said, and Officer Sapp overtook it on North Front street and arrested its driver.

Funeral Attracts Throng

New York, April 16 (AP)—A throng of 1,500 persons—mostly women—jammed a little church in Brooklyn today for the funeral of Charles Fischetti, heir of the Capone crime syndicate. It was a crowd of high contrasts—some richly and fashionably dressed, and others reflecting the impoverished tenor of the south Brooklyn neighborhood where Fischetti grew up. But there was no lack of splendor in the funeral display for the gangland's "trigger happy" Fischetti, who rose to become the right-hand man of Chicago's late Al Capone.

Nursery School Is Filling Definite Need, Group Hears

Woodstock, April 16—Speaking before a large group of parents from Woodstock as well as guest groups from both Kingston and Big Indian, Miss Myra Woodruff, of the State Education Department, discussed the cooperative nursery school and its place in the community Friday night at the Dutch Reformed Church. Miss Woodruff was introduced by Mrs. Paul Perlman, president of the Tinker Street Cooperative Nursery School, under whose auspices the program was given.

Miss Woodruff stated that "every generation feels that it is living in the most complicated and difficult time. With two conflicting ideologies in the world today, there is no question but that this is a difficult era, which makes one stop to think about the kind of personality needed to live in the present-day world."

To emphasize the importaned of the cooperative nursery school, which differs from the ordinary nursery school in that the parents take an active part, Miss Woodruff explained that it began as a movement which sprang up simultaneously in many parts of the country. This she said is proof that it is filling a definite need in modern life.

"Today we are prone to be too critical of family life and say that it is not what it used to be," she stated. "But nothing is as it used to be."

As an illustration, she cited the cramped quarters characteristics of the average modern home as compared to the more spacious homes of yesterday. A good cooperative nursery school should provide adequate and safe space both indoors ond out for children.

Another detriment to the growth and development of the small child is the speed of living in these times, she remarked, and the nursery school should provide a peaceful, unhurried atmosphere. "It's so important to understand that you cannot rush young children."

Miss Woodruff discussed in some detail the question of discipline, how the pendulm has swung from rigid views of a generation or two ago to the other extreme manifest in "the absurd stage we reached when we felt children should not be interfered with at all. At present there is a conflict between the two theories, where even members of the same family disagree."

In this respect, the nursery school should be a place where parents find that the experience of assisting a good, qualified teacher who is giving the best kind of guidance, invaluable. Enlightened as to her own children's shortcomings as well as those of others, a mother may discover that "Johnnie isn't so bad after all — they all act alike!"

'Baby Sitters' Vital

The problem of "baby sitters" she pointed out, was an important factor in the growth of the nursery school. A few generations ago a family stayed in one spot—grandma or some other member of the family was usually available to stay at home with the children. Today parents find themselves often in the situation where they are living at a distance from their families and are dependent upon outside help. The nursery school offers a young mother an opportunity for a break from the "24 hours a day routine," but she must in no sense look upon the school as just a place to "park the children." To insure its success, she must be an active participant. "It is extremely important to the child's growth and development that close cooperation exist between the parents and the teacher.

"Since we are living in a scientific age," she continued, "the findings in research in child growth are largely responsible for nursery schools. Realizing the importance of the early years, experts have sought to determine the child's needs. Nursery schools cannot, however, supplant family environment, but they do supplement it under modern family strains."

"Children," she declared, "need a chance to follow out creative impulses—dramatic play clarifies the adult world to them." In assessing the needs of the nursery school she described the kinds of material which are important, and the variety of activities possible, modeling, music experience, and finger painting.

In conclusion Miss Woodruff stressed the importance of all members of the family taking an interest in the cooperative nursery school, which can provide a "true family situation." A father, for instance, may assist immeasurably with play equipment, the grounds and the building itself.

"Nothing," she said, "gives the small child such a sense of pride in his parents as the chance to tell his little friends: 'My mommie is helping today!' And it not only helps the children but the families themselves, who begin to enjoy each other as the result of their cooperation and work together. It pays off in the family situation."

Artists Give Final Concert of Series

Woodstock, April 16—In their final appearance of the third season of the Woodstock Winter Concerts Sunday afternoon at the town hall, members of the quartet, Alice Smiley, violinist; Genevieve Nichols, violist; Inez Carroll, pianist and Hans Cohn, cellist, received what amounted to almost an ovation following their performance of the Chausson Piano Quartet in A Major.

With the first half of the program devoted to the Beethoven Trio No. 4, Mrs. Smiley, Miss Carroll and Dr. Cohn showed as always, a fine understanding of the composer's work, from the measured and stately Allegro con brio, through the gentle Adagio, to the final folk song gaiety of the Theme and variations.

The Chausson Piano Quartet was probably the most exciting and dramatic work ever to be presented at a winter concert. Chausson's strange weaving patterns quickly cast a spell which mounted and grew steadily as statuesque figures and motifs emerged. Throughout the performance the quartet exhibited a vibrant and pulsing approach to the score which rose to a brilliant climax.

Annual Ball Friday

Woodstock, April 16—The annual costume ball for the scholarship fund of the Art Students League will be held Friday night in the ballroom of the Waldorf-Astoria, New York. This year's dance is called "Dream Ball" and guests will wear costumes suggesting dreams. A feature of the program will be the auction of paintings by Yasuo Kuniyoshi, Sidney Laufman and others and Eugene Speicher, who is also serving on the ball committee.

Pepers Win Two

Woodstock, April 16—Bowling Wednesday night in the Saugerties A League Peper's Garage and the Royal Grill each won one game out of three, tying the third. Scores for Peper's were 705-819-788 and Royal Grill 714-729-788. Pepers won the roll-off scoring 82 over Royal Grill's 53. Individual scores: C. Harder 83; O. Morrell 162-149-155; A. Peper 152-175-123; C. Nickponski 163-151-134; V. Busch 140-183-168; J. Holdridge 161-208; McCormick 126-110-162; DeFeis 167-158-173; Johnson 118-118-119; Cashara 135-188-156; Rinaldi 158-155-169. High single scorer, J. Holdridge 208, and high triple scorer, V. Busch 498.

Overlook Home Bureau Unit Holds Meeting

Woodstock, April 16—The regular meeting of the Overlook Home Bureau was held Thursday night at the home of Mrs. Opal Wharton.

It was requested that anyone in the unit who is interested in chair caning and rush seating, to communicate with Mrs. Helen Ostrander as soon as possible in order that she may order the necessary supplies.

It was announced that the next monthly meeting will be held a week later than the usual meeting date owing to the card party which is to be given by the Woodstock Home Bureau. The next meeting will take place Thursday, May 17, at the home of Mrs. Muriel Green.

Linenthal Rents Theatre for Summer

Woodstock, April 16—Michael Linenthal of the Woodstock Playhouse has announced that the theatre has been rented to David Lifson of Boston. Lifson will direct the plays to be presented and manage the theatre for the coming summer season, which will begin Saturday, June 30, and continue for nine weeks.

Lifson, who is also a playwright, studied for the theatre in Paris in the early 1930's. A graduate of New York University with a Bachelor of Science degree, Lifson has worked in radio, the motion pictures and on the New York stage. He also has lectured on the theatre. His play, "Familiar Pattern," had a New York run in 1943. At one time a drama critic for the "Mayfair" magazine, Lifson also has directed summer stock in West Neubery, Mass.

Linenthal will be an occasional visitor to this village during the summer, while devoting the major part of his time to playwriting.

Linenthal also announced that negotiations are now underway for an opening of his play, "Facade," which was presented here last summer and on Broadway in September.

Village Notes

Woodstock, April 10—Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Champanier were the hosts to about 50 guests Sunday afternoon who attended the christening of their three-weeks'-old son, Norman Andrew. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. James Riordan. Mr. and Mrs. Frank Lynch were godparents. A buffet supper was served.

Mr. and Mrs. Burton Bodie, of Bearsville, celebrated their 15th wedding anniversary Friday.

Julius Simpson, of Lake Hill, has returned from Florida.

Mr. and Mrs. Rudolf Wetterau were at their Glasco Turnpike home for the week-end.

Grand Jury Drawing Starts

Ballston Spa, N. Y., April 16 (AP) A special grand jury was to be drawn today to weigh evidence in the state-ordered probe of any political-underworld tieups in gambling in Saratoga county. The drawing was supervised by Justice Leo J. Hagerty of State Supreme Court, who was designated to preside over the special court term ordered by Governor Dewey. Hagerty directed that 36 names be drawn by County Clerk Eugene C. Brundige. Several usually are excused for various reasons. A grand jury must consist of not less than 16 nor more than 23 persons.

Bailey Shoots 79 at Wiltwyck

J. Watson Bailey, veteran Wiltwyck Golf Club star, launched the sweepstakes schedule in mid-season style Sunday, with a 39-40-79 gross to capture scoring honors in the first of a series of such tournaments at the Hurley avenue links.

Arthur A. Davis, club president, fired low net of 73.

Other low net winners were R. S. Powell with 78 and city champion, Bill Van Aken, with 79; Al Heisman and Bob Daley.

The 22 contestants in Tom Danaher's first tournament were to play all nine holes and turned in excellent scores, despite stiff headwinds and a few watery spots on the course.

It requires almost twice as many man-hours per thousand board feet from a six-inch tree as it does from a 12-inch one.

Four Men Held

Roosevelt avenue, and Raymond W. Ross, 41, of 672 Broadway.

Police said Daniel Pope, 51, of 7 Canal street, who allegedly held the job as janitor at the place, was held only on a charge of violation of Section 974, which alleges in effect that he acted unlawfully as janitor in a place used for the purpose cited in the section.

Brought Before Mino

Attorney Elmore Nathan appeared for the defendants when they were brought before City Judge Raymond J. Mino today, and Attorney John Larkin represented the district attorney's office. The cases were adjourned for a week and bail of $500 for each defendant was continued.

Police headquarters recorded the raid at 1:40 p. m., Saturday, and listed Sgt. Lemuel Howard, Detective Clarence Brophy, and Officers Leonard Ellsworth and Ernest Bartroff as the participating officers.

Chief Van Buren said he had received reports prior to the raid. He forwarded sufficient information to the officers with instructions and they "did the job."

The police confiscated three adding machines, three telephones, alleged policy books, and miscellaneous papers and envelopes, the chief said.

Army Warns Men

temptuous words against the president, vice president, Congress, secretary of defense, or a secretary of a department, a governor or a Legislature of any state, territory, or other possession of the United States in which he is on duty at present will be punished as a court-martial may direct.

"Article 89. Disrespect towards superior officer.

"Any person subject to this code, who behaves with disrespect towards his superior officer shall be punished as a court-martial may direct."

The memorandum said: "These articles express the restraints imposed upon the fundamental constitutional right of freedom of speech incident to membership in the armed forces. In their stories correspondents are requested to consider the applicability of these articles of war to armed forces personnel whose opinions they may solicit or quote."

Fire Damages House

Fire damaged the house occupied by Robert DuBois on Rural avenue, New Paltz, Sunday. The fire started from a kerosene burner and was confined to the kitchen although there was considerable damage to the house from smoke. The house is owned by M. Gardner. Good work done by the New Paltz firemen prevented the blaze from spreading throughout the premises, although at one time the flames spread up to the bathroom. Mr. Dubois and his family were compelled to move to the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harold DuBois on Modena road.

LEGAL NOTICE

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that the Board of Education, City of Kingston, New York, will hold a Public Hearing on the Proposed School Budget for the school year extending from July 1, 1951 to June 30, 1952; hearing will be held in the auditorium of the Kingston High School on TUESDAY, May 8th, at eight o'clock in the evening.

Signed:
ARTHUR J. LAIDLAW
Clerk, Board of Education
Dated April 14, 1951, Kingston, N. Y.

WANTED
Ambitious, unmarried young man, 23 to 25 years of age; veteran preferred; to learn business; should be high school graduate or one or more years of college. When applying give age, height and education.

Flood Victims Vote

form mutual aid headquarters in Kingston when conditions indicate a possible flood, that headquarters would in turn notify each fire company in the area that might be affected by a flood. The various volunteer companies would then notify the residents of their districts of the impending flood conditions.

The possibility that such a system will be effected was indicated with the receipt of a letter by John Walker, chairman of the flood victim group, from The Poughkeepsie-New Yorker, in which it stated that the water department commissioner had told them that the department would cooperate in any warning plan.

Mrs. Anne Cragin, Red Cross disaster relief representative, answered questions from the group in regard to flood damage rehabilitation. She assured those present that all those whose disaster loss is beyond their ability to meet will be assisted.

Building Repairs Top Item

Major expense will probably be in building repairs, she said, but large amounts will be spent for food, clothing and furniture, she said.

Information obtained by Red Cross workers relative to a family's need will be kept confidential, but is necessary to determine the amount of aid to be given.

Red Cross area representatives will not leave the area until all flood victims are "within reach of their previous community position," Mrs. Cragin said. Work of rehabilitation is necessarily slow because of the drying out process before damage estimates can be made, she said.

Present at the meeting with Mrs. Cragin was Walter T. Tremper, Ulster chapter disaster relief chairman.

With Chief Murphy from the volunteer firemen's association was Chief Edward Mains of Port Ewen. The Rev. Frank Lawrence Gollnick pronounced the invocation.

Resolutions of appreciation for the work of Mayor Oscar V. Newkirk, the Kingston Lions Club and Ulster Hose Company No. 5 were passed.

The next meeting of the group was set for 8 p. m., Saturday, April 21, at the Town of Ulster highway department garage.

Case Is Adjourned

Charles Brown, of 59 Henry street, supervisor of motors for the local fire department, was arrested Saturday by Officer Louis Sapp, Jr., on a charge of operating an automobile while intoxicated. The case was adjourned until Wednesday when Brown appeared before City Judge Raymond J. Mino today, and bail of $100 was continued. The police report at 5:06 p. m., said that Officer Sapp, who was off duty, called for a patrol car to North Front street near Washington avenue, and Officers James Burns and Kenneth Stratton were dispatched there. Officer Sapp reported that he was making a left turn from North Front street into Washington avenue when his car was struck by one owned and operated by Brown. The latter continued on, the report said, and Officer Sapp overtook it on North Front street and arrested its driver.

Funeral Attracts Throng

New York, April 16 (AP)—A throng of 1,500 persons—mostly women—jammed a little church in Brooklyn today for the funeral of Charles Fischetti, heir of the Capone crime syndicate. It was a crowd of high contrasts—some richly and fashionably dressed, and others reflecting the impoverished tenor of the south Brooklyn neighborhood where Fischetti grew up. But there was no lack of splendor in the funeral display for the gangland's "trigger happy" Fischetti, who rose to become the right-hand man of Chicago's late Al Capone.

WOODSTOCK NEWS

By RICHARD E. THIBAUT, JR.

Nursery School Is Filling Definite Need, Group Hears

Woodstock, April 16—Speaking before a large group of parents from Woodstock as well as guest groups from both Kingston and Big Indian, Miss Myra Woodruff, of the State Education Department, discussed the cooperative nursery school and its place in the community Friday night at the Dutch Reformed Church. Miss Woodruff was introduced by Mrs. Paul Perlman, president of the Tinker Street Cooperative Nursery School, under whose auspices the program was given.

Miss Woodruff stated that "every generation feels that it is living in the most complicated and difficult time. With two conflicting ideologies in the world today, there is no question but that this is a difficult era, which makes one stop to think about the kind of personality needed to live in the present-day world."

To emphasize the importaned of the cooperative nursery school, which differs from the ordinary nursery school in that the parents take an active part, Miss Woodruff explained that it began as a movement which sprang up simultaneously in many parts of the country. This she said is proof that it is filling a definite need in modern life.

"Today we are prone to be too critical of family life and say that it is not what it used to be," she stated. "But nothing is as it used to be."

As an illustration, she cited the cramped quarters characteristics of the average modern home as compared to the more spacious homes of yesterday. A good cooperative nursery school should provide adequate and safe space both indoors and out for children.

Another detriment to the growth and development of the small child is the speed of living in these times, she remarked, and the nursery school should provide a peaceful, unhurried atmosphere. "It's so important to understand that you cannot rush young children."

Miss Woodruff discussed in some detail the question of discipline, how the pendulm has swung from rigid views of a generation or two ago to the other extreme manifest in "the absurd stage we reached when we felt children should not be interfered with at all. At present there is a conflict between the two theories, where even members of the same family disagree."

In this respect, the nursery school should be a place where parents find that the experience of assisting a good, qualified teacher who is giving the best kind of guidance, invaluable. Enlightened as to her own children's shortcomings as well as those of others, a mother may discover that "Johnnie isn't so bad after all — they all act alike!"

'Baby Sitters' Vital

The problem of "baby sitters" she pointed out, was an important factor in the growth of the nursery school. A few generations ago a family stayed in one spot—grandma or some other member of the family was usually available to stay at home with the children. Today parents find themselves often in the situation where they are living at a distance from their families and are dependent upon outside help. The nursery school offers a young mother an opportunity for a break from the "24 hours a day routine," but she must in no sense look upon the school as just a place to "park the children." To insure its success, she must be an active participant. "It is extremely important to the child's growth and development that close cooperation exist between the parents and the teacher.

"Since we are living in a scientific age," she continued, "the findings in research in child growth are largely responsible for nursery schools. Realizing the importance of the early years, experts have sought to determine the child's needs. Nursery schools cannot, however, supplant family environment, but they do supplement it under modern family strains."

"Children," she declared, "need a chance to follow out creative impulses—dramatic play clarifies the adult world to them." In assessing the needs of the nursery school she described the kinds of material which are important, and the variety of activities possible, modeling, music experience, and finger painting.

In conclusion Miss Woodruff stressed the importance of all members of the family taking an interest in the cooperative nursery school, which can provide a "true family situation." A father, for instance, may assist immeasurably with play equipment, the grounds and the building itself.

"Nothing," she said, "gives the small child such a sense of pride in his parents as the chance to tell his little friends: 'My mommie is helping today!' And it not only helps the children but the families themselves, who begin to enjoy each other as the result of their cooperation and work together. It pays off in the family situation."

Artists Give Final Concert of Series

Woodstock, April 16—In their final appearance of the third season of the Woodstock Winter Concerts Sunday afternoon at the town hall, members of the quartet, Alice Smiley, violinist; Genevieve Nichols, violist; Inez Carroll, pianist and Hans Cohn, cellist, received what amounted to almost an ovation following their performance of the Chausson Piano Quartet in A Major.

With the first half of the program devoted to the Beethoven Trio No. 4, Mrs. Smiley, Miss Carroll and Dr. Cohn showed as always, a fine understanding of the composer's work, from the measured and stately Allegro con brio, through the gentle Adagio, to the final folk song gaiety of the Theme and variations.

The Chausson Piano Quartet was probably the most exciting and dramatic work ever to be presented at a winter concert. Chausson's strange weaving patterns quickly cast a spell which mounted and grew steadily as statuesque figures and motifs emerged. Throughout the performance the quartet exhibited a vibrant and pulsing approach to the score which rose to a brilliant climax.

Annual Ball Friday

Woodstock, April 16—The annual costume ball for the scholarship fund of the Art Students League will be held Friday night in the ballroom of the Waldorf-Astoria, New York. This year's dance is called "Dream Ball" and guests will wear costumes suggesting dreams. A feature of the program will be the auction of paintings by Yasuo Kuniyoshi, Sidney Laufman and others and Eugene Speicher, who is also serving on the ball committee.

Pepers Win Two

Woodstock, April 16—Bowling Wednesday night in the Saugerties A League Peper's Garage and the Royal Grill each won one game out of three, tying the third. Scores for Peper's were 705-819-788 and Royal Grill 714-729-788. Pepers won the roll-off scoring 82 over Royal Grill's 53. Individual scores: C. Harder 83; O. Morrell 162-149-155; A. Peper 152-175-123; C. Nickponski 163-151-134; V. Busch 140-183-168; J. Holdridge 161-208; McCormick 126-110-162; DeFeis 167-158-173; Johnson 118-118-119; Cashara 135-188-156; Rinaldi 158-155-169. High single scorer, J. Holdridge 208, and high triple scorer, V. Busch 498.

Party Set Friday

Woodstock, April 16—A card party will be given at the Odd Fellows Hall, Bearsville, Friday, April 20, at 8 p. m. Albert Montgomery is a new member of the lodge.

Plans Dinner Meeting

Woodstock, April 16—The Woodstock Business Association will have a dinner and meeting Wednesday, April 18, at the White Horse Inn, at 1 p m.

Overlook Home Bureau Unit Holds Meeting

Woodstock, April 16—The regular meeting of the Overlook Home Bureau was held Thursday night at the home of Mrs. Opal Wharton.

It was requested that anyone in the unit who is interested in chair caning and rush seating, to communicate with Mrs. Helen Ostrander as soon as possible in order that she may order the necessary supplies.

It was announced that the next monthly meeting will be held a week later than the usual meeting date owing to the card party which is to be given by the Woodstock Home Bureau. The next meeting will take place Thursday, May 17, at the home of Mrs. Muriel Green.

Linenthal Rents Theatre for Summer

Woodstock, April 16—Michael Linenthal of the Woodstock Playhouse has announced that the theatre has been rented to David Lifson of Boston. Lifson will direct the plays to be presented and manage the theatre for the coming summer season, which will begin Saturday, June 30, and continue for nine weeks.

Lifson, who is also a playwright, studied for the theatre in Paris in the early 1930's. A graduate of New York University with a Bachelor of Science degree, Lifson has worked in radio, the motion pictures and on the New York stage. He also has lectured on the theatre. His play, "Familiar Pattern," had a New York run in 1943. At one time a drama critic for the "Mayfair" magazine, Lifson also has directed summer stock in West Neubery, Mass.

Linenthal will be an occasional visitor to this village during the summer, while devoting the major part of his time to playwriting.

Linenthal also announced that negotiations are now underway for an opening of his play, "Facade," which was presented here last summer and on Broadway in September.

Village Notes

Woodstock, April 10—Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Champanier were the hosts to about 50 guests Sunday afternoon who attended the christening of their three-weeks'-old son, Norman Andrew. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. James Riordan. Mr. and Mrs. Frank Lynch were godparents. A buffet supper was served.

Mr. and Mrs. Burton Bodie, of Bearsville, celebrated their 15th wedding anniversary Friday.

Julius Simpson, of Lake Hill, has returned from Florida.

Mr. and Mrs. Rudolf Wetterau were at their Glasco Turnpike home for the week-end.

Marty Weisman has recently been in Woodstock. He will leave for Paris April 23.

Cornelius Sewell, Jr., came from Hobart College to visit his parents for the week-end.

Information has been received from Leo Herbert that the play, "Green Pastures" will continue its New York run and that he will remain with the production.

Dr. and Mrs. Gurland, and their daughter, Susan, are leaving for New York Thursday. They expect to attend a performance of the circus in Madison Square Garden.

A bridal shower was given for Miss Florence Tripicco Thursday night at the home of Mrs. Joseph Hilton. The guests who attended were Mrs. John Egan, Mrs. Walter Van Wagenen, Mrs. Nick Fox, Mrs. Joseph Holdridge, Jr., Mrs. Kenneth Wilson, Mrs. Nick Gentile, Mrs. Samuel Wilson, Mrs. Fred Tripicco, Mrs. Clarence Snyder, Mrs. Helen Hastie, Connie Egan and Susan Fox.

Woodstock, April 16—The second allotment for the year of trout for the Woodstock Fish and Game Club was placed in streams Thursday around Woodstock, mainly in the Sawkill, Mink Hollow and Keefe Hollow streams.

Fatums Buy Store

Woodstock, April 16—Mr. and Mrs. Robert Fatum of Kingston have bought the Men's Shop, formerly owned by Charles Goodrich. The sale was completed on Wednesday, April 11, and Mr. and Mrs. Fatum began to operate the store April 13. Mr. Goodrich has been the proprietor of the store for the past two and one-half years.

Grand Jury Drawing Starts

Ballston Spa, N. Y., April 16 (AP) A special grand jury was to be drawn today to weigh evidence in the state-ordered probe of any political-underworld tieups in gambling in Saratoga county. The drawing was supervised by Justice Leo J. Hagerty of State Supreme Court, who was designated to preside over the special court term ordered by Governor Dewey. Hagerty directed that 36 names be drawn by County Clerk Eugene C. Brundige. Several usually are excused for various reasons. A grand jury must consist of not less than 16 nor more than 23 persons.

Bailey Shoots 79 at Wiltwyck

J. Watson Bailey, veteran Wiltwyck Golf Club star, launched the sweepstakes schedule in midseason style Sunday, with a 39-40-79 gross to capture scoring honors in the first of a series of such tournaments at the Hurley avenue links.

Arthur A. Davis, club president, fired low net of 73.

Other low net winners were R. S. Powell with 78 and city champion, Bill Van Aken, with 79; Al Heisman and Bob Daley.

The 22 contestants in Tom Danaher's first tournament were to play all nine holes and turned in excellent scores, despite stiff headwinds and a few watery spots on the course.

It requires almost twice as many man-hours per thousand board feet from a six-inch tree as it does from a 12-inch one.

Four Men Held

Roosevelt avenue, and Raymond W. Ross, 41, of 672 Broadway.

Police said Daniel Pope, 51, of 7 Canal street, who allegedly held the job as janitor at the place, was held only on a charge of violation of Section 974, which alleges in effect that he acted unlawfully as janitor in a place used for the purpose cited in the section.

Brought Before Mino

Attorney Elmore Nathan appeared for the defendants when they were brought before City Judge Raymond J. Mino today, and Attorney John Larkin represented the district attorney's office. The cases were adjourned for a week and bail of $500 for each defendant was continued.

Police headquarters recorded the raid at 1:40 p. m., Saturday, and listed Sgt. Lemuel Howard, Detective Clarence Brophy, and Officers Leonard Ellsworth and Ernest Bartroff as the participating officers.

Chief Van Buren said he had received reports prior to the raid. He forwarded sufficient information to the officers with instructions and they "did the job."

The police confiscated three adding machines, three telephones, alleged policy books, and miscellaneous papers and envelopes, the chief said.

Army Warns Men

temptuous words against the president, vice president, Congress, secretary of defense, or a secretary of a department, a governor or a Legislature of any state, territory, or other possession of the United States in which he is on duty at present will be punished as a court-martial may direct.

"Article 89. Disrespect towards superior officer.

"Any person subject to this code, who behaves with disrespect towards his superior officer shall be punished as a court-martial may direct."

The memorandum said: "These articles express the restraints imposed upon the fundamental constitutional right of freedom of speech incident to membership in the armed forces. In their stories correspondents are requested to consider the applicability of these articles of war to armed forces personnel whose opinions they may solicit or quote."

Fire Damages House

Fire damaged the house occupied by Robert DuBois on Rural avenue, New Paltz, Sunday. The fire started from a kerosene burner and was confined to the kitchen although there was considerable damage to the house from smoke. The house is owned by M. Gardner. Good work done by the New Paltz firemen prevented the blaze from spreading throughout the premises, although at one time the flames spread up to the bathroom. Mr. Dubois and his family were compelled to move to the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harold DuBois on Modena road.

LEGAL NOTICE

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that the Board of Education, City of Kingston, New York, will hold a Public Hearing on the Proposed School Budget for the school year extending from July 1, 1951 to June 30, 1952; hearing will be held in the auditorium of the Kingston High School on TUESDAY, May 8th, at eight o'clock in the evening.

Signed:
ARTHUR J. LAIDLAW
Clerk, Board of Education
Dated April 14, 1951, Kingston, N. Y.

WANTED
Ambitious, unmarried young man, 23 to 25 years of age; veteran preferred; to learn business; should be high school graduate or one or more years of college. When applying give age, height and education.

Flood Victims Vote

form mutual aid headquarters in Kingston when conditions indicate a possible flood, that headquarters would in turn notify each fire company in the area that might be affected by a flood. The various volunteer companies would then notify the residents of their districts of the impending flood conditions.

The possibility that such a system will be effected was indicated with the receipt of a letter by John Walker, chairman of the flood victim group, from The Poughkeepsie-New Yorker, in which it stated that the water department commissioner had told them that the department would cooperate in any warning plan.

Mrs. Anne Cragin, Red Cross disaster relief representative, answered questions from the group in regard to flood damage rehabilitation. She assured those present that all those whose disaster loss is beyond their ability to meet will be assisted.

Building Repairs Top Item

Major expense will probably be in building repairs, she said, but large amounts will be spent for food, clothing and furniture, she said.

Information obtained by Red Cross workers relative to a family's need will be kept confidential, but is necessary to determine the amount of aid to be given.

Red Cross area representatives will not leave the area until all flood victims are "within reach of their previous community position," Mrs. Cragin said. Work of rehabilitation is necessarily slow because of the drying out process before damage estimates can be made, she said.

Present at the meeting with Mrs. Cragin was Walter T. Tremper, Ulster chapter disaster relief chairman.

With Chief Murphy from the volunteer firemen's association was Chief Edward Mains of Port Ewen. The Rev. Frank Lawrence Gollnick pronounced the invocation.

Resolutions of appreciation for the work of Mayor Oscar V. Newkirk, the Kingston Lions Club and Ulster Hose Company No. 5 were passed.

The next meeting of the group was set for 8 p. m., Saturday, April 21, at the Town of Ulster highway department garage.

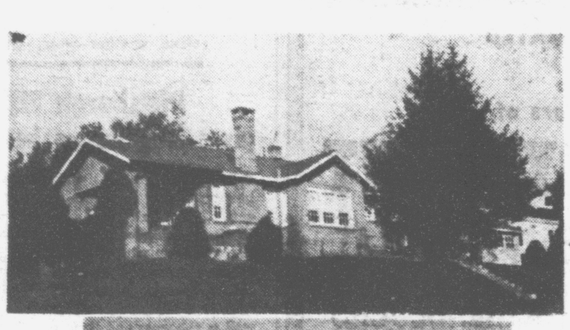

Case Is Adjourned

Charles Brown, of 59 Henry street, supervisor of motors for the local fire department, was arrested Saturday by Officer Louis Sapp, Jr., on a charge of operating an automobile while intoxicated. The case was adjourned until Wednesday when Brown appeared before City Judge Raymond J. Mino today, and bail of $100 was continued. The police report at 5:06 p. m., said that Officer Sapp, who was off duty, called for a patrol car to North Front street near Washington avenue, and Officers James Burns and Kenneth Stratton were dispatched there. Officer Sapp reported that he was making a left turn from North Front street into Washington avenue when his car was struck by one owned and operated by Brown. The latter continued on, the report said, and Officer Sapp overtook it on North Front street and arrested its driver.

Funeral Attracts Throng

New York, April 16 (AP)—A throng of 1,500 persons—mostly women—jammed a little church in Brooklyn today for the funeral of Charles Fischetti, heir of the Capone crime syndicate. It was a crowd of high contrasts—some richly and fashionably dressed, and others reflecting the impoverished tenor of the south Brooklyn neighborhood where Fischetti grew up. But there was no lack of splendor in the funeral display for the gangland's "trigger happy" Fischetti, who rose to become the right-hand man of Chicago's late Al Capone.

WOODSTOCK NEWS

By RICHARD E. THIBAUT, JR.

Nursery School Is Filling Definite Need, Group Hears

Woodstock, April 16—Speaking before a large group of parents from Woodstock as well as guest groups from both Kingston and Big Indian, Miss Myra Woodruff, of the State Education Department, discussed the cooperative nursery school and its place in the community Friday night at the Dutch Reformed Church. Miss Woodruff was introduced by Mrs. Paul Perlman, president of the Tinker Street Cooperative Nursery School, under whose auspices the program was given.

Miss Woodruff stated that "every generation feels that it is living in the most complicated and difficult time. With two conflicting ideologies in the world today, there is no question but that this is a difficult era, which makes one stop to think about the kind of personality needed to live in the present-day world."

To emphasize the importaned of the cooperative nursery school, which differs from the ordinary nursery school in that the parents take an active part, Miss Woodruff explained that it began as a movement which sprang up simultaneously in many parts of the country. This she said is proof that it is filling a definite need in modern life.

"Today we are prone to be too critical of family life and say that it is not what it used to be," she stated. "But nothing is as it used to be."

As an illustration, she cited the cramped quarters characteristics of the average modern home as compared to the more spacious homes of yesterday. A good cooperative nursery school should provide adequate and safe space both indoors and out for children.

Another detriment to the growth and development of the small child is the speed of living in these times, she remarked, and the nursery school should provide a peaceful, unhurried atmosphere. "It's so important to understand that you cannot rush young children."

Miss Woodruff discussed in some detail the question of discipline, how the pendulm has swung from rigid views of a generation or two ago to the other extreme manifest in "the absurd stage we reached when we felt children should not be interfered with at all. At present there is a conflict between the two theories, where even members of the same family disagree."

In this respect, the nursery school should be a place where parents find that the experience of assisting a good, qualified teacher who is giving the best kind of guidance, invaluable. Enlightened as to her own children's shortcomings as well as those of others, a mother may discover that "Johnnie isn't so bad after all — they all act alike!"

'Baby Sitters' Vital

The problem of "baby sitters" she pointed out, was an important factor in the growth of the nursery school. A few generations ago a family stayed in one spot—grandma or some other member of the family was usually available to stay at home with the children. Today parents find themselves often in the situation where they are living at a distance from their families and are dependent upon outside help. The nursery school offers a young mother an opportunity for a break from the "24 hours a day routine," but she must in no sense look upon the school as just a place to "park the children." To insure its success, she must be an active participant. "It is extremely important to the child's growth and development that close cooperation exist between the parents and the teacher.

"Since we are living in a scientific age," she continued, "the findings in research in child growth are largely responsible for nursery schools. Realizing the importance of the early years, experts have sought to determine the child's needs. Nursery schools cannot, however, supplant family environment, but they do supplement it under modern family strains."

"Children," she declared, "need a chance to follow out creative impulses—dramatic play clarifies the adult world to them." In assessing the needs of the nursery school she described the kinds of material which are important, and the variety of activities possible, modeling, music experience, and finger painting.

In conclusion Miss Woodruff stressed the importance of all members of the family taking an interest in the cooperative nursery school, which can provide a "true family situation." A father, for instance, may assist immeasurably with play equipment, the grounds and the building itself.

"Nothing," she said, "gives the small child such a sense of pride in his parents as the chance to tell his little friends: 'My mommie is helping today!' And it not only helps the children but the families themselves, who begin to enjoy each other as the result of their cooperation and work together. It pays off in the family situation."

Artists Give Final Concert of Series

Woodstock, April 16—In their final appearance of the third season of the Woodstock Winter Concerts Sunday afternoon at the town hall, members of the quartet, Alice Smiley, violinist; Genevieve Nichols, violist; Inez Carroll, pianist and Hans Cohn, cellist, received what amounted to almost an ovation following their performance of the Chausson Piano Quartet in A Major.

With the first half of the program devoted to the Beethoven Trio No. 4, Mrs. Smiley, Miss Carroll and Dr. Cohn showed as always, a fine understanding of the composer's work, from the measured and stately Allegro con brio, through the gentle Adagio, to the final folk song gaiety of the Theme and variations.

The Chausson Piano Quartet was probably the most exciting and dramatic work ever to be presented at a winter concert, Chausson's strange weaving patterns quickly cast a spell which mounted and grew steadily as statuesque figures and motifs emerged. Throughout the performance the quartet exhibited a vibrant and pulsing approach to the score which rose to a brilliant climax.

Annual Ball Friday

Woodstock, April 16—The annual costume ball for the scholarship fund of the Art Students League will be held Friday night in the ballroom of the Waldorf-Astoria, New York. This year's dance is called "Dream Ball" and guests will wear costumes suggesting dreams. A feature of the program will be the auction of paintings by Yasuo Kuniyoshi, Sidney Laufman and others and Eugene Speicher, who is also serving on the ball committee.

Pepers Win Two

Woodstock, April 16—Bowling Wednesday night in the Saugerties A League Peper's Garage and the Royal Grill each won one game out of three, tying the third. Scores for Peper's were 705-819-788 and Royal Grill 714-729-788. Pepers won the roll-off scoring 82 over Royal Grill's 53. Individual scores: C. Harder 83; O. Morrell 162-149-155; A. Peper 152-175-123; C. Nickponski 163-151-134; V. Busch 140-183-168; J. Holdridge 161-208; McCormick 126-110-162; DeFeis 167-158-173; Johnson 118-118-119; Cashara 135-188-156; Rinaldi 158-155-169. High single scorer, J. Holdridge 208, and high triple scorer, V. Busch 498.

Party Set Friday

Woodstock, April 16—A card party will be given at the Odd Fellows Hall, Bearsville, Friday, April 20, at 8 p. m. Albert Montgomery is a new member of the lodge.

Plans Dinner Meeting

Woodstock, April 16—The Woodstock Business Association will have a dinner and meeting Wednesday, April 18, at the White Horse Inn, at 1 p m.

Overlook Home Bureau Unit Holds Meeting

Woodstock, April 16—The regular meeting of the Overlook Home Bureau was held Thursday night at the home of Mrs. Opal Wharton.

It was requested that anyone in the unit who is interested in chair caning and rush seating, to communicate with Mrs. Helen Ostrander as soon as possible in order that she may order the necessary supplies.

It was announced that the next monthly meeting will be held a week later than the usual meeting date owing to the card party which is to be given by the Woodstock Home Bureau. The next meeting will take place Thursday, May 17, at the home of Mrs. Muriel Green.

Linenthal Rents Theatre for Summer

Woodstock, April 16—Michael Linenthal of the Woodstock Playhouse has announced that the theatre has been rented to David Lifson of Boston. Lifson will direct the plays to be presented and manage the theatre for the coming summer season, which will begin Saturday, June 30, and continue for nine weeks.

Lifson, who is also a playwright, studied for the theatre in Paris in the early 1930's. A graduate of New York University with a Bachelor of Science degree, Lifson has worked in radio, the motion pictures and on the New York stage. He also has lectured on the theatre. His play, "Familiar Pattern," had a New York run in 1943. At one time a drama critic for the "Mayfair" magazine, Lifson also has directed summer stock in West Neubery, Mass.

Linenthal will be an occasional visitor to this village during the summer, while devoting the major part of his time to playwriting.

Linenthal also announced that negotiations are now underway for an opening of his play, "Facade," which was presented here last summer and on Broadway in September.

Village Notes

Woodstock, April 10—Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Champanier were the hosts to about 50 guests Sunday afternoon who attended the christening of their three-weeks'-old son, Norman Andrew. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. James Riordan. Mr. and Mrs. Frank Lynch were godparents. A buffet supper was served.

Mr. and Mrs. Burton Bodie, of Bearsville, celebrated their 15th wedding anniversary Friday.

Julius Simpson, of Lake Hill, has returned from Florida.

Mr. and Mrs. Rudolf Wetterau were at their Glasco Turnpike home for the week-end.

Marty Weisman has recently been in Woodstock. He will leave for Paris April 23.

Cornelius Sewell, Jr., came from Hobart College to visit his parents for the week-end.

Information has been received from Leo Herbert that the play, "Green Pastures" will continue its New York run and that he will remain with the production.

Dr. and Mrs. Gurland, and their daughter, Susan, are leaving for New York Thursday. They expect to attend a performance of the circus in Madison Square Garden.

A bridal shower was given for Miss Florence Tripicco Thursday night at the home of Mrs. Joseph Hilton. The guests who attended were Mrs. John Egan, Mrs. Walter Van Wagenen, Mrs. Nick Fox, Mrs. Joseph Holdridge, Jr., Mrs. Kenneth Wilson, Mrs. Nick Gentile, Mrs. Samuel Wilson, Mrs. Fred Tripicco, Mrs. Clarence Snyder, Mrs. Helen Hastie, Connie Egan and Susan Fox.

New Trout Supply

Woodstock, April 16—The second allotment for the year of trout for the Woodstock Fish and Game Club was placed in streams Thursday around Woodstock, mainly in the Sawkill, Mink Hollow and Keefe Hollow streams.

Fatums Buy Store

Woodstock, April 16—Mr. and Mrs. Robert Fatum of Kingston have bought the Men's Shop, formerly owned by Charles Goodrich. The sale was completed on Wednesday, April 11, and Mr. and Mrs. Fatum began to operate the store April 13 Mr. Goodrich has been the proprietor of the store for the past two and one-half years.

Grand Jury Drawing Starts

Ballston Spa, N. Y., April 16 (AP) A special grand jury was to be drawn today to weigh evidence in the state-ordered probe of any political-underworld tieups in gambling in Saratoga county. The drawing was supervised by Justice Leo J. Hagerty of State Supreme Court, who was designated to preside over the special court term ordered by Governor Dewey. Hagerty directed that 36 names be drawn by County Clerk Eugene C. Brundige. Several usually are excused for various reasons. A grand jury must consist of not less than 16 nor more than 23 persons.

Bailey Shoots 79 at Wiltwyck

J. Watson Bailey, veteran Wiltwyck Golf Club star, launched the sweepstakes schedule in mid-season style Sunday, with a 39-40-79 gross to capture scoring honors in the first of a series of such tournaments at the Hurley avenue links.

Arthur A. Davis, club president, fired low net of 73.

Other low net winners were R. S. Powell with 78 and city champion, Bill Van Aken, with 79; Al Heisman and Bob Daley.

The 22 contestants in Tom Danaher's first tournament were to play all nine holes and turned in excellent scores, despite stiff headwinds and a few watery spots on the course.

It requires almost twice as many man-hours per thousand board feet from a six-inch tree as it does from a 12-inch one.

Diapers for B-47s

Wichita, Kas., April 16 (AP)—Now they're using baby diapers on the air force's B-47 stratojet planes. Why? Even Don Penner, senior material buyer for the Boeing airplane plant didn't know. He got a requisition for a dozen diapers for the big bombers, scratched his head a while, then checked with the superintendent who put in the order. The superintendent, Ray Mitchell, gave this explanation: The diapers are used to clean the bomb sight lens. The soft lint-free material is ideal for the job.

Leaves for Bermuda

New York, April 16 (AP)—Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, who has been ill for more than a month with a virus infection, left by plane today for a vacation in Bermuda. The 1948 Republican presidential candidate said he had nothing to add to the controversy surrounding the dismissal of Gen. Douglas MacArthur. When reminded he would miss the planned New York city reception for MacArthur, the governor said the Bermuda trip had been planned before the MacArthur affair broke.

Appeal for More Cancer Workers

Enemy Supply Base

tles since Nov. 1 when MIGs first appeared in Korean skies.

Since the Korean war started June 25 allied planes have destroyed or damaged 317 Communist planes of all types. American losses for the same period are listed as 184.

Pound Supply Bridge

The Sabre jets were also out on a strategic mission Monday. They dive-bombed an important supply bridge across the Yalu river at Uiju, upstream from Sinjiju. Two direct hits with 500 pound bombs were reported.

In all Fifth Air tactical planes flew 684 sorties by 6 p. m. Monday.

American and Turkish soldiers made the day's best gains on the ground as the United Nations maintained the initiative across the Korean peninsula.

Troops Firmly Entrenched

Allied infantry and tanks were firmly entrenched in Yanggu, after breeching strong Chinese and North Korean Communist defenses.

The Reds massed troops and supplies there early last week, apparently in preparation for an expected counterthrust against the allies.

On the west-central front U.N. troops advanced against only light resistance. They now have full control of the south bank of the Hwachon reservoir.

AP Correspondent Robert Eunson at U. S. Eighth Army headquarters said the Reds were using smudge pots and building brush fires to smoke up the countryside and hide their ground movements from the prying eyes of allied airmen.

8th Army Nears Chorwon

Allied troops captured a large supply dump east of Yonchon Sunday. The Reds put up a bitter one-hour fight before drawing back.

The Eighth Army in this area is nearing Chorwon, a key base in the three-sided Communist build-up area.

On the west coast, Allied destroyers shelled Changsan Point southwest of Chinnampo. Chinnampo is the port city for Pyongyang, Red Korean capital.

There were no fresh reports on a South Korean operation on the Onjon Peninsula.

On the east coast a Republic of Korea (ROK) patrol pushed north of Yangyang before contacting Communists. This was the deepest penetration of Communist lines north of the 38th Parallel. The exact distance was withheld for security reasons.

Record Payment Made In School Assistance

Albany, N. Y., April 16 (AP)—A record payment of $117,838,623 in state aid to local school districts was reported today by State Comptroller J. Raymond McGovern.

He said it was the largest payment ever made by the state at one time for one purpose.

It compared with the previous mark of $114,202,645 distributed a year ago, also for education.

Of the $117,838,623, New York city gets $40,223,068. The balance goes to the city, village and other school districts.

Agents Investigate Price Violations In 6 Big Cities

Washington, April 16 (AP)—Special price stabilization agents have been sent to six major cities to investigate reports of "disturbing disregard" of government meat and steel orders.

In announcing this last night, Edward P. Morgan, OPS enforcement chief, said the investigation is the most extensive yet undertaken by the agency.

Morgan said special squads were sent Friday to probe alleged meat violations in Miami, Chicago, Kansas City and Omaha; and steel violations in Cleveland and Detroit.

The announcement followed a report by Rep. Patman (D.-Tex.), chairman of the House Small Business Committee, of widespread black markets and overceiling prices.

Trucks to Expedite

truck routes, which will save one or more days in shipping time. It will make possible a same-day link between Kingston and outlying freight stations.

The new truck routes will serve Mount Marion, Saugerties, Malden-on-Hudson, Alsen, Catskill, West Athens, Coxsackie, New Baltimore, Ravena, Port Ewen, Ulster Park, Esopus, West Park, Highland, Milton, Marlborough, Roseton, Cornwall and West Point.

Also included in the new service are Highland Falls, Fort Montgomery, Iona Island, Jones Point, Tompkins Cove, Stony Point, West Haverstraw and Haverstraw.

Baseball Meeting

The election of officers and directors for Kingston Baseball Club, Inc., will be held on Tuesday at 8 p. m. at the Hotel Stuyvesant. All stockholders are invited to attend.

About 23 per cent of U. S. passenger cars in use today are 13 years old or older, compared with four per cent in 1941.

Wichita, Kas., April 16 (AP)—Now they're using baby diapers on the air force's B-47 stratojet planes. Why? Even Don Penner, senior material buyer for the Boeing airplane plant didn't know. He got a requisition for a dozen diapers for the big bombers, scratched his head a while, then checked with the superintendent who put in the order. The superintendent, Ray Mitchell, gave this explanation: The diapers are used to clean the bomb sight lens. The soft lint-free material is ideal for the job.

Leaves for Bermuda

New York, April 16 (AP)—Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, who has been ill for more than a month with a virus infection, left by plane today for a vacation in Bermuda. The 1948 Republican presidential candidate said he had nothing to add to the controversy surrounding the dismissal of Gen. Douglas MacArthur. When reminded he would miss the planned New York city reception for MacArthur, the governor said the Bermuda trip had been planned before the MacArthur affair broke.

Appeal for More Cancer Workers

Enemy Supply Base

tles since Nov. 1 when MIGs first appeared in Korean skies.

Since the Korean war started June 25 allied planes have destroyed or damaged 317 Communist planes of all types. American losses for the same period are listed as 184.

Pound Supply Bridge

The Sabre jets were also out on a strategic mission Monday. They dive-bombed an important supply bridge across the Yalu river at Uiju, upstream from Sinjiju. Two direct hits with 500 pound bombs were reported.

In all Fifth Air tactical planes flew 684 sorties by 6 p. m. Monday.

American and Turkish soldiers made the day's best gains on the ground as the United Nations maintained the initiative across the Korean peninsula.

Troops Firmly Entrenched

Allied infantry and tanks were firmly entrenched in Yanggu, after breeching strong Chinese and North Korean Communist defenses.

The Reds massed troops and supplies there early last week, apparently in preparation for an expected counterthrust against the allies.

On the west-central front U.N. troops advanced against only light resistance. They now have full control of the south bank of the Hwachon reservoir.

AP Correspondent Robert Eunson at U. S. Eighth Army headquarters said the Reds were using smudge pots and building brush fires to smoke up the countryside and hide their ground movements from the prying eyes of allied airmen.

8th Army Nears Chorwon

Allied troops captured a large supply dump east of Yonchon Sunday. The Reds put up a bitter one-hour fight before drawing back.

The Eighth Army in this area is nearing Chorwon, a key base in the three-sided Communist build-up area.

Another Allied force pushed over the Hantan river under fire and held its ground.

On the west coast, Allied destroyers shelled Changsan Point southwest of Chinnampo. Chinnampo is the port city for Pyongyang, Red Korean capital.

There were no fresh reports on a South Korean operation on the Onjon Peninsula.

On the east coast a Republic of Korea (ROK) patrol pushed north of Yangyang before contacting Communists. This was the deepest penetration of Communist lines north of the 38th Parallel. The exact distance was withheld for security reasons.

Record Payment Made In School Assistance

Albany, N. Y., April 16 (AP)—A record payment of $117,838,623 in state aid to local school districts was reported today by State Comptroller J. Raymond McGovern.

He said it was the largest payment ever made by the state at one time for one purpose.

It compared with the previous mark of $114,202,645 distributed a year ago, also for education.

Of the $117,838,623, New York city gets $40,223,068. The balance goes to the city, village and other school districts.

Agents Investigate Price Violations In 6 Big Cities

Washington, April 16 (AP)—Special price stabilization agents have been sent to six major cities to investigate reports of "disturbing disregard" of government meat and steel orders.

In announcing this last night, Edward P. Morgan, OPS enforcement chief, said the investigation is the most extensive yet undertaken by the agency.

Morgan said special squads were sent Friday to probe alleged meat violations in Miami, Chicago, Kansas City and Omaha; and steel violations in Cleveland and Detroit.

The announcement followed a report by Rep. Patman (D.-Tex.), chairman of the House Small Business Committee, of widespread black markets and overceiling prices.

Trucks to Expedite

truck routes, which will save one or more days in shipping time. It will make possible a same-day link between Kingston and outlying freight stations.

The new truck routes will serve Mount Marion, Saugerties, Malden-on-Hudson, Alsen, Catskill, West Athens, Coxsackie, New Baltimore, Ravena, Port Ewen, Ulster Park, Esopus, West Park, Highland, Milton, Marlborough, Roseton, Cornwall and West Point.

Also included in the new service are Highland Falls, Fort Montgomery, Iona Island, Jones Point, Tompkins Cove, Stony Point, West Haverstraw and Haverstraw.

About 23 per cent of U. S. passenger cars in use today are 13 years old or older, compared with four per cent in 1941.

Baseball Meeting

The election of officers and directors for Kingston Baseball Club, Inc., will be held on Tuesday at 8 p. m. at the Hotel Stuyvesant. All stockholders are invited to attend.
